SAM GREEN, State's roving backerup, is shown above making the perfect tackle to stop Nebraska's Jim Cederdahl cold in the fourth quarter Saturday on Beaver Field. This driving tackle helped halt the Cornhusker's final march of the game. Don Malinak, number 30, came up to help make the stop on a man already stopped. State blanked the Huskers, 10-0.

Penn State's 26-point per game football offense stuttered and stalled against a rock-ribbed Nebraska line Saturday, but the Nittany defense threw up an even more solid stone wall to make more than one touchdown or one Bill Leonard field goal unnecessary for victory.

Lacking the scoring punch that they flashed all season inside the opposition 20, the Lions frittered away countless opportunities before toppling the Cornhuskers from the ranks of the unbeaten, 10-0, in front of 30,000 pleased, but unawed Homecoming Day rooters.

The sunny Beaver Field shut-out—the gridgers' first since the middle of the 1950 season—gave the Lions their fourth win of the season and left them in the distinguished unbeaten class for Saturday's coming clash with devastating Michigan State.

A bruising defensive battle produced the Nittany game oddity this year, a scoreless first half, and saw the Lion ground attack smothered with only 37 net rushing yards yielded by the Nebraskians in the opening two periods.

Stalled at Goal

After incessant knockings at the goal line, State hit the end zone in the waning moments of the third quarter via a Tony Rados to Jess Arnelle pass. Leonard took second high-scoring honors with an extra point and a duplicate of his only other collegiate field goal kicked against the same Big Seven lads last year.

The pattern of the entire game was set in the first period. Both offenses drove strongly and rolled well until in the shadow of the goal posts. Twice in the first quarter State held the ball deep in Nebraska land but conked out.

Malinak Recovers

Early in the game State's fierce backerup Sam Green intercepted a deflected pass and swept back 19 yards to the Husker 45. Rados fired to end Joe Yukica—latter removed from the game with a torn knee ligament—who made a neat diving catch for eight yards and followed with another grab of a Rados jump for a first down on the 24. Then Nebraska's fine line swarmed in to stop the Lion running attack in a manner which became a habit in the first half. One series of downs later guard Don Barney bolted through the line to block a Johnny Bordogna punt and State's standout defensive end Don Malinak was on the ball at the Husker 37. Unable to move, Ted Kemmerer kicked out on the nine.

Beautiful trap plays up the middle drove to the State 43. Then the brilliant runner Bordogna bootlegged around end to the Lion 24 before Don Bailey made the stop. State held with Malinak and Stew Scheetz making one vital stop.

An exchange of punts and State had a big chance after recovering a fumble on the Husker 30. Matt Yanosich barreled to the 18 for a FD and he and Jones alternated to the 6 where a fumble fell under Nebraska paws.

A kick and the Lions were roaring at the door again. Rados passes to Yukica, Jones, and Arnelle carried 40 yards to the five-yard line.

LAMONT SMITH, swift sophomore cross country runner, was as tired as he looked above after covering the five-mile golf course and finished on the Beaver Field track. Smitty had just bucked the wind and Army's undefeated team to win with the good time of 26:35.4. Red Hollen and Jim Hamill came in behind Smitty to help give the Lions a 21-35 victory which snapped the Cadets' unbeaten string.

Cadets Running Streak Snapped By 21-35 Loss

By JOHN SHEPPARD

An era of unparalleled cross-country running ended for Army Saturday afternoon on the Beaver Field course.

After going through three consecutive unbeaten seasons and running up an amazing string of 15 straight wins without a loss, the Cassions were dealt a 21-35 upset hand by a spunky Penn State distance team.

It was the Cadet's first loss of the 1952 campaign against three wins, while State's log now reads 2-0.

With the exception of one point, the Lion's conquest was a carbon copy of Army's feat last fall. At that time, State's hill-and-dale squad had run up a string of nine consecutive dual victories until the West Pointers stymied their running attack, 22-35, over the Hudson course.

Paced by sophomore Lamont Smith, the Blue and White thin-clads pressed the Soldiers throughout the entire five-mile race and claimed the victory on the basis of gaining first, second, third, sixth, and ninth place. Army won fourth, fifth, seventh, eighth, and eleventh place to account for its 35 tallies.

