Prexy Casts Ballot

PRESIDENT AND MRS. Milton S. Eisenhower and son, Milton Jr., were among the first to vote in State College yesterday. After voting the Eisenhowers left for New York City to await election returns with the Republican Presidential nominee, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Penna. Elects 30 to Congress; 3 Eliminated

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4 (AP)—Pennsylvania voters today elected 30 representatives in Congress under the 1951 re-apportionment, with three incumbents certain of defeat.

The commonwealth's districts in Congress were reduced from 33 to 30 under the 1950 census. The present lineup is 20 Republicans and 13 Democrats.

The re-shuffled districts pitted present congressmen against each other in the 10th district of Northeastern Pennsylvania; the 26th district in Western Pennsylvania, and the 28th district of Allegheny County.

Those districts, the candidates, and the counties comprising them:

10th — Rep. Joseph L. Carrigg, Republican, and Rep. Harry P. O'Neill, Democrat; Lackawanna, Wyoming, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Wayne, and Pike Counties.

26th — Rep. Edward L. Sittler Jr., Republican and Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, Democrat; Greene, Washington, and Fayette Counties.

28th — Rep. Harmar D. Denny, Republican and Rep. Herman P. Eberhart, Democrat; part of Allegheny County.

Election Watcher Has His Dog Day, Too

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4 (AP)—A woman leading a small mutt of a dog on a leash walked up to Charles Wells outside a polling place in the city's 64th Division.

"Are you a watcher?" she asked.

"I am," said Wells.

"Then will you please watch my dog until I vote?"

Wells obliged, for a good 10 minutes.

"That was real nice of you," the woman said afterward. "And my, isn't it a good thing all the voters aren't bringing along their dogs today?"

Steel Plant Workers Take Holiday to Vote

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4 (AP)—To make sure they had plenty of time to vote, 1800 CIO employes of Firth Sterling Steel Co. traded one of their six paid holidays to get election day off today. They'll work next Memorial Day instead.

The Firth Sterling plant at McKeesport and the firm's offices and laboratory in Pittsburgh shut down tight for the day.

Pa. Legislature To Face '53 Tax Problems

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4 (AP)—Pennsylvania voters today elected members of the 1953 legislature who will come to grips with state tax problems next year.

All of the 208 places in the House and half of the 50 seat Senate were at stake.

In the House, 163 incumbents—91 Republicans and 72 Democrats—sought re-election. Republicans dominated the lower chamber last year by a margin of 120 to 87 Democrats with one vacancy.

Senate fights saw 22 incumbents seek another four year term. They included 13 Republicans and nine Democrats. The Senate was controlled by the GOP, 30 to 20, during the 1951 session. The margin was enough to pass a bill but insufficient to confirm gubernatorial appointments where a two-thirds vote is necessary.

Sen. C. Arthur Blass (R-Erie) is the only candidate for the legislature to win both nominations in the primary. A primary election write-in vote gave him the Democratic nomination.

In the House, there were three seats for which Democrats failed to put up a candidate. That left Reps. Harry R. McInroy (R-Tioga), Charles R. Reagan (R-Union), and Ray W. Greenwood (R-Wyoming) unopposed except for possible Democratic write-ins.

A new presiding officer is assured in the House since Speaker Herbert P. Sorg (R-Elk) failed to seek re-election.

Sen. John M. Walker, Allegheny, Republican floor leader, is a holdover senator not up for re-election this year, but is expected to be a candidate for another term as the GOP floor spokesman.

Two other senators—George B. Scarlett (R-Chester) and Maxwell S. Rosenfeld (D-Phila)—won their party nominations in the primary but withdrew from the general election campaign.

Scarlett retired for health reasons.

Early Election Reports

By the Associated Press

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and the GOP sprinted into a quick lead and held it as returns from yesterday's presidential election passed the two million vote mark and climbed on up.

GOP National Chairman Arthur E. Summerfield said in New York. "It looks like a Republican landslide." He said a "pent-up avalanche of votes" was likely to show up before the evening was very old.

Eisenhower was leading in 34 states with 352 electoral votes. Stevenson was ahead in 13 states with 141 electoral votes.

Associated Press returns from the country's polling units showed the popular vote!

Eisenhower 12,000,000
Stevenson 10,700,000

On the basis of the popular vote, Eisenhower was out in front with 52 per cent. At about the same hour in 1948 and with about the same number of precincts in, President Truman was leading Gov. Thomas E. Dewey by 53 per cent of the Truman-Dewey vote, and went on to win.

Returns still were skimpy. But they were enough to show the general piling up a smashing vote in some northern states and running strong in Dixie and along the border. The general was out in front in Ohio, with 25 big electoral votes, giving Stevenson a hard run in Cuyahoga County Cleveland which ordinarily is heavily Democratic.

Stevenson stepped ahead in his own state of Illinois, with 27 electoral votes, but that was on the basis of returns predominately from Chicago and Cook County, where he was slated to show best. He also took the lead in New Jersey, on the basis of a tiny trickle of returns from that state.

Key Centers Report Big Pennsylvania Vote

By The Associated Press

A record smashing vote to decide the fate of Pennsylvania's 32 electoral college votes appeared in the making as election officials in key population centers in the state reported abnormally heavy turnouts among the 5,340,936 registered voters.

Indications of an unprecedented volume piled up early as such strategic places as Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and other industrial areas—and notably suburban districts—experienced a heavy turnout at the outset, with few signs of a slackening in the balloting pace.

The weather man favored the get-out-the-vote-drive. The day dawned clear and crisp and remained that way throughout.

Well before midday many cities and towns across the state reported voting was running far ahead of that in any national election for a generation.

Coatesville, for example, said it was twice as heavy as it had been in any presidential election year since 1940. Other communities gave similar accounts.

Rural regions came in strong, too. Farmers, crossroads merchants, villagers streamed to the polling stations along with their urban fellows.

Long time political observers said they noted an interest and an excitement remarkable even for the climax of a national political campaign characterized by tension and emotions out of the ordinary.

Voter interest chiefly responsible for the outpouring seemed to focus on the battle for the presidency between Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.

And the office of the commonwealth's secretary predicted balloting would hit the four and one-quarter million mark.

Republican registration ran to a grand total of 3,128,773; Democrats, 2,137,490, and non partisan registrants and minor parties—74,673. In addition, 50,000 to 100,000 soldiers are eligible to cast absentee ballots. These will not be tabulated until Nov. 14.
