6 Council Elections To Begin

Freshman student council elections will take place tomorrow and Friday in six schools.

Edwin Tocker and Ronald Wertman were elected Monday to the Mineral Industries Student Council.

One man and one woman will be elected to the Physical Education Council. The election will be held in the two sections of Physical Education 58, a course in which all Phys Ed freshmen are enrolled.

Women candidates as freshman representatives to the council are Carla Deubel, Lois Giemme, Mary Hudcovich, Charlotte Klippel, Ruth Kronenwetter, Barbara Whiting, and Joan Wilson.

Candidates for freshman representatives to the council are Harold Brown, Paul Fisher, Walter Hochberg, Arthur Martynuska, Joseph Moore, Dean Mullen, and Steve Wishinsky.

Freshmen nominated for the Chemistry-Physics Student Council are Richard Borr, John Ferraro, Gerald Gerhart, Robert Harding, Hugh Hodge, Stuart Jones, Albert Jordan, Howard Levine, Richard Maass, Richard Madouse, John McCabe, Gene Showalter, Allen Starkey, Paul Strenge, Norman Sumner, and Calvert Wright. Voting will take place in Osmond Laboratory tomorrow and Friday.

The Education, Engineering, Home Economics, and Liberal Arts councils will hold elections tomorrow and Friday.

As the Agriculture Student Council is composed of club representatives, no school-wide elections are held.

Rushing Plan Called Success By IFC Head

The Interfraternity Council rushing program, which closed Sunday when fraternities held open house, yesterday was termed a success by IFC President Arthur Rosfeld.

IFC will step out of the rushing program for next semester after conducting a program designed to orient and acquaint freshmen and new students with the fraternity system, Rosfeld said. The program has increased the available source of men for fraternities, he added.

Approximately 75 to 100 men visited each house. Individual house presidents and rushing chairmen will now conduct their rushing programs.

The IFC will collect preferential cards distributed with the fraternity magazine, "Penn State's Fraternities," for compilation into a list for house distribution by Oct. 31.

Rosfeld warned freshmen not to pledge or accept bids for next semester and warned houses that they could not legally extend bids before the release of freshman grades.

Town Council to Meet

The AIM Town Council will meet at 7:30 tonight in 102 Willard. The council will discuss the blood drive and the proposed formation of an AIM Board of Control.

TODAY'S WEATHER

PARTLY CLOUDY, WITH SNOW FLURRIES

Formosan Consultant

DR. S. LEWIS LAND, professor of industrial education and director of vocational teacher education, leaves for Formosa this week to serve as Mutual Security consultant in charge of conducting a vocational survey of the island. Dr. Land will spend three weeks working from his main office in the capital, Taipei. The results of his survey will be used in setting up a nationwide industrial education program.

Armed Forces To Get Blood From Drive

Blood donated by students in the Nov. 11 and 12 blood drive will go to the armed services, Ronald Zimmerman, publicity chairman, has announced.

Three hundred donors are needed for the two-day drive, when the Johnstown Red Cross bloodmobile comes to the Temporary Union Building. Pledge forms are now available in 112 Old Main.

Students between the ages of 18 and 21 are required to have a release form signed by their parents. Both the pledge forms and the release forms are due next Wednesday in 112 Old Main. Appointments will be sent by mail to donors.

Six hundred and forty-nine pints of blood were obtained in last November's drive. Of this, 601 pints were turned into plasma and sent to Korea and various parts of Europe. Forty-eight pints were sent to Europe in whole blood form.

Compulsory Vote in AIM Rejected by WD Council

A motion that would require West Dorm Council officers to vote as the council voted on matters before the Association of Independent Men's Board of Governors was rejected by the council Monday night.

The motion was made by Louis Goslin, who was defeated last week for the council's presidency by Robert Hance after five ballots.

Goslin said the representatives should have voted for a plan, sponsored by Ernest B. McCoy, dean of the School of Physical Education and Athletics, to allot 300 seats at Recreation Hall athletic events to townspeople, faculty, and alumni. The plan was unanimously rejected by the AIM Board of Governors.

New Facts Change Votes
Bryson Craine, student government counselor for the West Dorm area, reminded council members that the plan for a student referendum on all proposed fees, presented last year in All-College Cabinet, would have passed if all cabinet members had followed the dictates of their groups.

Ross Clark, treasurer of the council, said the representatives

Political Scene Satirized in New Froth Issue

Today is Wednesday, not Tuesday, but it's Froth Day just the same.

"Elections," a satirical glance at the political scene, is the theme of the October issue of the humor magazine which goes on sale today on the Mall and at the Corner Room.

Beverly O'Connor, a dancer in the Thespian show, "Don't Stop Now," is the Froth Girl of the Month. And, fellows, you can take a second look. She measures only 5 feet 1, not 5 feet 11! Printers do make mistakes.

Other Froth features include "The Poll," a satire on Presidential election pollsters by Dick Neuweiler; "And Another Thing, Senator," a cartoonist's interpretation of a television interview by Carl McGrew; "And Furthermore," a campaigner's statements by Walter Sachs; "A Short History of Elections," by Don Lambert; and "My Life is an Open Book," an interview with a senator regarding his financial status.

