

Crusading Politicians Exchange Verbal Blasts

Ike Calls President Demagogue

SEATTLE — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower called President Truman "an expert in political demagoguery" last night.

In a full dress review of the problem of water and power development, the general said the Truman administration is devoted to one idea, "the idea of a whole hog federal government."

In a speech prepared for delivery in Seattle, the Republican presidential candidate argued for more local control of the great reclamation and power projects.

Follows Truman

He ridiculed the contention of the Democrats that they initiated such works in the West. On the contrary, he said, the Democrats have used the Reclamation Act and the Federal Power Act to increase and perpetuate their own power in Washington.

Eisenhower's stopover here for a major campaign speech followed a day of whistle stopping across the state of Washington along the same route as that taken last week by President Truman.

The general, hugely enjoying waves of laughter, blistered the President on his cross state run.

Hits Prosperity Issue

In Seattle, he hit at what he called the Democrats' top heavy federal control in reclamation and power development.

In Spokane Eisenhower said the Democrats have no copyright on the formula for prosperity.

"After all," Eisenhower told an exuberant audience, "There was a very prosperous United States here for a long, long time before we had the Fair Deal."

Issues Touched

On one point, however—the part Eisenhower played in formulating U.S. foreign policy—the general did not answer the President.

But the foreign situation was about the only issue that did not bring from Eisenhower a rejoinder at Spokane. He touched all the other bases — corruption, inflation, labor, a farm program, taxes, and the big regional issue in the Northwest, reclamation projects and electric power.

Truman Hits Eisenhower's 'Surrender'

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN — President Truman declared yesterday that he does not believe the American people will elect as president a man who would "surrender to Taft, McCarthy, Jenner and Kem."

Truman directed his attack on Dwight D. Eisenhower's senatorial supporters in a train-side talk to a cheering crowd at Helper, Utah.

He referred to Republican Senator Taft of Ohio, Senator McCarthy of Indiana and Senator Jenner of Missouri.

Truman said Helper got its name from the helper engines that pull the trains up the mountains hereabouts.

"I think the Republican party needs some helper engines," he said. "It would take a whole roundhouse of helper engines to get the Republicans elected."

"As for their candidate," the President added, "I don't think helper engines will get him out of the trouble he is in." He said the Republicans have a "terrible record."

Police Chief Joe Myers estimated the Helper crowd at 3000.

Red Fire Halts Marine Drive

SEOUL (AP)—U.S. First Marine Division troops, supported by tanks and planes, fought from dawn to noon yesterday for a Western Korean hill position but intense Chinese Red mortar and machine gun fire pinned them down within 50 yards of the top.

The Marines withdrew from the hill, northwest of Korangoo near the 38th Parallel yesterday afternoon while Allied fighter bombers pounded it with bombs and jellied gasoline.

The position was lost last Friday when the Chinese launched a series of hill grabbing attacks along the extreme western end of the front.

Besides hammering Red front line positions, Allied fighter bombers yesterday attacked the Red transportation system in North Korea, knocking out rail tracks in more than 30 places.

Adlai Bids For Votes In 25 States

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson drives into the windup of his presidential campaign today with a bid to voters in 25 states with more than two-thirds of the electoral votes at stake on Nov. 4.

The Democratic presidential nominee moves into the campaign finale counting on heavy help from President Harry S. Truman but with party coffers reportedly a bit bare.

Stretching ahead of Stevenson are nearly 15,000 miles of travel, spider webbing out from his home base here to both coasts and the Deep South.

Michigan Speech Vital

The Illinois governor will show up in around 100 cities for whistle stops, prop stops and a series of minor and major addresses. Eight nationwide television radio speeches are on tap.

The tee off point today is Michigan, and an address on "the entire subject of communism"—external and internal—is scheduled for Detroit's Masonic Temple and a radio TV audience. Wilson Wyatt, Stevenson's campaign manager, said "the speech in Detroit will be one of the most important in the campaign."

Teaming Up Uncertain

Both the Democrats and the GOP have agreed on one point—that the communism issue is one of the hot tests of the campaign.

Whether Stevenson and Truman will team up in a joint appearance somewhere along the line still is uncertain. There will be a near miss later in the week in Missouri, when President and nominee will visit the state a day apart.

But in the first public pronouncement of the subject from the Stevenson camp, Wyatt told newsmen today he believes Truman's "give 'em hell" swing along the whistle stops definitely is helping the Democratic cause.

"He's reading the record and pointing out the facts," Wyatt said.

An Open Letter to Students

Penn Staters,

Hi gang. This is the easiest way that the Used Book Agency could reach everyone of you. The UBA would like to thank ALL students who bought and sold their books at the UBA in the TUB.

The UBA offers tremendous savings on used books. But, before this year, few took advantage of these savings. This semester, because more of you have learned about the UBA, that agency has handled more books than ever before in its history.

Watch for the next opening of this agency, an agency that is worked by students to serve students.

Sincerely,
UBA Personnel.
