

WRA Convention Opens This Afternoon

70 Faculty, Student Delegates Expected From 30 Universities

Approximately 70 executive board members, faculty advisers, and student delegates will convene this afternoon in White Hall for the 15th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Division of the Athletic Federation of College Women.

Barbara Wallace, chairman of convention arrangements, estimated that 30 colleges and universities from the state will be represented at the convention. Invitations were sent to 56 institutions.

AEPI, KDR, TKE

To Entertain Band

Alpha Epsilon Pi, Kappa Delta Rho, and Tau Kappa Epsilon will simultaneously entertain the Penn State Marching Blue Band at 8:30 tonight.

The party will be only for band members, the three fraternities, and their dates. Entertainment will include dancing and refreshments.

ICSF Will Hold Party at Wesley

The Interchurch Student Fellowship will have its Fall Party at 7:30 tonight in Wesley Foundation.

The party was planned by the combined efforts of the Protestant student groups on campus. The fellowship council is made up of two delegates from each of nine groups.

The program will consist of square dancing and games. Refreshments will be served.

Committees in charge of party arrangements are Roger Williams Fellowship, games; Westminster Foundation, refreshments; Lutheran Student Association, decorations; and Wesley Foundation, general publicity.

Newman Club to Hold 'Shindig' Tonight

The Newman Club will sponsor a round and square dance at 8 tonight in the TUB. "The Shindig" will feature Halloween decorations.

Entertainment has been planned, and refreshments will be served at the informal affair.

Engagement

Black-Williams

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Williams of State College announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn, to George Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Black, Mechanicsburg.

Miss Williams was graduated from the College and is now on the staff of the University of New Hampshire.

Mr. Black, who has completed two years with the special services of the U.S. Army, is continuing his undergraduate work at the College.

Delegates will register from 1 to 2 p.m. today in White Hall. Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, will take the delegates on a campus tour from 2 to 5 p.m. After the tour, the delegates will be greeted at the first general session by Marie Haidt, director of women's physical education at the College.

Mabel Marple, president of the Penn State Women's Recreation Association and presiding officer of the convention, will give a welcoming address at the general session.

Standing committee meetings will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. Persons who are not in committee meetings will get together in informal groups and discuss the convention theme, "WRA and Its Relationship to the College Campus."

After an informal dinner at the State College Hotel, delegates will attend the co-educational recreation workshop from 8 to 9:30 tonight in White Hall. Harold B. White, assistant professor of physical education, will be discussion leader.

Delegates will rise early tomorrow morning for the second general session from 8:30 to 9:45 a.m. in White Hall. Preliminary resolutions will be drawn up from the first workshop. Parliamentary procedures and effective publicity techniques will be subjects of the 10 to 11:30 a.m. workshops following the general session. Leaders of these workshops will be Joseph F. O'Brien, professor of speech, and Edward L. Matil, professor of art education.

Playday will be held following the 1 to 2:15 p.m. general session tomorrow afternoon. Delegates will participate in athletic competition in White Hall and on Holmes Field.

A formal banquet at the Nittany Lion Inn and an informal mixer at Sigma Pi tomorrow night will complete the major convention activities.

Delegates will leave the campus Sunday afternoon.

The Pennsylvania chapters of Inter-Varsity will leave tomorrow for a fall conference this weekend at Camp Manaleath, Williamsburg. Anyone wishing to go to this conference may make arrangements at the meeting tonight or call La Rue Fritz, phone 2203.

Movies

British Humor, Southland Provide Movie Themes

State College movies offer a wide variety for theater-goers this weekend with features ranging from musical comedy and Southern renegades to sophisticated British humor.

"Springfield Rifle," based on the history of that famous gun, plays at the State today through Monday. Gary Cooper as a rugged frontiersman entrusted with a shipment of munitions manages to uncover a gang of pillagers and finds himself facing death as a Southern spy. Feature time for the Warner color film is 1:52, 3:47, 5:42, 7:37, and 9:35 p.m.

In "Just For You" Bing Crosby plays a successful composer-producer so wrapped up in his Broadway career that he neglects his teen-age children. As a lovely musical comedy star, Jane Wyman tries to patch things up but still manages to do quite a bit of singing on the side. The technicolor film at the Cathaum will begin at 1:42, 3:38, 5:34, 7:29, and 9:31 p.m.

A high-tension English drama, Long Dark Hall starring Rex Harrison and Lili Palmer, is the Tuesday follow-up with show time at 6:15, 8:09, and 9:45 p.m.

Science-thriller Unknown World finishes its Nittany run tonight.
