(Continued from page one) that is, pledging men with a higher average than the IFC requirement. Enforcement of study hours and awards to men with high averages would also encourage scholarship, he said.

Rushing chairmen heard Dr. Kent Forster, IFC adviser, list three responsibilities of fraternity men. These responsibilities, Forster said, are to the chapter, to the College, and to the rushees. He urged the rushing chairmen to get more rapid and better systems for getting the men.

The group also discussed the possibility of getting grades faster so pledging could be speeded up, and decided houses should let the rushee know as soon as possible whether or not he has been accepted by the house.

Social chairmen heard Mary E. Brewer, assistant to the dean of women, outline the duties of the social chairmen. These duties include, arrangement of exchange parties, entertainment of the faculty, and getting more chaperones. The group also decided fraternities needed good social publicity on a national scale and discussed IFC dating rules.

Public relations chairmen discussed relations with alumni and conduct of fraternity men when away from the College. The group also discussed the possibility of establishing a radio station to reflect the good in the fraternity system and give its background and history.

The public relations chairmen discussed the possibility of establishing an achievement dinner in all houses for outstanding alumni.

THESE HANDS ARE PRICELESS!

They protect the American way of life . . . our homes, our freedoms, our future.

These Hands, sensitively trained to respond acutely to the commands of an alert mind and courageous heart, are the hands of a United States Air Force Pilot.

The skillful touch of these hands attunes the blasting speed of modern jet aircraft to effective missions in discouraging any enemy. These hands are supremely capable of flying and fighting these machines with devastating effect.

These Hands belong to young, spirited American men (not supermen) who desire to live unmolested in a free America . . . who want to enjoy the same rights and opportunities open to all real American people.

These Hands belong to our sons - yours and mine. Youths who must decide today how they can share in defense of our nation and also better themselves. To insure greater chances of their success, today's college men should be encouraged to complete their education and then serve their country best by enlisting as Aviation Cadets in the U. S. Air Force.

Theirs is the choice of becoming either a Pilot or Aircraft Observer. After graduation as Second Lieutenants in the U. S. Air Force, they wear the silver wings of flying executives and begin earning nearly $5300 a year.

These Hands represent a man ready to qualify for this tremendous task because he is between the ages of 19 and 26½ years, unmarried, and in excellent physical condition, especially eyes, ears, heart and teeth. He possesses at least two years of college and the inherent urge to fly.

These Hands shape the destiny of America . . . the difference between our survival and oblivion. The U. S. Air Force needs the hands, the minds and the hearts of young Americans who desire to make the American way a greater way of peace and happiness for all.
