STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 3, 1952

FIVE CENTS

Coeds Start Lion Suit Campaign

The traditional Lion who prances at all home football games may soon have a new suit as the result of a drive started by the women of Thompson Hall with a contribution of $122.

The goal of the fund-raising campaign, sponsored by The Daily Collegian, is to replace the present Lion costume which is in a tattered condition.

Contributions to the fund may be made at The Daily Collegian office, basement of Carnegie Hall, from 11 a.m. to noon and 4 to 5 p.m. daily, David Pellnitz, editor, said.

Praises Department

Pearl O. Weston, dean of women, complimented the women living in Thompson Hall on their spirit and deportment.

"They behaved very well during the recent West Dorm riot, and showed fine spirit at the football games," she said.

She said she thought the contribution to the Lion suit fund was "very fine."

The present suit, worn by Alex Gregal, was purchased two years ago for $400. Suggestions were made last year for a new costume, but neither All-College Cabinet nor the Athletic Association was able to furnish the necessary funds.

Groups Show Interest

It will take about three months to have a new suit made, according to George Donovan, manager of associated student activities.

Representatives of other groups have expressed interest in the drive. A motion was passed at a recent meeting of Androcles, junior men's hat society, to collect money for the campaign.

Deferment Test Applications Available Soon

Applications for the Dec. 4 Selective Service college qualification test will be available on campus at a future date, Frank J. Simes, assistant dean of men, announced yesterday.

The date and place for the distribution will be determined in a conference with Selective Service officials.

Since the forms will be available on campus, it will not be necessary for students to visit their local boards for applications.

Selective service cards must be shown to obtain the test applications. An official of the regional Selective Service Board will be available to answer questions regarding the tests.

In order to be eligible to take the deferment test a student must "intend to request deferment as a student, be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction, and must not previously have taken the Selective Service college qualification test."

Students reaching the age of 18 can register under the Selective Service Act with Mrs. Case in the Dean of Men's office, 106 Old Main. According to the act, any male person reaching the age of 18 must register within five days of that birthday. He is not allowed to register before his 18th birthday.

CROWDS FORM in front of the Bursar's office in the basement of Willard Hall to pay their semester's fees. Payments must be made before 4 p.m. today, with all checks made payable to the Pennsylvania State College, or a late fee will be charged. Students' bills will be posted by matriculation numbers so students may write their checks before entering the lines.

Jeffrey, Klaus Talk At Tonight's Rally

Soccer Coach, Bill Jeffrey, and Kurt Klaus, soccer captain, will speak at a joint football-soccer pep rally at 7:30 tonight in front of Old Main, David Arnold, president of Druids, sophomore men's hat society, has announced.

Senior football players Joe Yukica, Bill Leonard, Tony Rados, and Bob Smith will speak briefly about tomorrow's game with William and Mary College.

To Lead Snake Dance

The soccer team is scheduled to meet Bucknell University tomorrow on Beaver Field, before the football game.

Members of Druids plan to assemble at 7:15 p.m. in the West Dorm courtyard for a snake dance parade through the men's dorms to attract students to the rally. Another group of hatmen will behave in a similar manner in the Nittany-Pollock area, Arnold said.

It is hoped that Frothy and the Nittany Lion, alias David Heckel and Alex Gregal, will be on hand to aid the cheerleading squad, Alan McChesney, head cheerleader, has announced. Samuel Nowell will emcee.

To Shoot Cannon

Druids has asked four men and three women from the freshman class to pose as braves and squaws at the rally. These redskins will wear signs denoting each as either "William" or "Mary."

During the rally the Lion's cannon, which goes off when State scores, will be aimed at the pseudo redskins. It will go off when the Nittany Lion "scalps" the redskins with a hatchet, Arnold said.

Debate Team Selects 15 Men

Fifteen men have been placed on the men's debate team following tryouts Wednesday night, Jay Headley, debate manager, announced yesterday.

Those named to the squad are Charles Basch, William Brill, Thomas Davies, James Dunlap, Herman Galomb, Leonard Goodman, Thomas Leyland, Louis Martini, Alan McChesney, Joseph Obester, Carl Saperstein, Nicholas Stomateris, Irvin Weiner, Randolph Wertz, and Vincent Yakowicz.

In trying out each candidate was required to deliver a five-minute speech on either side of the national intercollegiate debate topic, Resolved: That the Congress of the U.S. should enact a compulsory fair employment practices' law.

Freshmen, Sophs To Elect Class Officers Nov. 13

By MARSHALL O. DONLEY

Nov. 13 was set as election day for freshmen and sophomore class officers by action of All-College Cabinet last night in approving the election code presented by the All-College elections committee.

The voting will take place from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. of that day on the second floor balcony of Old Main, according to the approved election code.

