

'Cash Fund' Charge Levied on Adlai

CHICAGO (AP)—An Eisenhower supporter said yesterday Gov. Adlai Stevenson promoted, as Illinois governor, a "cash fund contributed by private individuals which was paid to various official appointees to state jobs."

Kent Chandler, a Chicago manufacturer who served before the Republican convention on the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, wired the Democratic presidential candidate a demand to make known details of the fund.

In his wire, Chandler, vice chairman of A. B. Dick and Company, an office equipment firm, said:

Referred to Nixon

"In view of the attack on Sen. Nixon because of the privately raised expense fund and your campaign manager's ill-considered charges, it is your responsibility to state publicly that this method of financially assisting public officials is in keeping with the policy you expressed to a group of your friends, including myself, at the Commercial Club April 23 last."

Chandler referred to Sen. Richard Nixon, the Republican vice presidential candidate, and the recent disclosure that a political fund of more than $18,000 was raised for Nixon by a group of California residents.

Criticized Funds

The other reference was to Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic national chairman, who publicly called on Nixon to resign as a candidate.

The Chandler telegram came as newspapers criticized the raising and handling of Stevenson's campaign funds obtained while he was still a candidate for a second term as Illinois governor—before his presidential nomination in July.

Key Jobs

Existence of the payroll augmenting fund mentioned by Chandler has not hitherto been disclosed, although Stevenson once told reporters that he had contributed from his personal funds to eke out low salary for one or more of his appointees.

The Illinois governor said he did that to help keep high class men in key state jobs. He refused to enlarge on his remark, explaining that details might cause embarrassment.

U.S., Britain Deny Russian Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain have curtly rejected Russia's charge that they are converting Trieste into a permanent "war base."

In terse notes delivered at Moscow Saturday and made public last night, the two allies flatly denied they are violating Italy's Peace Treaty by an agreement giving Italians a bigger role in governing the British-American zone of Trieste, which lies between Italy and Yugoslavia.

The American note, made public by the State Department, ranked as one of the shortest ever sent Moscow. In 190 words, stripped of the usual diplomatic pleasantries, the United States turned down a formal Moscow note of nearly 1000 words sent last June 24.

Russia had accused Britain and the United States of flagrantly violating the Italian 1947 Peace Treaty by the deal with Italy.

Sen. Nixon Will Plead Funds Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Young Sen. Richard Nixon of California, fighting for his political life over an $18,000 expense fund, flew here yesterday to plead his case before American voters.

The GOP candidate for vice president received a cheering welcome by several hundred people at Los Angeles International Airport.

Nixon Hopeful

Nixon dramatically broke off his Western campaign tour at Portland, Ore.—temporarily, he said—to tell a nation-wide radio-television audience tonight of his political and personal finances.

Nixon, grimly determined, was hopeful that he would convince the voters—and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as well—that there was no wrong-doing in connection with his stormy political fund.

No Definite Word

Nixon, in an extraordinary action said he would give a complete accounting of his personal and political finances in his broadcast over the NBC television and the CBS and MBS radio networks between 7:30 to 8 p.m. today.

The 27-man party, including newsmen, left Portland with Nixon's aides saying that the vice presidential nominee still had received no definite word on his status with Gen. Eisenhower. The presidential candidate has been described as perturbed over the $18,000 fund disclosure to the point where he was considering asking his 39-year-old running mate to drop off the ticket.

Chaplin Still Plans To Return to U.S.

CHERBOURG, France (AP)—Charlie Chaplin, in a jovial, holiday mood, said yesterday threats to bar him from the United States had not altered his plans to return there in about six months.

The famed movie comedian told reporters aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth here he was "very much surprised" by U.S. Atty. Gen. James P. McGranery's announcement last Friday that he had ordered Chaplin barred from re-entering the country until a hearing determines his fitness to return.

Chaplin said he had cabled his lawyers to find out what McGranery—who gave no explanation of his action—had in mind.

Rome Astronomer Says 'Saucers' Are 'Nonsense'

ROME (AP)—Prof. Giuseppe Armellini, director of the Rome Astronomical Observatory, caught what was reported to be a "flying saucer" in his telescope Sunday night and says "It's all a lot of nonsense."

He happened to observe something which set scores of Rome residents to calling their newspapers. "They are simply balls of heat lightning," he announced.

Marines Hit Denmark

SKAGEN, Denmark (AP)—U. S. Marines, with light weapons and artillery, swarmed ashore on Skagen's sandy beach in a mock amphibious landing yesterday and some were showered with Communist propaganda leaflets.