Incidentally, those odd-looking fellows sporting the big signs and distributing Pogo buttons are only Froth's campaigners, the circulation staff.

Pollock Group Decries Lack Of Facilities

Pollock Council last night voted to voice discontent on the department of housing's failure to act on a complaint decrying lack of facilities in lavatories.

Secretary Vincent Yakowicz was appointed by Donald Douglass, president of the council, to present the complaints to housing in person. He was also designated by the council to request a change in some locks in the dorms. A complaint had been brought up by one of the council members that locks in the dorms were put on wrong, requiring little or no effort to get into a locked room.

Contributions from the dormitories in the area for the Lion suit amount to $11.56. More contributions are due to come in.

The treasurer's report to the council stated that the treasury received $6.72 from candy sales in the area last month.

President Douglass appointed Yakowicz permanent parliamentarian. Other appointments made were William Davis, council Sunday movies representative; William McCormick, Campus Chest solicitor for the area; and Donald Ludwig, blood drive donor solicitor.

Senate Group Defers Action On Date Code

No action was taken on the revised West Dorm dating code by the College Senate committee on student welfare yesterday, according to Dr. Henry S. Brunner, chairman.

He said the committee could not act on the code because it was not presented as a written proposal from a student group and could not be presented by a member of the faculty or the administration.

Details should be spelled out in the proposed dating code, he said.

Seating Plan Rejected by Engineers

Two proposed Recreation Hall seating plans were rejected last night by the Engineering Student Council.

The plans, proposed by Ernest B. McCoy, dean of the School of Physical Education and Athletics, would give 300 seats to faculty, alumni, and townspeople at athletic events and divide student tickets into two groups. As now proposed by McCoy, the tickets would be distributed for "anticipated full houses."

The plan to divide athletic association books was unanimously rejected. Two members voted for permitting the distribution of the 300 tickets to outsiders.

Paul Stine, elections committee chairman, said the ballot box for freshman council elections will be placed in front of Main Engineering tomorrow and Friday. In case of inclement weather, the box will be placed in the hallway at the engineering library.

Stine reported to council only one freshman is running for council from the Architecture department. If another person does not cast a write-in ballot, Stine said, no representative will be elected. The engineering council constitution requires at least two nominations for each office before a candidate can be elected.

Robert Watson, council president, asked, and the council approved, that he be replaced as representative of senior mechanical engineering students. Watson said he could not represent them on council because as president, he has no vote. He suggested that the man second in the elections last spring be named to his post.

Lowell Minor was named to head a special engineering ethics committee to study cheating in the school, and make recommendations on possible disciplinary action. A student in the school was suspended for cheating last week.

Fiction Contest Ends Saturday

The deadline for the fiction and feature contest, sponsored by the home economics publication, News and Views, has been extended to Saturday.

Subject material for the contest must deal with the Christmas season. Winning stories will appear in the December issue of News and Views.

Any undergraduate may enter the contest. Entries, 1000 to 1500 words in length, may be submitted to Miss Pitzer, 110 Home Economics. Prizes of $15 and $10 will be awarded to the two top entries.

Hat Societies to Hold Rally for Penn Game

A pep rally to raise spirit for the Penn football game will be sponsored by Blue Key, junior men's, and Chimes, junior women's, hat societies and Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, at 7:15 p.m. tomorrow in front of Old Main.

The Blue Band will lead a torchlight parade preceding the rally. John Flanagan has charge of the affair.

Board Action Referred

The plan is a revision of an earlier one introduced March 31 that called for unchaperoned dating and dating from 2 to 9 p.m. during the week.

In other action taken, the committee referred recognition of the Home Economics Student-Faculty Board to the sub-committee on organization control. The board was presented as a new organization.

The next meeting of the committee on student welfare will be 9 a.m. Tuesday, Brunner said.

Guild to Act 4 Greek Plays

Rehearsals have started for "Agamemnon," the first of a series of four Greek plays to be presented by the Radio Guild over WMAJ starting Nov. 10.

The 23 persons who will take part in the series are Gigi Anton, Ira Apple, Barry Fein, Alec Bellasov, Joanne Church, John Citron, Donald Colbert, Charles Falkers, Mesrop Kesdekian, Ruth Lyne, Patricia Marsteller, Mary Melvin, Pricilla Mullin, Craig Sanders, Ralph Sirota, Muriel Stein, Mark Wallace, and Neil Whaley.

Production staff will include John Price, Nancy Luetzel, Diana Koppelman, Ann Jones, and Gordon Greer.

Forms for Voters Available Today

Students who are going home to vote Tuesday may get class excuses forms at the Student Union desk in Old Main. The excuses must be signed by the election officials at the polls.

Students may sign up for rides on the sheets on the bulletin boards at the Temporary Union Building and at the West Dorm lounge.

In Pennsylvania, voters must register to vote at least a month before the election.

IFC Meets Tonight

Interfraternity Council will meet at 7:30 tonight in 219 Electrical Engineering.
