

British Debate Team Will Compete Tonight

A duo representing the combined British universities debate squad comes to the College today to compete with a two-man team from the men's debate group in the 19th annual international debate. The debate will begin at 8 tonight in 121 Sparks.

"Resolved: That cooperation is a better policy for western Europe than federation" will be the topic for the non-decision debate. The competition is open to the public.

Penn State will be represented in the debate by Jay Headly, senior in arts and letters, and David Lewis, graduate student in arts and letters. Headly, manager of the men's debate squad is vice-president of the 1953 Pennsylvania State Debate Convention to be held at the College in the spring. Lewis was graduated from the College in June. Last May he was first place winner of the John Henry Frizzell Extempore Speaking Contest, held annually at the College in honor of Dr. Frizzell, first head of the Department of Speech.

Young Conservative Leader
Composing the British team will be Kenneth Dibben, a student at the University College of Southampton, and Ronald George Evans, a student at the University College of North Wales.

Dibben is 23, born in Southampton, England, and has studied to become a chartered accountant. He is a member of the National Committee of the Students' Society, Union of Chartered Accountants, and honorary secretary of his district group. Dibben, joint founder of the young Conservative movement in Southampton, now serves on the Young Conservative National Committee. His debating activities include serving as president of the debating society for 1950-52.

A student of economics, Evans is 24, born in Llangollen, North Wales. From 1946 to 1948 he served with the Royal Air Force and later hitch-hiked across France and Switzerland for recreation. Politically, Evans is now unaffiliated, but for the 1950 election he campaigned for the Labor Party. He has taken an active part in student government and has attended student seminars in France and Canada. In the field of debate he was elected vice-president of the debate union for 1951-52.

To Debate at Pitt
The British team so far has competed in 16 international debates at colleges and universities in eight states and the District of Columbia. During the past week they have debated at Temple University, St. Joseph's College, University of Pennsylvania, and Bucknell University.

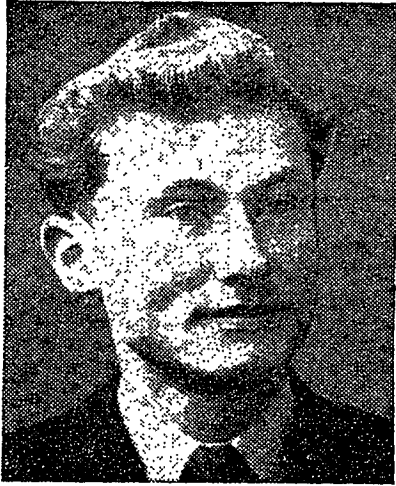

Following the engagement here the Britishers will travel to the University of Pittsburgh for debate on Monday. Their schedule continues until Dec. 16 with debates in seven other states.

Dr. R. Wallace Brewster, professor and head of the Department of Political Science, is chairman of the local international debate. Susan Holtzinger and Nancy Nelsen, members of the women's debate squad, will serve as ushers at the debate.

Ag Honorary to Host Grand Council Meeting

The local chapter of Epsilon Sigma Phi, national agriculture extension honorary, will act as host to the organization's Grand Council meeting Sunday in Washington, D.C.

Speaker at the dinner meeting will be J. Martin Fry, director of the College agricultural and home economics extension service.

Ronald Evans

Kenneth Dibben

British Students in International Debate

1400 Pitt Game Tickets To Be Available Monday

Nearly 1400 student tickets for the Pitt-Penn State game Nov. 22 will be placed on sale at 8:30 a.m. Monday at the ticket window in Old Main. The price will be $3.50.

The first ten rows from mid-field to the north goal line on the west side of Pitt stadium are being held for students.

Attempting to clear up the confusion and dissatisfaction over ticket distribution for the Penn game, Harold R. Gilbert, graduate manager of athletics, has indicated that the better tickets will be sold on a first come basis. The ticket office will fill group requests for blocks of tickets providing the requests are not unreasonable, Gilbert said. This way students will know exactly where their tickets are when they purchase them, Gilbert added.

Student demand for better seats at away games arose when most student requests for Penn game tickets were filled in Franklin Field's sections NB and NA which fall behind the goal line. The College is now in the process of sending refund checks to a large number of dissatisfied students who refused to accept their Penn game tickets in the poor location. Gilbert emphasized that there will be no dipping into this block reserved for students until after the student body has adequate opportunity to obtain what tickets they want. Team tickets and complimentary and alumni demands will be filled from seats above the tenth row. The Blue Band, according to present plans, will sit on the field.

In all, the College obtained 5500 reserved and 200 box seat tickets for the game. Although alumni requests have not as yet been filled, application demands are already above 3000. Alumni ticket requests officially close tomorrow, and the Athletic office expects to begin filling alumni orders early next week.

