

Chapel to Hear Bible Professor

The Rev. G. Wayne Glick, professor of Biblical studies at Juniata College, Huntingdon, will speak on "The Darkness of Faith" in Chapel at 10:55 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

The Chapel Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Willa C. Taylor, will sing "Introit Hymn" (Tallis), "Let All the World in Every Corner Sing" (Chapman), and "Truly, My Soul" (Beattie).

George Ceiga, organist, will play as prelude "Hyfrydol" (Williams); as offertory "O Welt Ich muss dich lassen" (Streicher); and as postlude "Sonnelle" (Reinberger).

A native of Bridgewater, Va., Glick received his B.A. from Bridgewater College, his B.D. from Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago, and his M.A. from the University of Chicago. An ordained minister in the Church of the Brethren, he is now in the process of completing his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago Divinity School.

Glick is a member of the National Association of Biblical Instructors, Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis, and the American Association of University Professors.

He is also secretary of the student Christian movement faculty committee on Christianity in higher education; chairman of the Juniata College committee for National Council study, and an elected University Fellow of the University of Chicago.

Rush Period Ends for Sororities

Formal rushing for the year drew to a close last night with 16 of the 19 sororities on campus holding formal Coffee Hours.

Three sororities, Alpha Epsilon Phi, Phi Sigma Sigma, and Sigma Delta Tau, held their coffee hours Wednesday and ribboning ceremonies Thursday because of the Yom Kippur holiday this weekend. Ribbonees of these three sororities will be announced in the Daily Collegian with the other 16 on Tuesday.

Rushes were able to attend two Coffee Hours last night, and could sign their preferential bids from 10 to 11 p.m. in the Panhellenic post office. Other rushes may sign their preferential bids from 8 to 12 a.m. today in the Dean of Women's office.

Sororities also turn in a preferential list, but according to the rules of the post office all preferential bids and lists shall remain confidential.

Formal bids will be distributed at 5 p.m. today and ribboning will take place at 6:30 tonight in the sorority suites.

Informal rushing will begin Oct. 12 and will last until the end of the year.

Hillel to Mark Church Holiday

The Hillel Foundation will conduct services in observance of the Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur) Sunday night and Monday at the new Foundation synagogue. The Day of Atonement is the most sacred day of the Jewish religious calendar.

The day of fasting and prayer will be introduced with the Kol Nidre Service at 6:30 p.m. Sunday. Monday services will begin at 8:45 a.m. and will continue until sundown.

Rabbi Benjamin Kahn, director of the Hillel Foundation, will officiate and deliver the sermons. Ted Mann of Philadelphia will chant the services and Professor C. A. Nelson, associate professor of economics, will chant the scriptural portions of the services.

Displays to Mark National Bible Week

By HELEN LUYBEN

Bible displays sponsored by the Penn State Christian Association and the State College Council of Churches have been placed in the Pattee Library and the College Sportswear store.

These are to commemorate the observance of National Bible Week, Sept. 28 - Oct. 5, and the publication of a new translation of the Bible, which will go on sale Tuesday.

The result of 25 years of work by a committee of some 30 American scholars, the new translation was made in order that some of the difficult parts of the present edition could be made more clear, according to Rev. A. S. Asendorf, of the Faith Reformed Church. The present King James version, written in 1611, has been supplemented by manuscripts found since that period, in the new edition.

One of the scholars who helped in the translation will be the guest speaker at union services to be held tomorrow, commemorating the new translation's publication. Dr. A. R. Wentz, professor of church history at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, will speak at 7:30 p.m. in the Presbyterian Church. Students as well as townspeople will be welcome at the services, Asendorf said.

Religion—

Revised Bible To Be Topic of Two Talks

By LAVONNE ALTHOUSE

Commemorating the start of National Bible Week, two student religion groups will hear talks on the new revised standard version of the Bible at their meetings tomorrow night. The new Bible will be issued Tuesday.

The Rev. Edwerth E. Korte will discuss the new version at the meeting of the Lutheran Student Association at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Lutheran Student house. A farewell tea for Pastor and Mrs. Korte, who will leave State College next week, will follow the discussion.

Roger Williams Fellowship will hear Lauris B. Whitman, instructor of rural sociology, talk on the revised standard version after its fellowship supper at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow in the basement of the University Baptist Church.

Two groups will hear talks on Asiatic countries. Nguyen Ban of Vietnam will speak to the Wesley Foundation about his country and its place in the world after the group's fellowship supper at 5:15 p.m. tomorrow in the basement of St. Paul's Methodist Church.

Canterbury Club will hear Shenil Roy talk on India at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the parish hall of St. Andrews Episcopal Church.

Ray Shirl will speak on "Science and Religion" at the meeting of the Evangelical United Brethren Student Fellowship at 6:15 p.m. tomorrow in the student room of St. John's E.U.B. Church.

A color film, "Crucifixion," will be shown at the Westminster Foundation fireside room at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The Young Friends will hold a musicale at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Friends Meeting House. Selections will include "Cantata Christ lag im Todesbad" (Bach), "Violin Concerto" (Brahms), and "Symphony in D Minor" (Franck).

United Student Fellowship will meet for its fellowship supper at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow in the basement of Faith Reformed Church. Afterwards members will attend union church services at 7:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church.

Tickets for Drag To Go on Sale Tuesday Morning

Tickets for the Dungaree Drag will be available from any member of Cwens, sophomore women's hat society sponsoring the dance, beginning Tuesday morning, Baylee Friedman, dance chairman, said yesterday.

The Drag, an annual girl-ask-boy affair, is for the purpose of raising money for scholarships for sophomore women in need of financial aid. Last year three scholarships were awarded from the proceeds of the dance.

Jeans will be popular apparel at the Drag, running from 9 p.m. to midnight Oct. 11 in Recreation Hall. Corsages, which will be made by the women for their dates, will be worn by the men as a special feature of the dance. Ten prizes will be awarded to the men wearing the most original, unique, and unusual corsages.

In addition to the tickets to be sold by members of Cwens, general ticket sales will begin at the end of next week at the Student Union desk in Old Main, the Corner, and in the West Dormitory area. The tickets are priced at $1.50 per couple.

Jack Huber and his orchestra will provide the music. Cider and pretzels will be served free of charge, Miss Friedman said.

Open House Plans Slated by Philotes

Philotes, independent women's social group, will hold open house for all independent women in connection with its meeting at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the second floor lounge of Simmons Hall.

Independent women wishing to become members are invited to attend.

Philotes business meeting will also be open to the visitors. The group will discuss plans for the joint mixer it will sponsor with the Penn State Club next Saturday night in the Simmons playroom. Visitors will be allowed to take part in the discussion, but will have no voting privileges.

This open house is the beginning of a membership drive for Philotes. Actual membership in the organization is by tapping only.
