

Council Defers Rec Hall Vote

By LIX NEWELL

The council of Leonides, independent women's organization, last night postponed decision on the proposal to set aside 300 seats in Recreation Hall for faculty, townspeople, and graduate students until each dormitory unit representative could discuss the idea with her group.

The council voted to have each dormitory unit representative

Panhel To Discuss Floral Gift

A plan for the systematic presentation of flowers by sororities for Chapel services will be discussed at the Panhellenic Council meeting at 7 tonight in the Alpha Epsilon Phi suite in Simmons Hall.

Marlene Heyman, president of the sorority governing body, said that two members will be appointed to the All-College Cabinet leadership project committee set up to acquaint interested students in the workings of campus government.

The possibility of having speakers address sorority groups after their weekly meetings is being sponsored by the Penn State Christian Association. A list of persons willing to speak to the groups would be made and each sorority would then invite those who interest their particular group.

There will also be a discussion of the competitive motorcade suggested as an activity for the Homecoming game during Pennsylvania Week. Interfraternity Council and Panhel will work together with one sorority and one fraternity entering a car.

Final plans and arrangements have not been completed as yet.

Dungaree Drag Ticket Sale Begins at SU

Tickets for the Dungaree Drag, informal girl-ask-boy dance sponsored by Cwens, sophomore women's hat society, will go on sale today at the Student Union desk in Old Main, Baylee Freidman, chairman, said yesterday. They are $1.50 per couple.

The Drag will be held from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday in Recreation Hall.

One of the features at the dance will be the wearing of home-made corsages by the men. They will be made by their dates and prizes will be awarded to the men who display the most unusual corsages. Last year's inventions ranged anywhere between plain leaves and elaborate fruit displays.

Proceeds from the Drag will go toward scholarships for worthy sophomore women. Last year four $50 scholarships were awarded from the profits.

This is the seventh annual Drag with the Sadie Hawkins spirit prevailing. This year, Miss Freidman said, should have even greater spirit since it is leap year.

Tickets are also available from active members of Cwens. Jack Huber and his orchestra will play. Cider and pretzels will be served.

The TAVERN
Menu for Tuesday, Oct. 7

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI WITH MEAT SAUCE
MIXED SEAFOOD PLATTER
BEEF PIE
CALF'S LIVER
PRIME SIRLOIN STEAK

help solicit funds for the Lion suit worn by Alex Gregal at the home football games. Hilda Hogeland and Gertrude Kreider will collect the funds on Friday to be turned in to the Daily Collegian office.

Appointments to the All-College Cabinet leadership project committee were Elizabeth Johnson, Margaret Kahn, and Lila Spinner. The committee was set up to train students in parliamentary procedure and other workings of student government.

WRA Representative

Committee heads were appointed for the Regional Independent Student Convention to be held here Nov. 6, 7, and 8. They are Miss Hogeland, registration; Miss Hogeland and Gertrude Kreider, housing; Helen Norris, banquet; Lavanche Leith, decoration; Phyllis Griffith, food; Sara Leslie, recreation; and Guyla Woodward, secretarial staff.

The representative to the Women's Recreation Association and her alternate are Ethel Wilson and Margaret Lamaster. They will help coordinate women's intramural sports.

Sergeant-at-arms Named

Since the proposal that Leonides affiliate with the National Independent Student Association must be approved by the Dean of Women's office, it was tabled until the next meeting. The constitution of Leonides also must be approved by the national organization before it can be accepted.

Miss Leith was appointed sergeant-at-arms by Vivian Peterson, president.

Miss Johnson and Miss Leith are co-chairmen of the combined committees of decoration and refreshments for the Autumn Ball. The ball is being co-sponsored by Leonides and the Association of Independent Men and will be held Oct. 18 with Jack Huber's orchestra. Entertainment by members of both groups is being planned for the intermission.

Discuss Turn-Around

A suggestion that Leonides meetings be rotated among the women's dormitories will be investigated by Nancy Lockwood and Dina Topper.

Possibilities for having a turn-around day will be reported upon at the next meeting by Miss Kreider, Evelyn Wolfson, Miss Griffith, and Katherine Kingsley.

Miss Peterson said that the next meeting will be held at 6:45 p.m. Monday in the second floor lounge of McElwain Hall.

Zeta Tau Alpha

The sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha serenaded their new ribbonees Monday night.

Thursday night the sisters and their ribbonees had a spaghetti dinner at the Tavern.

You can cut

Bread and Classes, too . . .

But HAIR is "Our" Job!

Any cut you desire, we'll do. Come in today!

ALICE and DON HAIRDRESSERS
107 S. Allen Street

Films to Feature Satire, Drama, Adventure on Four Continents

To take some of the guesswork out of moviegoing, the Daily Collegian will print twice a week, information concerning films currently playing in State College theaters. This service is in no way intended as an evaluation of any film's worth.

