

Winning Float

HEADS TURNED as the huge, nodding head of Lambda Chi Alpha's winning motorcade float greeted the crowds around Beaver Field Saturday. The float symbolized Pennsylvania's agriculture, industry, and armed forces.

Lambda Chi Victor In Float Competition

Lambda Chi Alpha, with a towering float symbolizing Pennsylvania's contributions to agriculture, industry, and the armed forces, won the competitive motorcade before the Homecoming football game Saturday.

Tau Kappa Epsilon was second, and Chi Phi-Kappa Kappa Gamma and Phi Gamma Delta-Delta Delta won honorable mention.

Practice Teachers To Order Gowns

January graduating seniors who will be practice-teaching the last eight weeks of this semester have been asked to sign up for caps and gowns this week at the Athletic Store. Friday is the last day for registration.

Invitations and announcements may be ordered at the Student Union desk in Old Main on the same days. Deposit for the cap and gown will be $5; invitations and announcements, 10 cents each. Other January graduating seniors will order their caps and gowns, invitations, and announcements in December.

Blue Key Applications Due at SU Today

Applications for Blue Key, junior men's hat society, must be handed in at the Student Union desk in Old Main by 5 p.m. today, according to Theodore Browne, secretary-treasurer.

Letters of application are to include the student's All-College average and extra-curricular activities. Fourth and fifth semester students with an All-College average of 1.0 or better are eligible for membership.

Memorial Presented To Groff

George Weidman "Daddy" Groff, who for nearly 40 years served Penn State at Lingnan University, Canton, China, was presented a memorial plaque recognizing these services in Chapel Sunday morning.

During most of Groff's years in China, the Chapel offering was contributed to the agricultural work he was carrying out. This project, known as "Penn State-in-China," was largely due to the efforts of Ralph Levi Watts, former dean of the School of Agriculture, and Groff.

When the Communists took over the Canton area several years ago and "Daddy" Groff was forced to leave, the funds were first used at his oriental plant experimental station in Florida. It was hoped that he and Richard Pride, his co-worker at Lingnan, could soon return to China. Last year it was decided to discontinue the project altogether and find a new use for the Chapel offering. John Henry Frizzell, chaplain emeritus, presented the plaque to Groff. This plaque will hang at Ralph Watts Lodge, the Penn State Christian Association cabin on Tussey Mountain, and another like it may be seen in the PSCA office, 304 Old Main.

The inscription on the plaque reads "In appreciation of the collaboration of George Weidman Groff and Ralph Levi Watts, dean of Agriculture, the Pennsylvania State College, who from 1907 to 1945 furthered the mission of Penn State-in-China, alumni and friends have contributed funds for Watts Lodge and have erected this tablet.

"May the memory of the fruitful friendship and Christian living of Dean Watts and "Daddy" Groff remain ever fresh here in the vale of old Mount Nittany and to the uttermost parts of the earth."

IFC Workshop Banquet Tickets on Sale

Tickets for the third annual Interfraternity Council Workshop banquet to be held Saturday at the Nittany Lion Inn are on sale at the Student Union desk in Old Main at $3.25 each.

Fraternities that have made reservations are requested to get their tickets before 5 p.m. Friday. Houses making reservations will be charged for tickets not picked up. Robert Frame, IFC banquet chairman, said.

Cabinet Approves Six Food Proposals

All-College Cabinet has approved six recommendations of the Student Encampment sub-committee on dormitory food.

The approved recommendations are:

1. All-College Cabinet should coordinate the work of the several food committees and have these groups select from their membership responsible students to work in close cooperation with the menu planning committee of the Food Service.

2. All-College Cabinet should request the Food Service to serve a choice of meat or fish on Fridays. This plan is already in operation.

3. All-College Cabinet should inform the student body of the manner in which the price of meal tickets is computed, in order that students may better understand the reasons for the non-transferability of meal tickets.

4. All-College Cabinet should inform the student body of the College policy regarding the sale of meal tickets to students who live off-campus.

Meal tickets are available to students who do not live on campus, but most persons are unaware of the program, according to Joseph Haines, food committee member.

5. All-College Cabinet should inform the student body of the policy regarding meal tickets for guests.

Haines pointed out that meal tickets for guests are also available to students who make the request. If the policy were made known to more students, it would be an advantageous plan, Haines said.

6. All-College Cabinet should inform the student body of the practical reasons for restricting coeducational dining to exchange dinners.

In drawing up these resolutions, the sub-committee on dormitory food discussed the problems with Mildred E. Baker, director of Food Service, Haines said. The discussions took place during workshops Sept. 4-6 at the Student Encampment at the Mont Alto.

The encampment was held for the purpose of discussing problems existing on the student, faculty, and administrative levels. Cabinet previously approved recommendations of the student-faculty relations, recreation, and student leadership sub-committees.

Council to Consider New Hat Societies

Hat Society Council will meet at 7:30 tonight in 204 Old Main to discuss the proposed sophomore men's hat society and senior women's hat society.

Plans for a pep rally to be held before the football team leaves for Michigan State will be discussed.

Waggoner to Speak

Prof. David Waggoner of the English Composition department will speak on "Stories and Poetry" at Belle Lettres Club at 7 tonight in the northeast lounge of Atherton Hall. He will use illustrations from his book to be published in March.

Rushing Film To Illustrate Fraternity Life

The second part of the Interfraternity Council rushing program, designed to orient new men students toward fraternities, will get underway with a movie illustrating fraternity life, "A Toast to Our Brother." The movie will be shown at 7 and 8:30 tomorrow and Thursday in 119 Osmond.

The rushing program is designed to create a greater source of men for fraternity rushing, IFC president Arthur Rosfeld, said. At the same time, he added, the program will dispel any false impressions that might be existing about fraternity life.

The magazine, "Penn State Fraternities," has already been distributed to many of the new students, and the remainder will get theirs soon. Cards listing fraternity preference have been included with the booklets. These cards will be collected Oct. 31 and compiled into a list that will be distributed to all houses.

Concluding the rushing program will be an open house with all houses participating, from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday.