The realistic landing climaxed Operation Mainbrace, NATO's big war maneuvers.

2 Die as Police Trap Escapees

NEW YORK (AP)—Elmer Schuer blamed two "mad dog" brothers yesterday for a deadly gun battle that climaxed their spectacular break from Lewisburg, Pa., federal penitentiary.

The brothers, Joseph Nolen, 26, and Ballard Nolen, 22, two Kentucky hillbillies, were shot to death Sunday as 31 policemen closed in on their apartment hide-out. Schuer escaped injury.

The furious exchange of machine gun and pistol fire also cost the life of 45-year-old Philip Lamonica, a detective here. He was shot as he pushed aside a gas aimed at a fellow cop.

Ike Says Adlai Is Faint-Hearted

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower accused Adlai Stevenson last night of a "faintness of heart" which he said reflects an administration surrender of initiative to the Communists.

The Republican presidential candidate loosed this blast in the shadow of war because the administration is playing "an endless game of makeshift and make-believe" in its foreign policies.

Eisenhower also leveled at the Democratic presidential nominee accusations of "smug evasions, of dealing lightly with the problem of ending the Korean War, and of making 'false charges' against him.

"It is not hard to find men of fine intellect and faint heart," Eisenhower said in the text of a prepared speech for a Republican rally. "But this is no time for men of refined and elaborate indecision.

"Our need—our most urgent need—is the leadership of men whose strength of mind is match-

Stevenson Hits Ike's Taft-Hartley Views

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson yesterday denounced the Taft-Hartley law as "spiteful," called anew for its repeal, rapped hard at Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's labor views, and got howling approval at the American Federation of Labor convention.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, also drew warm applause from the AFL delegates in outlining a five-point program aimed at closer labor-government partnership.

All in all, the reception the Illinois governor received appeared to make it a virtual certainty—if any further evidence were needed—that the AFL will vote today to endorse Stevenson's candidacy.

Adlai Applauded

The CIO already has endorsed Stevenson.

Addressing more than 2000 AFL delegates and visitors who jammed and overflowed the ballroom, Stevenson was interrupted 35 times by applause and laughter at his quips.

And the cry was, "You tell 'em, Steve," when the governor said the history of the Republican party is that "it supported and was supported by those interests which believed that freedom meant the right to exercise economic power without restraint."

At the outset of his speech, Stevenson remarked that the AFL convention already has been in session eight days, and said:

Jokes at GOP 'Thrill'

"This makes it high time for a little humor." He added:

"But I fear some people may be listening who don't like the light touch, although they don't seem to mind the heavy one, provided it is made by a Republican and not a Democrat."

Stevenson said nothing to make it clear whether he was alluding to GOP vice presidential candidate Richard Nixon's acceptance of a $18,235 privately endowed expense fund. But in any event, the governor's remark brought a gale of laughter.

HST Plans Tour to Win Adlai Votes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman announced yesterday the full itinerary of a 15-day coast-to-coast whistle stop tour for speeches in 14 states aimed at winning votes for Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate.

The President's train will roll through parts of 24 states from the time he leaves here on Saturday at 9:30 p.m. until he returns on Oct. 12. But stops in 10 of the states will be either on Sunday or at hours when talks are not practicable.

Reporters estimated there will be a minimum of 11 prepared talks and at least 77 off-the-cuff talks to trainside crowds.

Prepared speeches are scheduled for Buffalo and New York City; San Francisco; Chester and Kalispell, Mont.; Spokane, Seattle, and Tacoma, Wash.; Shasta Dam in California's Central Valley; Provo, Utah; and Shenandoah, Iowa.

In addition to his important speeches, the President will talk from the rear platform of his private car in North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Iowa, Missouri, Indiana, Ohio and New York.

Referring to Stevenson's forced by their strength of will." eign policy speech last week in San Francisco, Eisenhower quoted Stevenson: "With 85 per cent of BOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will decide after hearing Sen. Richard M. Nixon's television-radio explanation of his private expense account whether to keep Nixon on the Republican ticket.

This was made clear today on the highest possible authority aboard this campaign train as Eisenhower told an informal news conference that he "commended" Nixon personally last night on his decision to broadcast a complete financial accounting.

our budget allocated to defense, it is the Soviet Union which now fixes the level of our defense expenditures and thus our tax rates."

Eisenhower said U.S. policies have become shadowed by doubt and indecision and "the Democrat candidate gave us... a dismaying example of this faintness of heart, this curiously defensive way of thinking."

The Republican candidate went on to say it is true the American taxpayer is burdened heavily by the Soviet threat.
