

PSCA Asks Women To Roll Bandages

By HELEN LUYBEN.

Bandage rolling is "one of the few community services women can really do on a college campus," Mary Jane Wyland, program coordinator of the Penn State Christian Association, said yesterday.

She explained the work being done each Tuesday in 304 Old Main where 20 women gather to roll bandages for the Centre County Hospital.

"The girls come, or send a substitute to work for them, and roll bandages for one, two, or three hours," Miss Wyland said. "We could use 20 more like them."

The service is a PSCA project, and as such should include independent as well as sorority women, she said. However, the women now working for the hospital all are members of sororities. "I would say that at least 15 of the 19 sororities on campus are represented, but we would like to see freshmen women and the upperclass independent women too," Miss Wyland said.

Sororities have discussed the project at their meetings, whereas up to now the independent women have not been informed.

The service is very much needed and appreciated by the community, according to Miss Wyland. A nurse's aid comes each week to instruct the girls from 2 to 5 p.m. "Some of the girls have volunteered to go over to help in the snack bar at the Bellefonte Hospital, too," Miss Wyland said.

Senate to Vote On Election Of Senators

The Women's Student Government Association Senate will vote tonight on a proposal to elect both freshman senators rather than to elect one and appoint one as has been done in the past.

The meeting is scheduled for 6:30 tonight in the WSGA room in White Hall.

Senate previously voted to handle all publicity on campus for the Pennsylvania Week activities, and suggestions for advertising projects will be discussed. They have arranged to advertise movies concerning Pennsylvania being shown by the Hat Society Council, and to put a display in the showcase in the West Dorm lobby.

Frank Gullo, associate professor of music, and Hummel Fishburn, head of the Music department, will lead the all-College sing being sponsored by WSGA. It will be held Nov. 9 in Schwab Auditorium with a Mardi Gras theme. Final arrangements will be made tonight.

Discussion of the proposal to set aside 300 seats in Recreation Hall for faculty, graduate students, and townspeople will be discussed. It was tabled at the last meeting so that members would be able to get available information.

Alpha Sigma Phi

Alpha Sigma Phi recently initiated Emil Borra, Charles Metzger, John Note, and Richard Wahl.

Prof Will Sing In Program

Herbert W. Beattie, assistant professor of music, will sing at 8 tonight in a musical program at Westminster Hall, the first at Westminster Hall, the First Presbyterian Church.

The program, sponsored by the music section at the State College Woman's Club, is open to the public.

Accompanied by Edwin Gamble, Beattie will sing four Elizabethan selections. He will also sing bass in 11 songs from "Liebeslieder Walzer, Opus 52" by Brahms, which will be performed by several members of the music section.

Selections from Bach, Mozart, and Haydn will be performed by a woodwind trio. Members of the music section will also offer Schubert's "Piano Quintet, Opus 114" and "Suite for Violin, Clarinet, and Piano" by Milhaud. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Martha Ramsey.

Beattie was at one time a soloist with the Buffalo Philharmonic Symphony and sang with the Rochester Oratorio Society and Civic Orchestra last season. He is a composer of works for chorus and solo voice.

Loux-Lu-

(Continued from page four) that at most houses high standards of conduct are the accepted code. It does not look well to make 52 fraternities off-limits to first-semester women. It is a slap at Interfraternity Council and bad publicity for the College.

And what about the freshman women who, unlike the letter-writer, observe the College rules and stay out of fraternities? We can't agree with Miss X, who says the alternative is Hort Woods, for practically every weekend some campus group sponsors a dance . . . and there are plays and movies.

Interest in a book or film always rises when the censors stamp it "forbidden." We are afraid that freshmen will develop a similar unhealthy interest in fraternities for the same reason. Instead of accepting them as a perfectly normal part of college life, frosh will build them up in their minds as houses of sin. How will they act when they first visit fraternities after a semester's indoctrination? Quite possibly in the wildest Mata Hari fashion until they learn better.

By being sheltered these students are not learning how to cope with both the pleasant and unpleasant aspects of life. Somehow that's what we thought college was partly for.