The elections code also sets up standards for party and clique action and establishes rules of eligibility of voters and candidates.

Need 1.0 Average

The code states that any student in the first, second, third, or fourth semester is eligible to vote for officers of his class. Students must show their matriculation cards when voting so the numbers may be recorded and are subject to strict action of Tribunal for voting more than once or for transferring matriculation cards.

One of the basic rules of eligibility for candidates is All-College average of 1.0. In addition, a candidate must be in an odd-numbered semester and must be a candidate of a recognized clique. Any group may form a clique, but such a group must present candidates for all offices in the election.

Constitution Required

Each clique must file a list of its committee members and its officers with the All-College elections committee by Oct. 22 and must list its entire membership by Oct. 30.

Each party clique must have a constitution and is responsible for carrying out the rules stated in it. Each constitution must be filed with the elections committee as soon as possible after Oct. 1.

Preliminary nomination meetings must be held Sunday, Oct. 26 and final nomination meetings, Sunday, Nov. 2. The nomination meetings are attended only by members of the clique.

Campaigning for candidates shall begin no sooner than 12:01 a.m. Nov. 6 and end before 8:30 a.m., Nov. 13, election day. No more than $150 shall be expended by any party clique during the campaign.

Each party clique shall submit to the elections committee a poster, three by four feet in size, to be used at the polls on election day. This poster shall be

McCoy Hits Drinking at Grid Games

Ernest B. McCoy, dean of the School of Physical Education and Athletics, lashed out against the open display and consumption of beer and liquor in the stands during the College's football games, in a letter released to the Collegian yesterday.

"As a newcomer to the campus, I was distressed on the last two Saturdays to observe students carrying beer and liquor into our football stadium," McCoy said. "Upon inquiry, I learned that it had happened before, and I instructed the gate attendants to confiscate such goods before admission was granted."

"Most of the students thus detained pleaded that they knew of no rule against this practice."

"On the contrary, College rules specifically prohibit the possession and consumption of intoxicating beverages on College property, which includes Beaver Field and other recreational areas," he continued.

"But more important to me than the rule, is the personal belief that our students, as a whole, do not condone such conduct."

"I was pleased, for example, by the way in which our freshmen and other students rallied to the cause when once they understood the futility and foolhardiness of goal post destruction."

"Last Saturday's demonstration was one of which Penn State can be proud."

"Believing as I do that the vast majority of our students frown on the open display of liquor in the stands, I am confident that the students themselves will discourage the practice in the future," he concluded.

Textile Chem Building Renamed Home Ec South

The Textile Chemistry Building has been renamed Home Economics South, the College announced yesterday, and will be known as such until a final name is decided upon.

The building houses the work of the Ellen H. Richards Institute which has been transferred to the School of Home Economics.

Ag, Chem-Phys Photos Extended

The deadline for Agriculture and Chemistry and Physics seniors to have their pictures taken for the 1953 LaVie has been extended to 5 p.m. Monday, Jacqueline Becker, managing editor, announced yesterday.

Seniors in the School of Education may have their pictures taken at the Penn State Photo Shop, official LaVie photographer, from today until Oct. 13.

Men are asked to wear suits, white shirts, and ties. Women are requested to wear white or plain colors.

Young Democrats Plan New Drive

Plans for a membership drive were discussed by the Young Democrats at a meeting last night in Willard Hall. About 40 students attended the meeting.

Marian Venzluskas was named social chairman of the group, Jules Lippert was named membership chairman, and Lewis Shatz was selected as publicity chairman.

A mixer will be held by the Democrats next Friday in the Temporary Union Building.

A meeting of committees to discuss membership will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday in McElwain lounge. New members are invited to the meeting, Kenneth Dover-spike, president, announced.

Raschi's 3-Hit Pitching Overpowers Dodgers 7-1

BROOKLYN, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers had nothing but praise for Vic Raschi and rebuke for themselves after losing the second game of the World Series to the New York Yankees.

"I was awfully wild," lamented good-looking young Carl Erskine, who was charged with the 7-1 defeat.

"I put the first man on base in each of the six innings I worked. I don't think I threw a single strike on a change-of-pace ball."

Gil McDougald and Billy Martin broke up the game in the sixth inning with a bunt single and a towering home run off reliever Billy Loes to drive home four big runs.

Out on the mound, the 38-year-old Raschi coolly and carefully strong-armed his way to a three-hit triumph.

Only in the third inning, when the Brooks bunched singles by Pee-wee Reese, Duke Snider and Roy Campanella for their lone run did the veteran righthander allow a hit. He zoomed down the stretch with six no-hit innings.

From the third to the seventh, Big Vic blazed that fast ball and slider past the bewildered Dodgers, retiring 12 men in a row.
