STATE COLLEGE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 9, 1952

FIVE CENTS

Chess Team to Ask Cabinet for Funds

A recommendation for an All-College Cabinet appropriation of $100 per semester to cover trips made by the College chess team will be presented to cabinet at 8 tonight in 201 Old Main.

Howard Kalodner, chess club president, will make the proposal. He will explain the reasons for the proposal, including the fact that in the past all tournament participation has been paid by the individual members.

Cabinet will handle most of the organizational work of Religion in Life Week, if the recommendation to be presented by William Griffith is passed. Griffith will suggest that in addition to the Penn State Christian Association and the Inter-Religious Council jointly sponsoring Religion in Life Week, that a cabinet appoint a chairman whose work would be to plan and administer the program. He would be granted authority to appoint any necessary personnel to carry out the program, according to the recommendation.

AIM Board Approves Autumn Ball

By BILL JOST

The Board of Governors of the Association of Independent Men last night approved the action of its executive committee in planning the Autumn Ball and approved necessary expenses up to $425.

The Autumn Ball, an informal dance jointly sponsored by AIM and Leonides, is scheduled for Oct. 18 in Recreation Hall with Jack Huber featuring the music. William Shifflett, AIM president, appointed 11 to serve on committees for the regional National Independent Student Association convention scheduled for the College Nov. 7 and 8. They will meet with Franklin Reese, chairman of the convention committee, at 8:30 tonight in 104 Willard.

Thomas Kidd was appointed board parliamentarian.

Thomas Dennis, president of Nittany Council; Donald Douglass, president of Pollock Council; Edward Thieme, president of Town Council; and Robert Hance were appointed to the ticket and program committee for the Autumn Ball.

Shifflett recommended that each of the AIM councils enter a float in the Pennsylvania Week motorcade to be held Oct. 18.

NROTC to Cite Two Students

Creed A. Erickson and John O. Carney, seniors enrolled in Navy ROTC, will receive commendations for naval proficiency at 2 p.m. today in 10 Sparks.

Francis L. Albert, fourth naval district chaplain, will address 344 students enrolled in the NROTC program at that time.

Capt. Rowland H. Groff, College NROTC head, will present letters of congratulations to the two seniors from the officer in charge of the U.S.S. Roanoke for their proficiency aboard the ship last summer.

Erickson has already been awarded a wristwatch for placing first among 337 NROTC midshipmen from 17 colleges aboard the Roanoke on its eight-week cruise to Europe.

Capt. Albert, a Navy chaplain for 33 years, 17 at sea, will discuss the moral basis of leadership as part of the Navy's program.

Alumni Need Lodging

Need for private homes to house alumni returning for Homecoming Weekend was disclosed yesterday by Ross B. Lehman, assistant executive secretary of the Alumni Association. Especially in need are rooms for Oct. 18.

Persons having an extra room and who desire to make it available should call College extension 456.

Revised Recreation Plans Announced

By MARSHALL O. DONLEY

Dancing following Saturday night basketball, boxing, and wrestling activities in Recreation Hall has been planned by the School of Physical Education and Athletics. This addition to the College recreation schedule is part of an expansion program planned by the Phys Ed school, following the suggestions of its new dean, Ernest B. McCoy.

Dancing will be held immediately after the games and will be free to students attending the games.

Rec Hall will also be open from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Sundays for co-educational participation in volleyball, ping-pong, shuffleboard, and similar sports.

Men students will be permitted to use Rec Hall facilities from 1 to 5:30 p.m. Sundays.

The school has also announced that two football fields will be constructed within the next week in the Nittany-Pollock area for student use.

McCoy explained that the Sunday activities have been planned after consultation with the religious groups on campus and in town with the understanding that they will not interfere with religious group meetings.

It is for this reason that Sunday morning activities are not included in the program, McCoy said.

Consider Other Improvements
The dances following Saturday games will probably be record dances occasionally, McCoy said, but plans are being made to have live music on hand.

McCoy expressed hope that if the response to the additional recreation plans is sufficient, more areas may be improved and opened for student use.

All-College Cabinet, in joint session with the Athletic Association, recently heard a number of McCoy's suggestions for recreation expansion.

Included in his suggestions was a plan for division of student tickets for Rec Hall games so that one half the students would be assured of a seat at these events. He pointed out that many other colleges and universities use this plan very successfully. He cited as an example Wisconsin University, where the student tickets are divided into three groups because of the excess of students over the number of seats in their gymnasium.

Plan Reserved Seats
The division of tickets could be accomplished by distributing two

English, English Everywhere, Asks Literature Prof

English can and should become the world's international language, says William L. Werner, professor of American literature, in a five-page essay, "English for the World," presented as a leading article in the current issue of the Saturday Review of Literature.

Werner, who has conducted the "Bookworm" column in the Centre Daily Times for more than 20 years, claims English is the language most suited for international use because it is the world's only major non-dialectal language and is spoken by 225 million people.