Man-eating pirana fish, head-hunter tribes, and a white goddess will be seen in "Strange World," an adventure yarn playing today and tomorrow at the Cathaum. The story concerns a young man who returns to the Matto Grosso jungles of South America to search for his father, who disappeared with a lost scientific expedition in search of a golden Inca goddess some years before. He finally discovers the scientist's daughter living with a friendly Indian tribe and through her learns the fate of the rest of the expedition.

Reportedly shot in the uncharted interior of the Amazon jungle, the film recalls the disappearance of explorer Lt. Col. Percy Fawcett, who led an expedition into the same territory in 1925.

Angelica Hauff, a Viennese ballerina and actress, plays opposite Alexander Carlos, performer on the Brazilian stage. The feature begins at 1:46, 3:46, 5:46, 7:46, and 9:46 p.m.

"The Duel at Silver Creek," a western which pits law and order against a band of frontier claim jumpers, will be at the Cathaum Thursday for one day only. Starring Audie Murphy, Howard Hughes-protege Faith Domergue, and Stephen McNally, the film boasts Murphy's first fade-out clinch. Formerly, it seems, he has been riding off into a Technicolor sunset leaving behind him a sad heroine . . . either because he's in the custody of a frontier posse or he doesn't think he's right for the girl.

As the Silver Kid who's as fast with the cards as with the six-shooter, Murphy comes through and helps a crusading law officer (McNally). Miss Domergue, who plays a member of the outlaw gang in her third film, was groomed for ten years while under contract to Hughes before her first picture was released. She has appeared in "Where Danger Lives" and "Vendetta."

Susan Cabot heads the supporting cast as Dusty, "who could handle a shotgun better than most women could a skillet." The film is in technicolor.

The feature plays at 1:55, 3:53, 5:51, 7:49, and 9:47 p.m.

Alec Guinness, England's top comedian, makes a shambles of the textile industry in the J. Arthur Rank comedy, "The Man in the White Suit," playing today, tomorrow, and Thursday at the State. The satire, of the sort the British do so well, ribs the follies of both labor and capital.

As a laborer in a textile mill, Guinness steals time off to conduct research experiments in the plant's laboratory and comes up with a new kind of cloth which will never wear out and which is impervious to soil. His joy is short-lived, however, when laborers and other textile manufacturers band together to prevent production of the cloth, which they see as a threat to the entire textile industry.

The unusual sound track for the film was worked out by blowing through a glass tube into a pan of glycerine and by forcing water intermittently through a small opening with a microphone amplifying the sound.

Feature time is 2:05, 3:58, 5:51, 7:44, and 9:37 p.m.

Adapted from Alan Paton's best-selling novel about the color line in South Africa, "Cry the Beloved Country" will end a two-day run at the Nittany tonight.

Canada Lee, Charles Carson, Sidney Poitier, and Joyce Carey are seen in the atmosphere of unbelievable poverty, moral disintegration, and second class citizenship that is the lot of the dark-skinned persons in South Africa.

The realistic, and not-pretty drama may be seen at 6:15, 8:01, and 9:40 p.m.

"Diplomatic Courier," a spy thriller, plays Wednesday at the Nittany with Tyrone Power, as a State department "messenger boy," in the title role. Patricia Neal, as a world-weary Indian girl, and Stephen McNally, as a colonel in the U.S. Military Police, are also caught up in this Iron Curtain saga. The plot, which concerns an illusive set of microfilms containing the Soviet timetable for the invasion of Yugoslavia, will unfold at 6:15, 8:02, and 9:41 p.m.

Esther Williams, Joan Evans, and Vivian Blaine don WAVE uniforms for MGM's musical comedy "Skirts Ahoy," playing Thursday and Friday at the Nittany. Billy Eckstine, Debbie Reynolds, and the DeMarco sisters give out with Harry Warren's songs in a portrait of life at the WAVE barracks at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. Complete with Esther's famed aquatic performances, the picture starts at 6:15, 8:06, and 9:50 p.m.

MISS BARBARA STOCK

Okay Joe?
Attention All Social Chairmen!

More than likely, you are the one responsible for the selection of a photographer for social affairs of your house. If you appreciate the quality of LION STUDIO portraits, then you'll be pleased with our party coverage which will include group and individual pictures. Call the LION STUDIO for prompt, courteous, and professional service — You will personally receive a portrait of you and your date with our compliments. Call Today

The Lion Studio
Phone 4454

Penn State Club, Philotes Choose Mr., Mrs. Most

Norma Cooper and John Hughes were chosen "Mr. and Mrs. Most" at a mixer for independent men and women sponsored by Philotes and the Penn State Club Saturday night in Simmons Hall playroom.

Miss Cooper was given a scarf, and Hughes received a handkerchief.

Wrist, ankle and head measurements, room number and age of contestants were totaled to determine the winners. Highest totals won.

Music for dancing was provided by records, and doughnuts, cider, apples, and pretzels were served.

Now's the time to ask her to the FIRST All-College Dance of the year, the . . .

AUTUMN BALL

JACK HUBER'S ORCHESTRA

SAT., OCT. 12

REC HALL — 9 to 12

Tickets Only $2.00 — INFORMAL —

AIM and LEONIDES

Don't Miss It!