STATE COLLEGE, PA., SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 25, 1952

FIVE CENTS

Yale Head To Speak At Chapel

Dr. Liston Pope, dean of Yale University Divinity School, will speak on "We Privileged Few" at Chapel services 11 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

An ordained Congregational clergyman, Dr. Pope has served as associate pastor at Wesley Memorial Church in High Point, N.C., and as pastor of Humphrey Street Congregational Church in New Haven, Conn. He presently is a Gilbert L. Stark professor of social ethics and Associate Fellow of Saybrook College in Yale University.

Dr. Pope, who has received degrees from Duke, Yale, and Boston Universities, is author of "Millhands and Preachers" (1942) and "Labor's Relation to Church and Community" (1947), as well as editor of "Social Action Magazine."

He serves as trustee of the Phelps-Stokes Fund, chairman of the Congregational Council for Social Action, vice-president of the American Association of Theological Schools, chairman of the national advisory committee of the student YMCA, and is on the editorial board of "Christianity and Crisis."

As a part of tomorrow's service, the Chapel Choir will sing "To Thee Jehovah Will I Sing Praises" (Bach) and "Call to Remembrance" (Farrant).

George Ceiga, Chapel organist, will play as prelude "Our Father, Thou in Heaven Above" (Peters), as offertory "Adagio, Second Organ Symphony" (Wilder), and as postlude "Canzona Post Il Comunico" (Frescobaldi).

Forum Tickets Available Monday

Reserved seat tickets for the 1952-53 Community Forum series will be available beginning 1:30 p.m. Monday at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

Season tickets purchased during and after the recent campaign must be exchanged for a set of reserved seat tickets. Only holders of reserved seat tickets, not season tickets, will be admitted to Schwab Auditorium for the performances.

WRA to Continue Business Activities

Business activities of the 56 delegates to the 15th annual three-day convention of the Pennsylvania Division of the Athletic Federation of College Women will continue today in White Hall.

The convention, which got underway yesterday, is centering around workshop discussion on co-recreational techniques, correct parliamentary procedures, and effective publicity techniques. These topics are being tied in with the theme of the convention, "WRA and its Relation to the College Campus."

First on the schedule today is the second general session of the convention. At the first general session yesterday, Mabel Marple, president of the Women's Recreation Association and presiding officer of the convention, welcomed the delegates to the campus.

Lions to Test Spartans' 19-Game Win Streak

Parties to Name Slates

Final nominations and election of candidates for freshman and sophomore offices will be held by both Lion and State Parties at clique meetings 7 p.m. tomorrow. State Party will meet in 121 Sparks and Lion Party in 10 Sparks.

A change in the All-College election code this year requires a majority vote for election of a candidate. Members of the All-College elections committee will check matriculation cards of students at entrances to the meeting rooms.

Students will be checked against a list of clique members. Only those who have attended previous meetings are eligible to vote at final election of candidates.

Preliminary nominations for candidates were held by both parties Sunday. At that time Lion Party nominated 15 and State Party nominated five. Both parties elected class clique officers Sunday.

State Party will hold a steering committee meeting at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Pi Kappa Alpha. Lion Party held a steering committee meeting Thursday night.

The State Party freshman clique will meet at 7 p.m. Monday in 10 Sparks. The meeting was called by freshman class clique chairman Sandford Lichtenstien.

In an article yesterday the Daily Collegian erroneously reported that John Fink was freshman vice-clique chairman of State Party. Fink is sophomore vice-clique chairman. Jack McMeekin is freshman vice-clique chairman.

McMeekin and other freshman clique officers will be introduced at the State Party freshman clique meeting Monday night. Guest speaker at that meeting will be All-College President John Laubach.

Lion Party announced the selection of Thomas Keely as freshman campaign manager.

Take a Tip: Get a Belle

Belle Hop Queen Will Reign Tonight

The crowning of a queen will be the highlight of the Belle Hop Ball to be held from 9 to midnight tonight in Recreation Hall.

Jim Erb's Penn State Blue Notes will provide music for the annual informal dance sponsored by the Penn State Greeters Club.

The queen will be selected from one of five finalists—Andree Bloom, Jean Krewson, Barbara Patton, Maud Strawn, and Barbara Werts. Student applause and the judges' final decision will determine the winner. Judges for the contest are Robert Koser, assistant to the registrar; Richard Bower, assistant professor in hotel administration; and Eugene Folmer, secretary of the State College Chamber of Commerce.

