

Tomorrow D-Day For Lion Booters

Its first victory in 11 games with Penn State—that's what Bucknell's soccer team will be seeking when it comes to State College to battle the Nittany Lions at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow on Beaver Field.

Penn State's freshman team will play its second county league game immediately following the varsity tilt when it faces Milheim, State defeated Boalsburg, 5-3, in its first County league game two weeks ago.

The match will give Penn State a chance to tune up for successive home contests with Maryland and always troublesome Navy. The Nittany Lions edged Maryland, 1-0, last year, but the Mid-dies held State to a 2-2 deadlock. Both games were away.

Iron Out Rough Spots

Rain, mud, and Terp goalie Eric Baer were responsible for the narrow win over Maryland, but sloppy play was the cause of the State stalemate with Navy.

Bucknell should give Coach Bill Jeffrey a chance to iron out the rough spots in the Lion play, of which there will probably be many. Such is usually the case in opening day matches, especially in such a highly skilled sport as soccer.

Penn State will enter the fray "fit as a fiddle," except for Ralph Hofmann, left halfback, who has a slightly sprained knee. Previously it was right fullback Paul Dierks who was sidelined, but he showed up at practice yesterday and booted the circular object with unusual force.

Pinezich Main Threat

Hofmann, however, will probably be ready to open tomorrow, according to Jeffrey, who can still kick the ball with the best of the team.

State's main scoring threat will come from sophomore Jack Pinezich, who kicks the ball viciously with either foot. Pinezich will handle the center forward position. The New Yorker wrenched his back last year, but found time to tally six times.

The other four spots will be handled by Bill Norcik, Ellis Kocher, Don Shirk, and Hubie Kline.

Shirk, Kline to Start

Norcik (outside right) and Kocher (inside right) make up the right side of Penn State's forward line, which is filled with speed and ball handling. Norcik and Kocher are both speedy and excellent ball handlers.

On the left side, Don Shirk (inside left) and Hubie Kline (outside left) will start. Shirk was a disappointment last year but has looked impressive this year with good ball handling and fancy shooting. Kline played third base for Penn State's baseball team this year.

At halfbacks, it will probably be Hofmann (left); Captain Kurt Klaus (center); and Frank Follmer (right). Dierks and Hap Irvin will start at fullbacks and Bob Harris will open at goal.

West Virginia Game Tickets on Sale

Tickets for the Penn State-West Virginia football game Oct. 11 are on sale at the Athletic Association office, 107 Old Main.

Students may obtain tickets from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. until next Friday.

Baseball Parade

It's been bruited about that Brooklyn pitching is "one deep" in depth, that depth being Joe Black.

Well, Joe Black wasn't pitching in yesterday's 7-1 Brooklyn defeat. The Dodgers sent another righty, Carl Erskine, to the hill. He had little luck with the Yanks, who are no mean craftsmen with the bat.

The Bombers sent their number-two righthander, Vic Raschi, against the powerful Brook batting array, which looked pretty weak in garnering its three paltry hits.

Raschi is a strong boy and might be ready to pitch again as early as Sunday.

Brooklyn must stand or fall on its batting attack. The pitching just can not match that of the Bombers. While the hurling might have let down against the first division clubs, the batters blasted all pitchers with equal skill.

The Yankees, on the other hand have an offense which, if not equal to that of the Dodgers', is more than adequate when combined with their great pitching staff.

Certainly a big three of Reynolds, Raschi, and Lopat is a formidable array.

Today the Stadiumites send Ed Lopat, a lefthander, against the Bums. This should prove interesting in that the righty-swinging Brooks have lost only four games all year to south-paws.

Brockton Greet 'Rocky'

BROCKTON, Mass., (AP) — Rocky Marciano, world's heavy-weight boxing champion, came home to a hero's welcome yesterday while a police-estimated crowd of 60,000 to 100,000 persons roared their approval.

The conqueror of Jersey Joe Walcott was buried under an avalanche of confetti and torn paper during an open-car ride of three miles through the city's business center and environs.

Police said that the ovation was even greater than that accorded the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

What happened to the old rah rah spirit?

IT WENT OUT WITH RACCOON COATS and rumble seats. And we say good riddance.

Today's college man doesn't die a thousand deaths when the school loses the big game. And his clothes are no longer flashy, fancy and gaudy.

For his apparel, he looks to Manhattan to reflect his quiet, self-assured manner... his insistence on quality, comfort and casualness. Like this button-down Oxford with just the proper roll to the collar. Or this fine white piqué with an eyelet tab collar with just the right degree of difference.

We understand the modern college man. We concentrate our efforts, not on fads, but on making a better shirt. Ask for Manhattan... and you'll see how true this is.
