Lions Scrimmage Frosh In Preparation For W. Va.

It was back to the scrimmage lines yesterday as Nittany gridders began hard preparation for their first away assignment of the season against West Virginia Saturday.

The varsity defense ran against the frosh, who simulated West Virginia plays, while the varsity offensive unit squared off against the Nittany reserves.

Physically, the Lions left the William & Mary game hurt by the loss of wingback Keith Vesling. With a dislocated elbow, Vesling will not see action until the Nebraska game Oct. 18 at the earliest.

Schoderbek Hobbled
The loss of Vesling is particularly vexing to Coach Rip Engle. As Rip expressed it, "we finally found a hard runner from the wingback position."

Scrappy Pete Schoderbek is also on the hobbled list with a "charley horse" but Pete will probably be in at defensive guard against the Mountaineers Saturday.

Encouraging, however, is the return of lefthalf Buddy Rowell to full scrimmages. Rowell had been leading for the starting "a" back position until a series of ankle injuries kept him on the shelf.

Statistics help shed light on why State is unbeaten in three games. Rushing has been the Lions best source of advancement with a net of 539 to the opponents 499. But the air lanes also have been well used by State with 437 yards gained to the opponents 308. Quarterbacks Tony Rados and Bob Szajna have hit on 48 per cent of their tosses.

Second in Offense
Lefthalf Dick Jones is second in total offense with 159 yards in 40 carries, not counting distance of his scoring pass plays.

In the rushing department, Matt Yanosich—who pleased Engle with fine blocking and faking in addition to excellent ball carrying—owns the best yards per try average. Matty has picked up 139 yards for a 4.6 average.

Arnelle Leads Wingmen
Passing, Szajna owns the highest per cent with six completions in nine throws. Rados, although

The Dragons rolled over Dorm 44 27-0, last night, in the first of four intramural football games. The game was the highest scoring game of the season with the Dragons scoring twice in each half. The passing of Bill Body to Don Port and Jim Robinson set up the Dragons' first two scores.

Dorm 44 couldn't get their offensive game rolling during any part of the game due to many penalties and "heads up" defense of the Dragons.

Phi Eps Win
Phi Epsilon Pi squeezed out a 1-0 win over Phi Sigma Kappa in an overtime thriller. The Kappa's pass defense stalled several scoring attempts of Phi Epsilon Pi led by Ernie Dublesky.

Nevertheless the combination of Dublesky to Lesser finally pushed the ball back to Phi Kappa's 36 yard line to give Phi Ep's the overtime win.

Skip Gerdes and Steve Hanky led the passing attack of the Mustangs as they eked out a 7-0 win over the Panthers. With only one minute left to play, Gerdes passed to Tom Hollarn who lateraled to Jerry Hall. Hall looped a pass to Steve Haky who ended the 65 yard play by scoring the six pointer. Gerdes passed to Hollarn for the extra point giving the Mustangs a 7-0 win.

Nighthawks Win
The fourth quarter again proved to be the scoring period when the Nighthawks pushed over a touchdown to defeat Dorm 40, 7-0. The Nighthawks threatened several times in the first half but had their rallies cut short by numerous penalties. The TD was scored by Bill Haines when he caught a lateral from Jim Erb. The extra point, which completed the Nighthawks' first win of the season, was made by Russ Pryor on an end run.

Tonight's schedule reported by Dutch Sykes, assistant director of intramurals, is:

7:00 p.m. Dorm 41 vs Atherion Hall
7:45 p.m. Delta Sigma Phi vs Kappa Alpha Psi
8:30 p.m. Coal Crackers vs Hustlers
9:15 p.m. Delta Chi vs Theta Kappa Phi

It's over!
And who can say that it wasn't one of the most exciting, dramatic World Series ever?

What tenseness in the sixth game when Allie Reynolds struck out Roy Campanella with the bases loaded! What action-filled drama as Duke Snider joined the immortals Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig as the only player to blast four homers in a World Series!

There was the great three-hit hurling of Vic Raschi in the second game; the stellar fielding of Furillo and Andy Pafko and Billy Cox, the great comeback of Johnny Mize.

There were heartaches and disappointments, too. Brooklyn's big clutch hitter, the man who could be counted on to drive in the runs that mattered all season, Gil Hodges, went hitless in the fall classic. Carl Furillo and Scooter Rizzuto didn't hit like the old pros they are, but they went into every game with the poise and hell-for-leather play that marks a champion.

The world champion Yankees took home their fourth straight Series flag. They proved themselves champions all the way.

The Dodgers, too, played like champions. Every game was fought down to the last out. The National League can be proud of its representatives in the World Series.

The question still remains: Can mere mortals match the spirit of the Ruths and the Gehrigs and the Lazzaris that seems to be packed into each and every Yankee uniform?
