

3 Coed Groups Plan Mardi Gras Weekend

A sing, dance, and the annual Mortar Board-sponsored Mardi Gras will be presented by three women's organizations in a Mardi Gras Weekend, Nov. 7, 8, and 9. Mortar Board, senior women's honorary society, will hold the Mardi Gras from 8:30 p.m. to midnight Nov. 7 in Recreation Hall. The weekend gets its name from the event featuring carnival booths set up by sororities and other women's groups.

Leonides OK's LaVie Assessment

The All-College Cabinet's proposal that freshmen be assessed $2 for LaVie was approved by Leonides Council at its meeting last night.

The reserved seating plan, which would set off 300 seats in Recreation Hall for faculty alumni, and grad students, was also approved by the council.

The council also voted to favor the establishment of some sort of organization that would be comparable to a senior women's hat society.

A committee of six girls with Hilda Hogeland as chairman was appointed to serve with members of PanHel to organize a mummies' parade for the football game during Junior Week.

Joan Konopinski was chosen as the Leonides entry for Belle Hop Queen.

The council decided to use its same theme as last year, "Strike It Rich," for its Mardi Gras booth. Volunteers to work in this booth during Mardi Gras may sign up with Vivian Peterson in 415 McElwain.

Clarence Fagan was chosen as Leonides' candidate for Mardi Gras king.

A committee to plan a joint social function with AIM was also set up by the Council. This function would not only include members of the two independent organizations, but also guests from other campus groups. The purpose of the function would be to foster better relations between the various groups.

Phi Kappa Sigma Honors Alumnus

J. Orvis Keller, director of General Extension Services, was honored by Phi Kappa Sigma Saturday night for 43 years of service to the fraternity.

His portrait, painted without his knowledge from photographs, was unveiled and hung over the fireplace mantle. He also was given a wrist watch.

Keller has been secretary-treasurer of the fraternity's alumni corporation for 30 years.

Coed Nominations Close Tomorrow

To Crown King
Chimes, junior women's activities honorary, will take over the middle spot of the weekend with a dance from 9 p.m. to midnight Nov. 8 in the TUB. The Women's Student Government Association Senate will round out the weekend with the all-College sing from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Nov. 9 in Schwab Auditorium.

A Mardi Gras King will be chosen by penny votes at the Friday night event in Rec Hall. He will reign that night and at the Chimes dance. Groups planning a carnival booth may nominate a candidate by submitting a 5 by 7 inch photograph to Joan Hutchinson, 109 McElwain, by Oct. 29.

Jenkins to Play
An engraved bronze cup will be presented to the group taking in the largest number of tickets at its booth. Tickets will be priced at 10 cents each and general admission into Rec Hall will be 15 cents.

Jack Jenkins and his orchestra will play for Chimes' informal dance. Tickets will be $1 a couple.

No admission will be charged for the sing, to which students, faculty, and townspeople are invited. Nancy White, publicity chairman, said. Hummel Fishburn, head of the Music department, and Frank Gullo, professor of music, will lead the singing.

Chaplain to Speak On Christian Voter

The Rev. Luther H. Harshbarger, College chaplain and executive secretary of the Penn State Christian Association, will speak on "The Christian Goes to the Polls" at the PSCA meeting at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 304 Old Main.

This will be the last of a series of discussions in which PSCA has examined aspects and issues of the presidential election campaign, and explored the responsibility of Christians as citizens.

Greeters to Give Free Ball Tickets

If the Autumn Ball and the Dungaree Drag have left you flat broke, you'll be glad to know you have a chance to win a free ticket to the Greeters Club's Belle-Hop Ball.

Each night this week, beginning tonight, three names will be announced over station WMAJ. If these persons, whose names will be picked at random, call George Moore, publicity chairman of the dance, at 3188 within ten minutes, they'll receive free tickets to the dance.

The informal dance is scheduled from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday in Recreation Hall. Music will be furnished by Jim Erb's Penn State Blue Notes. Tickets are $2.40 per couple.

Ryukyuan Spend 2 Weeks at College

Three delegates of the Ryukyuan government spent the first two weeks of October at the College to study and get a better perspective of American life.

The three delegates, Masayoshi Harakuni, Gempo Hirayama, Masaru Miyasato, and Takashi Kuwahara, an interpreter, were invited to the United States by the Defense department.

Delegates, with Prof. Lee Carter of the Political Science department, were dinner guests of Kappa Delta Rho Oct. 10. The visit to the fraternity was designed to give the delegation an idea of fraternity life. Following the dinner they made a tour of the house.

After visits to Philadelphia and New York City the delegation will travel to Michigan State for another view of American college life.

Jane Ifft will have charge of the program. The meeting will be open to the public.

Marple to Be Chairman Of State WRA Convention

Mabel Marple, president of the Women's Recreation Association, will preside as chairman of the convention of the Pennsylvania division of the Athletic Federation of College Women to be held at the College Friday through Sunday.

Approximately 50 colleges and universities from the state will be represented at the convention. Business activities of the group will center around the convention theme, "WRA and Its Relationship to the College Campus."

Workshops Open to Public
Friday's activities will be limited to registration and informal get-togethers between delegates.

Workshop discussions, open to the public, will center around co-educational techniques, parliamentary procedures, and publicity techniques. Workshops will be held Saturday morning.

Saturday afternoon will be playday between the various institutions attending. Athletic participation will take place in White Hall and on Holmes Field.

Informal Mixer Planned
A formal banquet will be held Saturday evening at the Nittany Lion Inn. Guest speaker will be Mary Jane Draper, acting head of the Department of Physical Education at Ohio University.

Mimi Ungar, fifth semester journalism major, will act as toastmistress. The Jim Show Quartet and Robert Klug, pianist, will entertain.

Delegates to the convention will attend an informal mixer Saturday night at Sigma Pi. Jack Jenkins and his orchestra will play.

Barbara Wallace, vice president of WRA, is serving as chairman in charge of the convention arrangements.

Co-Edits

Alpha Xi Delta

New pledge officers of Alpha Xi Delta are Muriel Henderson, president; Dorothy Nein, vice president; Nancy Shultz, secretary; Dawn Weber, treasurer; and Velma Kaiser, song leader.

Nancy Mayhew, a transfer from the Ohio Wesleyan chapter, recently affiliated with the local chapter.

Beta Sigma Omicron

Recently initiated into Beta Sigma Omicron were Nancy Troland and Grace Thomas. Following the initiation, the new pledges served breakfast in the suite. The sorority held open house for alumnae from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Miss Barbara Wertz Okay Joe?

Bobbie, an attractive 20 year old junior, hails from Scotch Plains, New Jersey. Her blue eyes, blond hair and five foot two inch height make her an ideal candidate for Belle Hop queen. She's majoring in home economics and is a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

Congratulations Joan Hunter for winning the Homecoming Queen contest! We weren't surprised in the least. Do you remember being told during the sitting that you'd win at least one contest before the semester was over? You now join the ranks of many other winners who have had us take their portraits for contest purposes. To further attest to your beauty, some over anxious person broke into one of our display cases last Friday night in an attempt to steal your portrait. He succeeded in ruining the case and scratching the picture, but perhaps in the last minute reprieve left the portrait hanging.

For the discriminating few who appreciate something different, there are still a few openings left for Christmas portraits. You can't give a finer gift.