English is constantly being spread in foreign countries by American and British troops, Werner points out, as well as by scholars, tourists, the radio, motion pictures, and international festivals.

In his article, Werner traces the development of proposed international languages, and mentions the work of Dr. Frank Laubach, cousin of John Laubach, All-College president, who used phonetic alphabets for various Filipino dialects.

Werner says he wrote the article because of his interest as an English teacher in simplifying the English language—"all those misspelled words all these years," he said.

Nixon Will Meet Uncle Tomorrow

Dr. Ernest L. Nixon of State College and his nephew, Sen. Richard M. Nixon, Republican candidate for vice president will have their first reunion of the campaign tomorrow morning when the Nixon special train reaches New Castle.

Dr. Nixon is known throughout the state for his scientific contributions to the Pennsylvania potato industry. He has been with the College for more than thirty years and it was early during this period that he established a close relationship with his nephew, Senator Nixon, while a student at Duke University, frequently visited his uncle's potato farm near Penn State.

Penn Ticket Applications Pour in

Applications for student tickets for the Penn State-University of Pennsylvania football game have been pouring into the College Athletic Association office since the mailing period began.

One woman in the office was kept busy from 11 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. yesterday opening the envelopes containing the student applications, according to Harold R. Gilbert, graduate manager of athletics.

At 3:45 p.m. yesterday the afternoon mail arrived and the process had to be resumed. Gilbert said yesterday he could not estimate the number of applications that arrived for the 7000 student tickets available.

The mailing period for applications ends at 5 p.m. today. Applications with money orders or checks drawn for the exact amount and payable to the Penn State Athletic Association are to be mailed to the Athletic Association. Checks or money orders must contain the student's address. One check or money order can pay for more than one ticket. Tickets cost $3.90 and $2.60.

Tickets will be distributed from 8:30 a.m. to noon and from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Oct. 23 and 24 at the Athletic Association ticket office windows in Old Main. Students who submitted applications will be told then whether or not tickets are available to them, Gilbert said.

Athletic Association books must be presented at the time of distribution to obtain tickets. Signatures on the Athletic Association books must be the same as those on the applications submitted. One person may pick up a group of tickets, Gilbert said.

Griffith will further propose that the program be conducted on a colloquy instead of a lecture basis, as has been done formerly. The program, as Griffith will recommend, would be considered an institute in human relations, and would come at the same time as National Brotherhood Week.

Samuel Nowell will present a report of the Campus Chest committee in which he will recommend that Scholargram be dropped as one of the recipients of chest funds and the National Student Service Fund for Negro Students be added. He will also present recommended changes for the faculty campaign. The campaign will begin Nov. 4 and continue through Nov. 18, according to Nowell's report.

Loyalty Group Refuses To Release Statements

The special committee investigating College loyalty procedures will not release any statements regarding its meetings and procedures until its report is presented to President Milton S. Eisenhower, the committee has announced.

The Daily Collegian has been attempting for a week to learn when the committee is meeting, who the chairman is, what actions it is taking, and when it expects to make its report.

The committee feels that its work can be better accomplished without publicity of its actions, it said. It is also believed by the committee that releasing the name of its chairman will place him in an awkward position. The only specific duty of the chairman is to preside over the committee's meetings.

The committee has been holding meetings, at unknown intervals, but will not estimate when its report will be completed.

The committee was formed by the President to investigate College loyalty procedures and the results of these procedures. He suggested formation of the committee in a letter to the Faculty Advisory Council last month. The council approved the President's suggestion for a six member committee, and added a seventh member to the committee in the event of a tie vote.

Members of the committee are Francis T. Hall Jr., professor of electrical engineering; A. Witt Hutchison, professor of chemistry; Corliss R. Kinney, professor of fuel technology; Paul H. Margolf, professor of poultry husbandry; M. Nelson McGeary, professor of political science; Kinsley R. Smith, professor of psychology; and Sheldon C. Tanner, professor of business law.

The committee will cover the dismissal of Wendell S. MacRae during its investigation. MacRae was dismissed because the loyalty committee could find no reason to certify him as loyal.

The special committee was suggested by the President after a letter was sent to him by a group of faculty members and other interested persons.

15 Will Select Queen Finalists

Fifteen outstanding juniors will soon be named to a committee to select ten Miss Junior Class finalists, Irvin White, chairman of the committee, announced yesterday.

White said this committee will be selected by H. K. Wilson, dean of men; Pearl O. Weston, dean of women; George Donovan, manager of associated student activities; Richard Lemyre, junior class president, and John Laubach, All-College president. This group has already appointed White chairman of the selection committee.

The selection committee for Miss Junior Class will narrow the field of entries to ten, White explained. He said the procedure for narrowing it further will be announced later.

Homecoming Queen Pictures Due Today

The deadline for submitting entries for the Thespians' Homecoming Queen contest is 4 p.m. today. Photographs no smaller than 5 by 7 inches with name, address, and vital statistics of each contestant may be turned in at the Student Union desk in Old Main before the deadline.
