

Harshbarger to Speak On 'Who Runs History?'

The Rev. Luther H. Harshbarger, executive secretary of the Penn State Christian Association and College chaplain, will speak on "Who Runs History?" at the Chapel service at 10:55 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

Harshbarger has just returned from a summer in Europe where he was assistant director of a study seminar sponsored by the National Student Council of the YMCA and YWCA. The tour through England, France, Switzerland, Germany, Italy, and Yugoslavia gave him an opportunity to revisit the places where he had worked during his five years of European service with the YMCA before he came to the College in 1949.

The Chapel Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Willa C. Taylor, will sing "Introit Hymn" (Tallis), "Turn Back, O Man" (Holst), and "Truly My Soul" (Beattie).

George Ceiga at the organ will play as prelude "We Believe in One God" (Scheidt), as offertory, "Ave Maria Stella" (Titelouze), and as postlude "Plein Jeu (Six Parts)" (Marchand).

The College Chapel service is a non-sectarian service which draws its speakers from the three major faiths, Catholicism, Judaism, and Protestantism. Services have been held in Schwab Auditorium since the dedication of the building in 1903.

Schwab Auditorium is a monument of Charles M. Schwab, a trustee of the College who, seeing in the school year 1901-02 that the old Chapel was too small for a campus whose enrollment exceeded 500 students, furnished money for the building of the new auditorium.

At one time daily chapel services were held on campus. In the past it was compulsory for students to attend Sunday services either in Chapel or in one of the local churches. As the College grew larger, however, a new policy of allowing students to attend church services voluntarily was adopted.

Work Plan Scheduled By WSGA

The Women's Student Government Association will exhibit a display showing a working outline and the activities of the association Thursday in Schwab Auditorium as part of the program slated for Student Government Day.

Other parts governing bodies. will include a maypole symbolizing the part taken by WSGA in the May Day activities. Nancy D. White, fifth semester home economics major, is in charge of the display.

Included in the activities of the day are discussion periods between independent and sorority women's governing bodies and independent and fraternity men's.

An All-College Cabinet breakfast is also scheduled, according to Robert Smoot, chairman of the Student Government Day committee. Smoot said that the committee was considering proposing a new custom for the frosh for the day only. It would consist of knowing the names of the All-College president, presidents of the independent governing organizations, and the president of their school council.

Rural Church Study Made

A recent survey of 482 rural Pennsylvania churches in Indiana, Juniata, Lycoming, and York counties indicates that the elimination of some rural churches and the consolidation of the remainder would mean a better religious program for farm areas. The survey was conducted by the College in cooperation with religious groups.

Basing his opinion on the survey, Dr. Claude J. Snyder, town and country secretary of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, says that consolidation is absolutely necessary today because he believes there are too many rural Pennsylvania churches which have neither the time nor the money to do a good job.

Debaters Schedule Coffee Hour

Women interested in debating may learn more about debates at the College by attending a coffee hour from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Monday in the northeast lounge of Atherton Hall.

The move was made at the recommendation of the College Board of Trustees. The fund will continue to benefit Centre County students.

The fund was established by the club prior to World War I and has been run by the College since 1926. It was named for the late Mary Thompson Dale of State College, a 1907 graduate and an active member of the Alumnae Club. She served as treasurer for many years.

Scholarships will be presented each year to Centre County students, preferably women, on the basis of scholarship and character.

50,000 Degree Conferred by College

The College conferred its 50,000th degree Aug. 9 when a 26-year-old Navy veteran and father, Floyd Bryan Grace, received his B.S. degree in electrical engineering.

Although nearly 80 years were required to graduate the first 25,000 students since the first class in 1861, the second 25,000 were graduated in only 12 years time.

The equatorial circumference of the earth is 24,902 miles; the polar circumference is 24,860 miles.

Trustees Fix Compensation For Patents

The College Board of Trustees has adopted a policy whereby faculty and staff members whose research work results in the issuance of a patent to the College may now be compensated to the extent of a minimum of ten per cent of gross royalties received in the operation of the patent.

Under the previous policy followed by the College, patentable discoveries made by faculty members while engaged in institutional research were the property of the College and were administered in the public interest by the Pennsylvania Research Corporation, a nonprofit organization. Proceeds from patents are used for the promotion of fundamental research.

The policy was recommended by the Pennsylvania Research Corporation due to the fact that "in order to encourage the disclosure of inventions for patent purposes, it is desirable that the College establish a definite policy for direct remuneration to inventors."

The committee also pointed out that of some 60 colleges studied, 32 provided for such remuneration. Thirteen of these provided for individual mutual arrangements, six for sharing gross income, and 13 for sharing in the net income.