Approximately 150 students attended a meeting for solicitors Tuesday night.

The drive will provide funds for nine groups and operating expenses of the drive. The groups are Penn State Christian Association, World Student Service Fund, State College Welfare Fund, Salvation Army, Heart Fund, National Scholarship and Service Fund for Negro Students, Cancer Society, Penn State Scholarship Fund, and Women's Student Government Association Christmas Fund.

Insurance Prof to Talk

Ralph H. Wherry, associate professor of insurance, will speak on "Split-Dollar Insurance—As a Means of Financing Pensions and Protection for the Junior Executive and His Family" at a meeting of the Altoona Association of Life Underwriters today.

Smith Speaks Today

Dr. William M. Smith Jr., professor of family relationships, will speak to the National Home Demonstration Agents Association in Chicago today.

Blood Drive Nets 10 Pints Over Goal

With the help of an extended deadline, pledges for the Tuesday and Wednesday campus blood drive have passed the 300-pint goal. The total number of pledges received by the noon deadline yesterday reached 310 pints.

Ronald Zimmerman, publicity chairman for the drive, expressed thanks to students making pledges. He pointed out that the goal would have been set higher this year, but that it was impossible because of the decreased size of the Johnstown Red Cross bloodmobile's staff.

Zimmerman also explained that the unit cannot stay on campus for more than two days because of the lack of funds within the national Red Cross. When the bloodmobile arrives at the Temporary Union Building, it will be prepared to handle 150 donations on each of the two days.

In the event of persons volunteering who have not signed pledge forms, Zimmerman explained that the only way these can be handled is if some persons are late for appointments. Otherwise, extra donations will have to be turned down because of the staff size.

Orange Juice to be Served

Zimmerman said that students who have pledged blood will receive appointments through the mail by Monday. He added that it will take each blood donor about one hour to donate blood. Appointments will be between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. on the two days.

Blood donors will be served orange juice and doughnuts by members of the campus Red Cross unit, under the chairmanship of Ruth Minkel.

The two-day drive will have a total of 60 volunteer workers. Among those assisting are Victor Beede, chairman of the State College chapter of the Red Cross, and A. H. Holtzinger, State College blood drive chairman.

Two Movies of Sun To Be Shown Tonight

Eruptive activity of the sun will be portrayed in two short motion pictures to be shown at 8 tonight in 119 Osmond. The showing, sponsored by the Department of Physics, is open to the public. It will include a brief talk by Dr. Carl A. Bauer, assistant professor of physics, who will use slides to illustrate his talk.

PAPER

LOOSELEAF

NOTEBOOK FILLER

Lined or Plain

5, 15, 35c

$5 in Sales, Get $1 FREE

at the BX in the TUB

Alum Named To Head New Fund Council

John N. Spangler, Consultant to the National Carbon Co., New York City, and chairman of the board, has been named general chairman of the Alumni Fund Council, President Milton S. Eisenhower announced yesterday.

As chairman, Spangler will be authorized to set up an organization for the College's first alumni fund.

The fund council will encourage annual contributions from alumni and former students to finance projects not covered by state appropriations and regular College income.

A subcommittee of the Penn State Foundation, the alumni fund will investigate campus needs and will allocate funds in accordance with the desires of donors.

Each of the nine schools at the College will be represented by a chairman on the council. The committee will also include a representative to be named by the faculty through the College Senate; a chairman for sustaining gifts; the chairman of the Council on Research; Samuel K. Hostetter, comptroller; and Louis H. Bell, director of Public Information.

Spangler is a member of the executive board of the Alumni Council. Last spring, he received a distinguished alumni award.

Town House

For supper parties, groups and clubs, call Harold 6301. Steaks, Spaghetti, Shrimp, served Shrimp, served from 5 p.m. to 12 p.m. daily.

Rear of 129 S. Allen State College

Accessories Accentuate Your Gown...

White stoles, white with gold or silver stoles, and pink stoles with silver. All beautiful stoles from Danks that will add beauty and grace to your formal. Luxurious all white stoles are $6.95. All other stoles are $4.95.

Stop in at Danks and see the wide selection of clutch and pouch evening bags—brocades, gold mesh and sequenced evening bags. Priced at $2.98; $5.00; $10.95 plus tax.

Eight button evening gloves will add grace to your outfit. White and beige rapon, white and black nylon gloves are only $1.50.

The Life strapless bra by Formfit really does something for any gown. Long and short lengths. $3-$4.00.

Add beauty to your attire... shop today at...

Danks & Co

148 S. ALLEN

Choose

DISTINCTIVE GREETING CARDS

For all occasions

at

The Treasure House

Across from Old Main

CORSAGES

for

BIG WEEKEND

ORDER YOURS NOW!

BILL McMULLEN

FLORIST

122 E. Collge Ave.

PHONE 4994