

Cabinet Hears Request For Chess Allocation

All-College Cabinet heard a recommendation for a $200 allocation to the chess team to be used for intercollegiate competition at a meeting Thursday night.

Peter Betley, club president, presented the recommendation and explained that in the past all traveling expenses were paid by the individual members of the team. In 1950 the team won the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate championship. Last year the team lost out in the state finals. Betley estimated that it costs each man about $50 per year when traveling on tournaments.

The proposal was not voted on since cabinet must lay appropriations of more than $100 on the table for one week.

Campus Chest To Start

In presenting the Campus Chest committee report, Samuel Nowell reported that the committee had dropped Scholargram and the Leo Houck Cancer Fund from the list of fund recipients. The National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students has been added and other additions are still being considered, Nowell said.

As a result of cabinet's approval of Nowell's recommendation, the Campus Chest campaign will begin Nov. 4 and continue through Nov. 18.

Part of Campus Chest plans include arrangements for two movie trailers to come to State College, a display in the Athletic Store window through the week of Nov. 3 to be decorated by Phi Sigma Sigma sorority, who has volunteered its services to the chest committee, and a speech by Rabbi Arthur Lelyveld when he visits the campus for the dedication of the new Hillel Foundation.

RILW to be Tri-Sponsored

A change in the dates for freshman and sophomore class office nominations was approved. Final nominations were changed from Nov. 2 to Oct. 26. Preliminaries were moved up from Oct. 26 to Oct. 19.

As a result of a recommendation by William Griffith, acting chairman of Religion in Life Week, this year's program will be tri-sponsored to enable more student planning and participation. The sponsors will be the Penn State Christian Association, the Inter-Religious Council, and All-College Cabinet.

A student chairman will plan the RILW program for the first time. He will have the authority to appoint any number of students to committees he deems necessary. John Laubach, All-College president, appointed Griffith as chairman.

Recommends Appointments

John Hoerr, editor of 1952 Student Handbook, presented five resolutions to Cabinet, four of which were approved. The fifth resolution, that All-College Cabinet allocate $421.17 for expenses incurred in publication of 1952 handbook will be voted upon next week since it is an allocation of more than $100.

The other recommendations included the following: that the handbook staff be appointed by February; that the Encampment citizenship committee recommendations be included in the 1953 edition; that the code of sportsmanship be a permanent part of the book; and that investigation be made into the possibility of joining the pamphlet entitled

Home Ec Dean Addresses 70 At Convention

Grace M. Henderson, dean of the School of Home Economics, yesterday addressed more than 70 members and faculty advisers of the American Home Economics Association at the first session of their annual three-day convention at the College.

Mary Jane Wyland, program coordinator for the Penn State Christian Association, and Sarah Baughman, national president of the Home Economics clubs, will address the meeting today.

The group heard Dr. William M. Smith, Jr., professor of family relationships, speak last night at a banquet at the State College Hotel.

Discussion groups and evaluation meetings will continue today.

Fifty-five colleges located in Delaware, Maryland, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia are represented at the convention.

Fashion Editor Will Speak

Approximately 160 women journalism majors have been invited to attend an informal tea from 3 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday in McElwain Hall lounge.

The tea is sponsored each fall by Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional and honorary journalism fraternity. Guest speaker will be Lenore Brundige, women's fashion and feature editor of the Pittsburgh Press.

Miss Brundige spent her girlhood on a ranch in Colorado. She studied journalism at the University of Denver. During her junior year she started working for the Rocky Mountain News (Scripps-Howard). After graduation she continued working for the News until she transferred to the Pittsburgh Press (Scripps-Howard) nine years ago.

Constance Matlavage is general chairman of the tea. On Monday Miss Brundige will be guest of Theta Sigma Phi at luncheon. Phyllis Kalsion is president of the fraternity.

Council to Plan Phys Ed Mixer

Final details of the "Fizz Ed" Mixer will be made at a meeting of the Physical Education Student Council at 8 p.m. Monday in 105 White Hall.

The mixer, for all physical education majors and faculty members, will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Thursday in the White Hall gymnasium.

Council faculty advisers Ruth E. McFeeter, instructor in physical education, and Harold B. White, assistant professor of recreation, are assisting the council in planning the mixer.

The two-hour program will include refreshments, games, and dancing.

Thespian Show Tickets To Go on Sale Monday

Tickets for "Don't Stop Now," the Penn State Thespians' Homecoming Weekend production, will go on sale Monday at the Student Union Desk in Old Main.

The show, an original musical revue, will be presented Thursday, Friday, and Saturday in Schwab Auditorium.

Tickets for Thursday night will be $1. The price on Friday and Saturday will be $1.25.

Paris Theme To Be Viewed At Hort Show

A division of the Livestock Pavilion will become a miniature of "Le Grand Central Market" of Paris Oct. 18 and 19 when pomology students set up exhibits in keeping with the main theme of the annual Horticulture Show: "A Parisian Market."

