

Adlai Reverses Position, Will Name Gift Contributors

CHICAGO (AP)—Snowballing political charges growing from Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's special expense fund drew a promise from the Democratic presidential nominee yesterday to name contributors.

The Democratic presidential nominee, under fire from Republicans insisting that he name names, told newsmen about his decision as he left Springfield, Ill., yesterday morning for speeches in Evansville and Indianapolis.

The governor has acknowledged he set up a special fund to augment low state salaries paid men he took from private business to go into his Illinois state administration. He has defended the setup as not secret and not improper.

Baltimore Rejection
Stevenson was flying from Evansville to Indianapolis, where he was scheduled for a major address last night on the subject of economy in government.

As for the Illinois fund, which Stevenson set up to supplement the pay of key state officials, Stevenson on Wednesday in Baltimore, Md., rejected demands that he name the beneficiaries of the fund.

Later he also declined to name the donors, but he said he was going to get in touch with them.

Sabres Down 4 More MIGs

SEOUL (AP)—Sharp-shooting Sabre jets destroyed four Communist MIGs and damaged four more yesterday, boosting the number of Red jet planes shot down this month to a new high of 56, the Air Force announced.

Clearing autumn skies brought out the first MIGs in four days, but the Sabres had to fly high to engage them.

Snarling dogfights raged almost seven miles high east of Sinuiju on the Yalu River frontier of Manchuria.

This battle brought the September box score of MIGs to 56 destroyed, six probably destroyed, and 51 reported damaged. One of yesterday's damage claims was not officially confirmed.

Previously the best monthly score was last April when Allied airmen downed 41 Red jets and three propeller-driven fighters for a total of 44.

U.S. Envoy Denounced By Pravda

MOSCOW (AP)—A blistering attack by Pravda yesterday raised a question as to the future status of Ambassador George F. Kennan as the American envoy to Russia.

Pravda, organ of the Communist party and the highest journalistic authority in the Soviet Union, charged Kennan with conduct improper to an ambassador and said he was a "slanderer disguised as a diplomat."

He was quoted as saying that

George F. Kennan

Soviet-American relations had sunk to an "icy cold" level, and compared the situation of American diplomats in Moscow now with that of interned U. S. Americans in Berlin in 1941-42 during the war.

"Had the Nazis permitted us to walk the streets without having any right to talk to any Germans that would be precisely how we have to live today in Moscow," he was quoted.

In Washington, U. S. Secretary of State Acheson said the Pravda attack was wholly unjustified.

Pravda said Kennan was: An "ecstatic liar."

A violator of elementary rules obligatory for diplomats.

Seeking to worsen Soviet-American relations rather than improve them.

Recommending himself as an enemy of peace, and thus of the Soviet Union.

Guilty of slanderous fabrications, crude anti-Soviet attacks, malicious hostility and obvious nonsense.

LATE FLASH

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson laid down last night a five-point program for economy in government—and he called Indiana's GOP Sen. William E. Jenner a man who "deprecates in ugly words" the fight for peace.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum, the Democratic presidential nominee also rapped again at his Republican opponent Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, for endorsing Jenner for reelection.

The governor said then that, without supplementary salary, some Illinois officials could not have afforded to leave private employment.

But naming them, Stevenson said at the time, would subject them to publicity they didn't deserve and would amount to a "breach of faith on my part."

At the Springfield airport yesterday morning, newsmen reminded Stevenson that his campaign manager, Wilson Wyatt, said yesterday the governor was planning a further statement on the controversial fund.

Contributors Contracted
Stevenson said that was right, and then added he already had "contacted most of the people" but there are so many it is difficult to reach them all.

In reply to a question, the governor explained he was talking about contributors to the fund.

He said he had been in touch with all the state officials who were aided from the fund. He completed that job last night, he said, adding that it was easier to reach them than the contributors.

Byrd Praised by Ike In Virginia Speech

ABOARD THE EISENHOWER SPECIAL (AP)—GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower paid high tribute to Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia last night as he drove his presidential campaign through North Carolina and Virginia.

Arriving at Petersburg, Va., Eisenhower told a cheering crowd of some 6000 that he understood he had the support of a "Democrats for Eisenhower" organization.

"Any party that could produce a man like Harry Byrd is a top-flight outfit," he declared.

'Political Mortgage' Hit
President Truman has said there were "too many Byrds" in the Senate. But both Eisenhower and Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson now have praised Byrd and his record in the Senate.

Earlier, Eisenhower had called for roaring crowds in North Carolina and Virginia to cancel out the Democrats' "political mortgage" on the South.

It was his second appeal for Dixie support in less than a month—and the windup of a 12-day, 12-state tour that ended last night with a speech in Richmond, Va.

Bids For Electoral Votes
Throngs turned out at each stop to give him the same warm welcome he received early this month in Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Arkansas.

Eisenhower made his first formal bid for North Carolina's 14 electoral votes with a speech before an estimated 18,000 people jammed into Memorial Stadium at Charlotte.

But his first informal appearance in the state with Mrs. Eisenhower came at Salisbury—where both stood on the train platform in dressing robes and pajamas.

A police-estimated crowd of 25,000 cheered the GOP candidate through the streets of Charlotte to the stadium. And Eisenhower immediately opened fire on the Democratic hold on the Southland.

Senators Should Live On Salaries—Mitchell

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stephen Mitchell, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, was quoted yesterday as saying that no one should run for the U. S. Senate unless he is willing to live within the salaries and expenses allowed him by the government.

The question came up when the committee was asked whether Mitchell had ever said a man should not run for the Senate unless he can afford it.

Mitchell himself could not be reached yesterday, but Tom Yarbrough, assistant press chief to Mitchell, said the chairman had discussed the subject earlier this week.

Nixon Refuses Conclave To Discuss Finances

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Sen. Richard M. Nixon flatly refused yesterday to hold a press conference to discuss further his financial affairs.

Reporters asked the Republican vice presidential nominee if he would meet with them to answer additional questions about the $18,000 fund raised for his use by wealthy California residents. "No no, definitely not," Nixon answered.

Nixon outlined his financial affairs in a nation-wide radio and television broadcast Tuesday night.

Nixon Wires Hit 175,000

NEW YORK (AP)—The Western Union Telegraph Company announced yesterday that 175,000 telegrams were filed throughout the nation in response to Sen. Richard M. Nixon's radio-televcast appeal last Tuesday night.

It was the largest number of telegrams ever sent in response to an appeal by radio and television, Western Union said.

Truman Says UN Being Undermined

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said yesterday there is an increasing attempt by "old isolationists" to undermine the United Nations "and to turn back in our onward march toward peace."

Naming no names, he said attacks on the UN have grown bolder since the death of former Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) who often worked closely with the administration on foreign policy.

"The old isolationists have grown bolder," Truman said in a talk in the White House rose garden to the National Citizens Committee for United Nations Day.

"They are urging us to abandon our allies, to pull out of Europe and out of Korea, to slash our mutual security program and to turn back in our onward march toward peace."
