

Essay Test Offered To Seniors

"The Meaning of Academic Freedom" is the subject for a $5000 essay contest for seniors, sponsored by the National Council of Jewish Women.

First prize for the contest is $2500. Second prize is $1000 and third, fourth, and fifth prizes are $500 each.

Any member of the class of 1953 except children of national officers of the council are eligible to enter the contest.

Deadline for submitting the essays, which must be under 2500 words, is Dec. 31. The winners will be announced about April 15, 1953. Manuscripts should be typewritten, double-spaced, and on one side of the page.

The sender's name and address must be on the outside envelope but not on the manuscript. The entries must be sent to Essay Contest, National Council of Jewish Women, One West 47th street, New York 36, N.Y.

Certificates of authorship, obtainable from College authorities or the essay contest headquarters must be filled out and signed by the contestant, enclosed in a sealed envelope, and clipped to the manuscript.

Judges for the contest are Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas; Ralph Bunche, director of the Trusteeship Division of United Nations and winner of the Nobel Peace Prize of 1950; Mrs. Douglas Horton, former president of Wellesley College; Abram L. Sachar, president of Brandeis University; and Thurman W. Arnold, former associate justice of the United States Court of Appeals.

Reed Stresses Need of Work

Dr. Harold Reed, professor of economics, told the Young Democrats last night that their activity in the forthcoming elections could be of great value to the Democratic Party.

Reed told the club, which held its first meeting of the year, that it was up to them to help get a Democratic majority in Congress "so people like Sens. Joe McCarthy, William Jenner, and their ilk don't become chairmen of key committees."

Reed suggested that the group distribute literature, do house-to-house canvassing to help get out the vote, and make small personal contributions to the party.

There is more work to be done than there are people to do it, Reed said, and if plans to form a Stevenson headquarters here are carried out, even more workers will be needed.

New members are invited by Kenneth Doverspike, president, to attend the next meeting which will be held at 8 p.m., Thursday.

Phys Ed Council Adds Two Men

Theodore Mortensen and Leo Henry were appointed members of the Physical Education Student Council Monday night. Mortensen was named to represent junior men and Henry to represent sophomore men on the council.

Plans were made at the meeting for a Phys Ed Mixer to be held in White Hall. Committee heads named by Margaret Lamester, president of the council, were Kathleen Greenbaum and Sara McMillan, entertainment; Sarah Whitney, arrangement; Nancy White, publicity; and Ann Barker, refreshments.

Projects --

Charge of an exhibit in the West Dorm display case. A cross-section display of activities in the various schools is planned.

Coombs said yesterday that no plans for a proposed competitive motorcade by sororities and fraternities had been made. He said he is waiting for a conference with Arthur Rosfeld, Interfraternity Council president, and Marlene Heyman, Panhellenic Council president.

The motorcade, which would be on the track around Beaver Field before the homecoming game Oct. 18, was in doubt because no opinion on the subject had been received from Rosfeld. Permission has not been granted for the motorcade by either Panhellenic Council or the IFC, he said.

Coombs said he thought the motorcade would be "the most effective means of bringing Pennsylvania Week before the public." He estimated that 25,000 to 30,000 persons attending the homecoming football game would witness the parade.

Another problem to be solved, Coombs said, was the ban placed on automobiles and students on the field by Harold K. Gilbert, graduate manager of athletics, because of the first throwing incident last Saturday.

A possible presentation on the theme of Pennsylvania Week by Five O'clock Theater is still in doubt, the committee learned.

Frosh Riot --

When Shifflett was addressing the group, he pointed out that All-College cabinet was working in the students' interest, pointing out that just last night cabinet had started action which may lead to removal of physical education requirements for veterans.

Schulte told them that the customs board doesn't like enforcing customs anymore than the frosh enjoy going through them, but that cooperation was needed to bring the program to a successful close.

Health --

Must Pay Bill
The emergency service in the borough is designed to help those who cannot reach a doctor of their choice. It is not a "demand" service and other doctors may have to be called.

If a student calls a town doctor, he is responsible for paying the bill. The bill will be higher at night than in the daytime, and higher after midnight.

A student will be responsible for the house call bill even if the physician sends the student to the infirmary.

Guide Doctor
Students should not call late at night if it can be avoided.

Someone should meet the doctor at the door to guide him to the room where the patient is located.

Officials warned that irresponsibility in payment of bills prejudices the cases of other students.

This system of contacting borough physicians was arranged last year after meetings including independent and fraternity students, the College Health Service, and town physicians were held.

Vets File Tuesday For Benefit Claims

In order to be eligible for their monthly benefits, veterans attending the College under public law 550 must report to 4G Willard Hall Tuesday to sign their monthly training certificate. Richard H. Baker, coordinator of veterans affairs, has announced.

Veterans who do not report will not have their claims processed until next month, Baker said.

Veterans are to report between 8 a.m. and noon, or 1:30 and 5 p.m.

MODERN TRIANGLE A BOY... A GIRL... TV

Let's face it. Living rooms are still in style. But a third party is inching its way in to form a crowd.

And no wonder. Few can resist this miracle that has brought the world and set it down in front of you. Living history, flowing past your eyes. Politics. U. N. sessions. Sports. Spot news. Personalities.

We in the Bell System help to put you in this front-row seat on history. Bell Laboratories research contributed to TV development. Now our radio-relay systems and coaxial cables carry the images between cities and across the country.

Our part in TV transmission is only one among dozens of activities that keep us in the front line of modern communications. They are all reasons, we believe, why college people should find out what the Bell System has to offer in the way of opportunities.

Why don't you ask your college placement office about it?