Despite a strong wind as he was running the second and fourth mile, Smith set a terrific pace to lead the flock across the finish line in 26:35.4—his fastest clocking this season. Junior Red Hollen placed second; soph Jim Hamill, third; Captain Jack Horner, sixth; and Stan Lindner, ninth.

Army's point-gatherers were Bill Cory, fourth; Captain Bob

Day, fifth; Lew Olive, seventh; Dick Neu, eighth; and Bob Wray, 11th.

Nittany Bob Gehman and Hollen led the bunched-pack as they left the cinder track.

After the two-mile mark the field began to spread out. Smith, however, maintained his first place pace. Cadet Cory was now running a close second; Hamill ran third and Hollen fourth. The clock ticked out 10:08.

With Smith out front, Hollen pulled up to second, Hamill continued to run third, and Cory dropped to fourth place. The time at the third mile was 15:24.

The hill-and-dalers were running in the same order—Smith, Hamill, Cory—when they passed the four-mile mark.

Midway during the second period of the football game, Smith jogged into the stadium, some 50-

4 IM Grid Teams Gain Third Round

Last night the Mustangs, Alpha Phi Delta, the Nighthawks, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon all advanced into the third round of the I.M. football tournament.

In the opening game of the evening, the Mustangs, behind the passing of Lou Allen and Don Kelly, knocked the Nittany Cats out of the tourney.

After a Nittany pass went astray into the arms of Mustang Jim Gerdes, the Mustangs moved to the Nittany 40. Allen threw a long jump pass into the outstretched arms of Steve Hackey in the endzone. Allen sped around right end for the extra point.

In the second half the Cats made their bid on the running and passing of Bob Brown. Midway in the half Kelly grabbed off another stray Cat aerial and threw to Whitman on the ten from where Whitman flew to paydirt. The play covered 63 yards to end the scoring for the game. Final score, Mustangs 13, Nittany Cats, 0.

In a bitterly contested battle Alpha Phi Delta eked out a 1-0 victory over Alpha Zeta.

The first play of the second half found Russo hitting Peroth on the old sleeper play for 30 yards to the Zeta 20. However, an interception ended the only offensive threat of the game. In the overtime period double duty Russo ran and passed APD to the Zeta 30 where the game ended 1-0, APD on the long end.

Behind the hard running and passing of dandy Dick Wendler, the nighthawks outclassed the Cougars 13-0. Throwing to a host of glue fingered receivers, Wendler racked up five first downs without a score. On the last play of the half Wendler found Flickinger in the end zone with a 30-yard pass.

The second half was all Hawks. A Bryor to Haines pass set the stage for a Wendler to Haines to Rood touchdown pass. This ended the scoring of the evening with the Night Hawks eliminating the Cougars 13-0.

SAE breezed past AGR, 19-0, in the nightcap, thanks to the brilliant all-around play of Butch Hockersmith, lacrosse captain.

On the second play of the game SAE Tom Lewis waylaid an AGR pass on the loser's 10 and romped into the endzone. Then toward the close of the first half Hockersmith pitched to Dez Long, the play covering 20 yards for the TD.

Still rolling in the second half with the help of fine screen-passing, Hockersmith swept end for 16 yards and the final score. Hockersmith flipped to Bob Hartman for the extra point.

Soens Cops Grid Prediction Honors

Daily Collegian Assistant Sports Editor Ted Soens finished first in the weekly football predictions for the first time this year, as he selected ten winners out of 15 games, two games better than the grid coaches' representative, Sever "Tor" Torretti.

Collegian Sports Editor Jake Highton, however, retained his two-game lead in all-around percentage over the coaches. His log now reads 52 wins and 22 losses for a .703 percentage. The Lion football coaches have a record of 50-24 and a .676 percentage.

Sportswriter Bob Schoellkopf slipped into third place behind the coaches through his record of seven wins and eight losses during the past week, which pulled his all-around percentage down to .662.

Soens now has a total percentage of .635, still two games behind Schoellkopf.