Fruits from the College orchards, including numerous varieties of apples, pears, peaches, grapes, apricots, plums, and crab apples, will be arranged in this section as French vendors display their wares for a day's sale. Ronald Bloom, pomology chairman, explained.

However, the fruit display is only one of several being prepared for the annual student show, sponsored by the Hort Club. James Boodley, show manager, stated. Floriculture, vegetable breeding, ornamental horticulture and landscaping displays in keeping with the main theme of the show are now being arranged.

IFC Group Studies New Point Proposal

The Interfraternity Council committee that will award a cup to Penn State's outstanding fraternity is considering a proposal that houses receive credit under the point system for taking part in civic projects, William O'Malley, committee chairman, has announced.

Under the present system, points will be awarded on the basis of scholarship, intramural athletics, house activities, and evaluation by other groups. A new amendment to cup regulations states that presidents of extra-curricular activities will receive one extra point.

Judging team members and chairmen of the livestock and horticultural shows will not receive points as was announced yesterday, O'Malley said. The IFC voted down the amendment.

To Evaluate Each Other

The mechanics in such a system will call for detailed reports which must be submitted in authorized form so they can be checked and evaluated, O'Malley said. He explained that the point system would run from spring to spring and that the trophy would be awarded at the IFC initiation banquet.

An evaluation system by other groups will play a major part in the program, O'Malley said. He explained that fraternities will be permitted to vote for the ten most outstanding fraternities in first to last sequence. Sororities will be requested to do the same. Points will be awarded accordingly, he added.

To Receive Cup

Other members of the committee headed by O'Malley are John White, Beta Theta Pi, and Richard Altman, Beta Sigma Rho.

The fraternity named outstanding house will receive a cup, rotating each year to the winner. Any house winning the cup two years in succession will become permanent owner of the cup. However, a memento cup will be presented to any house that has had possession of the cup for a year.

Dance Registration Set for Tuesday

Registration for a seven week course in Latin American dancing will be open Tuesday to the first 200 applicants at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

The lessons, sponsored by Interfraternity Council, cost $1. They will be taught by Rosario de Murrillo, Bolivian student.

Instruction will begin Oct. 27 with five classes of 40 persons each. They will be held 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the TUB.

Ticket Sales For Forum To Continue

Season tickets for the 1952-53 Community Forum series will continue on sale at the Student Union desk in Old Main until 8 p.m. Nov. 10, night of the first forum performance. The official season membership campaign ended yesterday.

A set of reserved seat tickets must be obtained by exchanging the season ticket card at the Student Union desk for admission to the five forum programs in Schwab Auditorium. Exchanges may be made from 1:30 p.m. Oct. 27 to 8 p.m. Nov. 10.

Two lines will be set up at the desk, instead of the usual one, to expedite ticket exchange. Persons wishing seats in odd lettered rows may obtain them in one line, even lettered rows in the other. No person may present more than six cards to exchange for adjacent reserved seat tickets. Seats may be chosen from seating charts of Schwab at the time of exchange.

Marquis Childs, syndicated Washington news columnist, will appear Nov. 10 on the opening program of the series. His daily column, "Washington Calling," appears in more than 150 newspapers throughout the United States. Childs has traveled in Europe, the Middle East, and the Far East and holds the Sigma Delta Chi award for Washington correspondence.

Also appearing in the series are Elsa Lanchester, nightclub entertainer and character actress, presented by Paul Gregory Dec. 8; Walter Judd, Republican congressman from Minnesota, Jan. 9; Hodding Carter, Southern newspaper editor and author, Feb. 23; and Begum Ikramullah, Pakistan stateswoman, March 4.

Senior Class Slates Meeting

The senior class will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday in 10 Sparks, Theodore Kimmel, class president, said yesterday.

The agenda will include a discussion concerning the possible elimination of final examinations for eighth semester students, Kimmel said. Suggestions for the senior class gift, the orchestra for the Senior Ball, and the June commencement speaker will also be discussed, he said.

Kimmel said the possibility of a class day or President's reception for February graduates will be considered.

Ag Eng Senior Elected National ASAE Head

Morris Schroeder, a senior in agricultural engineering, has been elected national president of the student branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

Schroeder, a member of Delta Theta Sigma fraternity and Coaly Society, agricultural honorary, is also president of the local chapter of ASAE, which was chosen to publish the national ASAE student publication this year.

Monday is Deadline For Ed LaVie Photos

Monday is the last day seniors in the School of Education may have their pictures taken for the 1953 LaVie.

Engineering seniors may have their pictures taken at the Penn State Photo Shop, official LaVie photographer, from Tuesday to Oct. 22.

Men are asked to wear suits, white shirts, and ties. Women are requested to wear white or plain colors.