The queen will receive a round trip weekend to the Penn State-University of Pennsylvania game. She will occupy the Royal Suite of the Penn Sheridan Hotel in Philadelphia. After the game a reception will be held in her honor. At her disposal for the weekend will be a Chrysler Imperial and she is scheduled to have television and radio interviews.

Today the five finalists are to be guests of the State College Hotel at a luncheon prior to the dance. On Sunday the queen and her escort will be the guests of the Eutaw House for dinner. Local merchants are also contributing to the queen's prizes.

Tickets at $2.40 may be purchased from a member of the Greeters Club, at the Student Union desk in Old Main, or 4E Home Economics. Tickets will also be sold at the door at Rec Hall.

Test Forms Due Nov. 1

Applications for the Selective Service college qualification tests to be administered Dec. 4 must be postmarked on or before midnight Nov. 1.

Applications may be obtained from Mrs. Sara E. Case in the Dean of Men's office.

Choral Director To Launch Recital Series

Bass singer Herbert W. Beattie, associate professor of music, will present the first in a series of faculty recitals at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

No admission will be charged for the program, which includes music by Purcell, Bach, Mozart, and Brahms.

Beattie, a new faculty member from Syracuse University, is director of the Penn State Women's Chorus, a group replacing Treble Singers. He teaches voice and music 5.

Edwin Gambel of the Music department will accompany Beattie and present a group of selections on the Virginal, an antique musical instrument.

Last season, Beattie was soloist for the Buffalo Philharmonic and the Rochester Oratoria Society. This season he will be singing the principal role in "Marriage of Figaro" with the New York City Center Opera Co. of Buffalo.

An interview with John Laubach, All-College president, is the feature article in the Independent newsletter which comes out today, Richard Rau, editor, has announced.

Expect 50,000 To Witness Topnotch Tilt

By JAKE HIGHTON
EAST LANSING, Michigan—Penn State's once-tied football team pits its modest five-game unbeaten streak here today against the longest collegiate winning string owned by the brawny, swift-striking Michigan State Spartans. The Spartans have a 19-game win streak.

Homecoming Day has swelled this college town so that nearly 50,000 are expected to bulge the walls of Macklin Stadium. The kickoff is scheduled for 2 p.m. EST.

Beat Michigan, Oregon State
Three national hookups—NBC, CBS, and Mutual—and State College's WMAJ will air one of the nation's outstanding grid attractions of the weekend.

The Spartans opened slowly with come-from-behind victories over Michigan, 27-13, and Oregon State, 17-14. Then the East Lansing Cyclone reached its peak of fury with crushing victories over Texas A&M, 48-6, and Syracuse, 48-7.

Penn State on the other hand has "finished with a flourish"—as Coach Rip Engle's wife terms it—on all five occasions this year. The Lions tripped Temple, 20-13; tied Big Ten leader Purdue, 20-20; bumped William and Mary, 35-23; defeated West Virginia, 35-21; and last week stopped unbeaten Nebraska, 10-0.

Lion chances for an upset against the nation's top-ranked team were hurt last week with the loss of Nittany end Joe Yukica. In Yukica's place the de-

Poly Sci Club To Hold Panel

"Question Hour" — the 1952 Election" will be the topic of a Political Science Club panel discussion at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in 102 Willard.

The first part of the program will be patterned from "Meet the Press" with four political science majors questioning a panel of two Republicans and two Democrats. The audience will be permitted to ask questions during the second part of the program. The meeting is open to the public.

Guyla Woodward and Terence McNamee will represent the Republicans while Melvin Rubin and Jules Lippert will answer questions for the Democrats. The questioners will be Donald Cutler, Jerome Gibson, Jerome Feinberg, and Marion Venzlawskas.

WD Dating Code To Be Discussed

West Dorm students will discuss the proposed West Dorm dating code at 6:15 p.m. Monday in the main West Dorm lounge.

The proposed code, which would permit unchaperoned dating in Hamilton, Irvin, and McKee Hall lounges, will be taken before the Senate committee on student affairs Tuesday night by Dean of Men Frank J. Simes. The code was brought up last semester, but no action was taken.

If the code is approved at the meeting of West Dorm residents, West Dorm Council will discuss the issue at 7:15 p.m. in McKee lounge, Robert Hance, council president, said.
