

Army Seeks To Preserve Win Streak In Tilt With Lion Harriers Tomorrow

Last fall, Army's unbeaten cross country runners were attempting to end Penn State's nine straight dual meet winning record . . . and they did with the help of Dick Shea.

Tomorrow afternoon the situation will be slightly altered, for Coach Nate Cartmell's thinclads will strive to preserve their 15 consecutive dual meet log . . . and the former Lion mentor hopes Bill Cory will do the trick.

Intercollegiate cross country and two-mile ace Shea, who virtually carried the Cadets to three successive heptagonal crowns and two straight undefeated seasons, has graduated.

Plans Strategy

At the outset of the 1952 season, Coach Cartmell had the old "crying towel" out and claimed he didn't have anyone to fill Shea's shoes.

After Army's opener with Villanova, however, Cartmell was so impressed with Cory's "showing that he immediately began to plan his strategy for the State meet.

In the Cadets 23-35 routing of the Main Liners, Cory covered the 4-mile 300 yards course in 22 minutes, 44 seconds for first place. Teammate Lew Olive placed second and Captain Bob Day was fifth.

The time was good enough for Cory to win the race, but it doesn't compare favorably with the Nittany harriers' times which were posted practically the same time three weeks ago.

17-46 Score

Three Lion thinclads—Lamont Smith, Red Hollen, and Captain Jack Horner—ran under 21 minutes and Jim Hamill and John Chillrud ran under 22 minutes.

The next weekend against Providence, the Soldiers rolled up a 17-46 score, as Captain Day led the pack with a 27.09 clocking over the five mile West Point course. Cory didn't run.

Last Saturday against Dartmouth, Day finished first again in 26.54 seconds, as Army took the first five slots with a 52 second spread between the first and fifth man. For the second straight week, Cory didn't run. Neither did Lew Olive, who has been a consistent second and third place man for the Pointers.

Gives Cory Rest

This is the last dual meet of the campaign for the Cadets and guess who's name is listed in Army's starting lineup?—Cory and Olive.

Evidently, Cartmell figured that since his team had enough depth and the opposition was not too tough, he could afford to give Cory a rest and let him concentrate on the Lion meet. That's just the way things went, as his squad easily rolled past this fall's opponents without the services of Cory.

Finishes 11th

Before the season began, it was reported that Cory appeared to be the best of the lot in early workouts. Last fall the tall, lanky fourth classman was a bit inconsistent. The year of experience, however, apparently has helped the 22-year-old harrier.

In Army's upset win over the Lions last fall, Cory finished 11th in 27.43 seconds.

After a three week rest, it'll be interesting to see how Cory will withstand the fast pace that Smith, Hollen, and Captain Horner have been known to set.

Lineman of Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Maryland's husky 235 pound tackle, Dick "Little Mo" Modzelewski, won lineman of the week honors yesterday in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Thus the Maryland Navy game Saturday at College Park, Md., gains an added feature. Pitted against each other will be Modzelewski and Steve Eisenhauer, the Navy guard who was named lineman of the week seven days ago.

Journalism Fraternity Pledges 11 Women

Eleven women journalism majors were pledged by Theta Sigma Phi, national women's honorary and professional journalism fraternity, Monday night.

They are Mary Lewis Adams, Grace Davis, Shirley Gable, Elizabeth Harlor, Lynn Kahanowitz, Evelyn Kieler, Helen Louise Luyben, Eliza Newell, Patricia Nutter, Sarah Sapper, and Marian Ungar. President Phyllis Kelson officiated.

The first toll road in the United States was believed to have been built in 1786 in Virginia.

Fraternities, Independents Win in IM Swimming

Sigma Chi had an easy encounter with Theta Chi last night when they took the opener at the Glennland pool by a 31-10 score.

Phi Delta Theta subdued Tau Phi Delta in the second event, 27-14. The Penguins squeezed out a 21-18 victory over Dorm 37.

SX took every event in their 31-10 win over Theta X. Bob Homan turned a 35 in the free style opener. Dave Heckel copped the back stroke honors for the winners with a 51.2. Breast stroker Bob Ganner went home with a first place time of 38.4. Dave Douglass and Dale Clemens teamed up to compile 16.2 points in the diving department.

Phi Delta's Tom Smith placed first with a time of 37.6 in the free style competition. Joe Gartry chalked up another first place for the victors with a 38.4 in the back stroke. Henry Miller defeated all comers in diving with 12.8 points.

Dick Foster placed the only first for the losers, Tau Phi Delta, with a time of 46.9 in the breast stroke racing.

The Penguins and Dorm 37 fought to the final minute in their nip and tuck 21-18 encounter. The Penguins copped two firsts. "Duke" Miller splashed his way to a very impressive win in the 60 yard free style swim. Duke was clocked at a flat 33. The College record, that was set in 1950, is 32 seconds.

Lou Rossi copped the first place honors in the breast stroke competition. Lou turned in a time of 39.5. This was only 1.1 seconds off his own record of 38.4 that he set last year at Glennland pool. Dorm 37 capitalized on their diving and their first place win in the back stroke swim to keep
