

6 Sub-Committees Begun At Senate Group Meeting

Six sub-committees were organized and started in operation at the first meeting of the newly reorganized College Senate committee on student affairs Monday night.

The six sub-committees are on academic honesty, organization control, College-student relations, social affairs, discipline, and health, and recreation.

The Senate committee on student affairs is composed of nine members. The sub-committees range in size from four to six members.

Academic Honesty Committee

The main committee is composed of four faculty members including Dr. Henry Brunner, chairman; Dr. Charles Fergus; Dr. Hummel Fishburn; and Dr. Winona Morgan; H. K. Wilson, Dean of Men; Pearl O. Weston, Dean of Women; Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs; William M. Smith, chairman of graduate committee on student affairs; and John Laubach, All-College president. The latter two are ex-officio members.

The sub-committee on academic honesty was organized to plan ways of promoting academic honesty, Brunner explained. The sub-committee is composed of three faculty members and two students. They are Dr. Gerhard Ehmman, Dr. Henry Yeagley, Prof. Edwin Gamble, William Walters, and Carolyn McElroy.

Sub-Committee Listed

Three faculty members and two students make up the organization control sub-committee. They are Dr. Agnes McElwee, Dr. Alex Black, Ross Lehman, W. Joseph Haines, and Barbara Werts.

The sub-committee on College-student relations also contains three faculty members and two students. They are Prof. Eugene Bischoff, Dr. Kent Forster, Dr. Nell Murphy, Joan Hutcheon, and Richard Rostmeyer.

The social affairs sub-committee includes one faculty member yet to be named, Dr. William Dye of the Association of Fraternity Counselors, the head of the Association of Women's Fraternity Counselors; Arthur Rosfeld, Interfraternity Council president; Marlene Heyman, Panhellenic Council president; William Shifflett, Association of Independent Men president; Vivian Peterson, Leonides president; Ross Lehman, adviser to AIM; Patricia Thompson, a adviser to Leonides; and George Donovan, Student Union director.

The discipline committee will be presided over by either Wilson or Miss Weston, depending on the sex of the student involved. Other members are Kenworthy, Brunner, James Schulte, chairman of Tribunal, or Teresa Taylor, chairman of Judicial, a faculty member designated by the sub-committee after consultation with the student, and a staff specialist. Ag Mixer Plans Near Completion Committees are now making final preparations for "Howdy Night," an informal mixer for students and faculty of the School of Agriculture to be held at 7 p.m. tomorrow in Hort Woods.

Faculty working on the mixer are Paul H. Margolf, chairman; Russell B. Dickerson; Harry H. Kauffman and James L. Gobble, co-chairmen of the food committee; Roy C. Buck and Ronald A. Bartoo, facilities; Chauncey P. Lang, program; Alice Lattimer, Elton B. Tait, and J. Keith Thornton, publicity.

Students on committees are Joseph Arnold, chairman; Richard Stanley; Nancy Bigley and Clark Sell, co-chairmen of the food committee; Arthur Stone, James Boodley, Temple Reynolds, chairman of facilities; Morris Schroeder and Frederick Ost; William Griffith, program and Robert Daw, publicity.

Miss Lattimer stated that the committees expect more than 1000 persons to attend "Howdy Night," sponsored by the student activities committee. The purpose of the mixer is to have the faculty, upperclassmen, and freshmen of the School of Agriculture become acquainted.

Weiners, cider, and coffee will be served. A program will be presented and there will be group singing.

Newman Club Meetings Set

Newman Club weekly discussion groups will hold their first meetings this week.

Andrew W. Case, associate professor of fine arts, will lecture on "Defense of the Faith" at 7:15 tonight in the basement of the rectory, 215 W. Fairmount street.

At 7:15 p.m. tomorrow, John Hammes, instructor in psychology, will lecture on scholastic philosophy in 107 Willard.

Patricia Nageotte, chairman of the lecture-discussion group, has announced that the weekly discussion groups are open to the public.

The topic for the week is "Can You Prove There Is a God?"

staff specialist will be either a psychologist or member of the College Health Service, Brunner explained.

The health and recreation sub-committee includes Dr. Herbert Glenn, director of the College Health Service, the heads of men's and women's recreation, Mabel Marple and Joseph Lemyre. The latter two are students.

Open Mixer Scheduled By APhiO

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will hold an open mixer in 304 Old Main, Monday at 7 p.m., Richard Schuler, president, announced yesterday.

Only those men who have had experience in the Boy Scouts and who have a 1.0 All-College average are eligible to pledge, Schuler said. They should also have the desire to serve the community and the College, he added.

The meeting is open to freshman men so that they may become acquainted with the organization.

There will be explanations of the group and its projects, which include the annual "Ugly Man" contest and the "Wear Out the Walks" campaign.

Refreshments will be served, and a movie on the Canadian bush, which tells of a canoe trip taken by four students at the College, will be shown.

Officers of the fraternity include Schuler, president; William Burrows, vice president; Clyde Herrick, treasurer; Lowell Krowitz, recording secretary; William Shomberg, corresponding secretary; Allan Thompson, alumnae secretary; Richard Updegraff, historian; Arthur Jordan, sergeant-at-arms; and H. Norton Cope, chairman of the advisory committee.

Dance, Party Plans Reported To Ag Council

The Agriculture Student Council held its first meeting of the semester last night, with Richard Stanley, president, presiding.

First on the agenda were officer reports. A financial statement of the council was given to each member, and Stanley gave a report on the All-College Cabinet meeting.

A special committee report was given on "Howdy" night, a mixer for faculty and students in the School of Agriculture, by chairman Joseph Arnold. Chairmen of other committees working on "Howdy" night also gave reports.

William Waters gave a report on the progress of the Ag Hill party, and James Devoe reported the plans now being made for the Harvest Ball. Plans for the agriculture and home economics square dance to be held October 4 were discussed.

An amendment was made to the Constitution concerning attendance of the members of the council. A second amendment was brought up for voting but was not passed.

Coaly, Ag Hill honorary society, was voted by the council to take over the sponsorship of a $5000 trust fund to be used for an agriculture public speaking contest.

Grange Schedules First Folk Dance

An open square and folk dance sponsored by the Penn State Grange will be held at 7:30 tonight in 100 Horticulture.

Ross Lytle, of State College, will be the caller and will play for the stag affair. A brief explanation of the organization and purposes of the Grange will be given by Ernest Gingrich, master-elect of the Grange.

Refreshments will be served. No admission will be charged and all may attend.

Concerts to Include Robert Shaw Group

The Robert Shaw Chorale, a group of 32 voices and 19 instrumentalists, will be featured as part of this year's Community Concert series at the College, Dr. F. R. Matson, chairman of the association, has announced.

The selection of the chorale was made before the sale of memberships because of the great demand for the group, he said.

Dr. Henry S. Brunner, campaign chairman, stated that the 1952-53 membership drive will begin Oct. 6, but that old members will be able to renew their subscriptions after Monday. All tickets must be purchased during these periods, he added, for regardless of the results of the campaign, none will be sold after that.

The price of the memberships will remain at $6 and both residents of State College and students at the College are eligible to purchase them. The number of subscribers will then determine the number and size of the other attractions to be presented during the year.

Shaw, the director of the chorale, started his career when, as a student at Pomona College, he led the glee club. From there he joined Fred Waring and remained with him until his induction into the Navy in 1945.

After his military duty, he served as choral director for the Berkshire Music Center at Tanglewood, Mass., and later at the Juillard School of Music. He is well known to radio and concert audiences, and this fall he starts his second nation-wide concert tour.

AZ Retains Highest Scholastic Average

For the third consecutive semester Alpha Zeta fraternity holds the highest scholastic average of any campus group, the Dean of Admissions office revealed yesterday.

According to a release bearing spring semester averages of fraternities, sororities, independent groups and the All-College average as a whole, fraternity men, with a collective average of 1.39, rated higher than independent men with an average of 1.34.

WD Office Nominations End Friday

Friday is the deadline for all nominations for West Dorm area division officers, Bryson Craine, student government counselor for the West Dorm area, has announced.

Nominations are to be made by a petition signed by ten or more students living in the division, Craine said. A person may be nominated for only one office.

Petitions for president, vice president and secretary-treasurer must be submitted to the student counselor before midnight Friday, Craine said.

Candidates will be allowed to express their views at a special floor meeting to be held before the election Monday, Craine added. The time and place of the meetings will be announced on bulletin boards in the respective divisions, he said.

The election itself will be held from 7 p.m. to midnight Monday in the counselor's suite, Craine said. All fulltime students, except counselors, will be allowed to cast a vote for each office.

Frosh Debate Meeting Set For Tonight

The women's debate squad will hold a preliminary meeting for all freshman women interested in joining the team at 7 tonight in 2 Sparks.

An interest in debating on either side of the national intercollegiate debate topic is the only qualification necessary for freshman women. They need not try out nor have previous debate experience to be placed on the squad. The topic is Resolved: That the Congress of the U.S. should enact a compulsory fair employment practices' law.

Upperclass women not on the squad spring semester of last year and wishing to join will be required to try out. Candidates must deliver a five-minute speech on the national topic. A preliminary meeting for interested upperclass women will be held at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 2 Sparks. Tryouts are scheduled for Oct. 2.

400 Teachers See Film

The film, "This is Penn State" was shown to nearly 400 exchange teachers in Washington last week. The purpose of the film was to orient teachers of foreign lands.

Fraternities Required To List Pledges Today

Fraternities must list their pledges of this semester or late last semester in the Interfraternity Council register at the Student Union desk in Old Main before 5 p.m. today. Thomas Fleming, IFC secretary, announced yesterday.

Fraternities are reminded to send one representative who will list all the pledges instead of having individual pledges sign the register. Fleming explained that the list will be used by campus publications when the pledges will be announced.
