Lions Seek 6th in Battle Of Once-Beaten Elevens

By JAKE HIGHTON

SYRACUSE, N.Y.—For the first time in four weeks Penn State's football team takes on an opponent which is not in the elite class of the unbeaten, but that is little comfort for State when it meets dangerous Syracuse here today.

Lelyveld To Speak At Chapel

Rabbi Arthur J. Lelyveld, national director of the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundations, will speak on "The Challenge of the Mass Man" at Chapel services at 11 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

A native of New York City, Rabbi Lelyveld received his B.A. degree at Columbia University where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, scholastic honorary. He received his degree of M.H.L. at the Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati, Ohio, and was ordained as Rabbi in 1939.

Rabbi Lelyveld served at Temple Israel in Omaha, Neb., before acting as executive director and national vice-chairman of the Committee on Unity for Palestine of the Zionist Organization in 1944. In that capacity, he traveled throughout the United States to direct a nationwide program of education and interpretation of the idea of a Jewish State.

Rabbi Lelyveld, who was one of the speakers during Religion-in-Life Week last February, established the new Hillel Foundation at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

As a part of the service, the Chapel choir will sing for the introit "God is Our Refuge" (Mozart), the anthem "The Lord is My Light" (Gretchaninoff) and for the service of prayer "Truly My Soul" (Beattie).

George Ceiga, chapel organist, will play for the postlude "Wake, Awake for Night is Flying" (Flor Peeters), the offertory "Fugue on the Kyrie" (Couperin) and the postlude "Grand Jeu" (DuMège).

Council to Hear Holiday Plans

The two proposals dealing with changes in vacation time for students and a half-holiday for the Pitt weekend, which were approved by All-College Cabinet Thursday night, were forwarded to the College Council of Administration by letter last night.

The council will meet Monday morning.

One of the proposals asks that classes be canceled Saturday morning, Nov. 22, so that students may attend the Pitt-Penn State game. It contains the limiting phrase, "if the football team wins its next two games."

The vacation proposal, presented by a motion of Arthur Rosfeld, president of Interfraternity Council, asks that the day and one-half preceding the Thanksgiving vacation be added to vacation time. The day and one-half would be made up by subtracting the time from the end of Christmas vacation.

Brewster to Speak

Qualifications for law schools will be discussed by Dr. R. Wallace Brewster, professor of political science, at the Political Science Club meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in 317 Willard.

With the 1:30 p.m. kickoff in Archbold Stadium, the Lions will be attempting to win their sixth game of the season and strengthen their bid for Eastern supremacy.

A battle-royal looms between these clubs beaten only by forever-winning Michigan State in collegiate competition. The Orangemen fell before the Spartans 48-7, and the Lions fared little better, going down 34-7.

Reasons are plentiful for an extremely high opinion of Syracuse. (1), the Orange is eager to avenge the 32-13 trouncing State dealt last year. (2), Syracuse has come up with its best team in years, a factor which has prompted the mayor of this city to declare a Bill Orange holiday in honor of the team. (3), Orange gridgers are mighty tough on their home field, attested to by the 27-7 setback handed State on its last visit here in 1950. (4), Syracuse Coach Ben Schwartzwalder admits having his "best team" since he took over in 1949.

From the Nittany side of the field, the Lions catapulted into the first row of Eastern teams right beside unbeaten Villanova after dropping Penn last week.

The Lions have been riding high, higher than any Nittany team since 1948, and with five wins already, are enjoying a much better year than many had predicted for them. Aside from the loss to the Spartans, State has only a 20-20 with Big Ten leader Purdue marring its record. In addition to Penn, State also bounced Nebraska from the unbeaten ranks.

Hunting Ban Lifted In Sixteen Counties

Beginning today, the ban on small game hunting is lifted in 16 counties in Western Pennsylvania, according to Gov. John S. Fine's announcement yesterday in an Associated Press report.

Hunting and fishing will be permitted in Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Cameron, Clarion, Crawford, Elk, Erie, Forest, Jefferson, Lawrence, McKean, Mercer, Potter, Venango, and Warren counties.

The State Game Commission recommended the move following a snowfall in the western part of the state.

1600 Are Expected At Ag Hill Party

Approximately 1600 persons are expected to attend the third annual Ag Hill party, sponsored by the Agriculture Student Council, tonight in Recreation Hall. The party will begin at 5:15 p.m. and continue until midnight.

Over 300 students and faculty members of the School of Agriculture have been planning the party since September.

5 Prizes to Be Given

Forty-five agriculture students will be presented over $5000 in scholarship awards and prizes. Many of the donors and their representatives will be guests at the party and will present the awards. Three hundred twenty prizes of agriculture products also will be awarded during the evening. These include meats, poultry, vegetables, fruit, flowers, and dairy products, most of which are donated by various production departments in the School of Agriculture.

Five door prizes consisting of a dressed turkey, assorted cheeses, a bushel of certified seed, honey products, and a load of manure will be presented to holders of specifically numbered tickets.

A hot dinner of ham, baked beans, apple sauce, cole slaw, rolls, butter, cupcakes, ice cream, cider, and coffee will start the evening. The 800 pounds of fresh ham will be baked at Rockview

Parties Conducting Limited Campaigns

The Lion and State parties are continuing limited active campaigns over the weekend, but both are "saving the big stuff" for next week. Election day is next Thursday.

Lion party candidates for sophomore class offices visited the Hamilton Hall-West Dorm area the past few nights while their freshman counterparts were speaking and meeting

Pitt Tickets to Go On Sale Monday

Tickets for the Pitt-Penn State football game Nov. 22 will go on sale for $3.50 at 8:30 a.m. Monday at the ticket window in Old Main.

Fourteen hundred seats in the first ten rows from mid-field to the north goal line on the west side of Pitt stadium have been set aside for Penn State students.

According to Harold R. Gilbert, graduate manager of athletics, seats will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis. Group orders for blocks of seats will be accepted.

Gilbert said that students will know the exact location of their seats at the time of purchase, and consequently there should be no reason for confusion and dissatisfaction.

Alumni tickets and complimentary tickets will be filled from seats above the tenth row to prevent dipping into the section reserved for students.

Petz Named 1953 Hort Show Manager

Steve Petz has been elected manager of the 1953 Hort Show. Other officers elected by the Horticulture Club are Joan Johnson, secretary; Charles Mohler, procurement manager; David Weber, assistant procurement manager.

voters in the Nittany-Pollock living units.

State Party candidates, both men and women, have also been engaging in extensive tours of living areas. The two women candidates, sophomore secretary-treasurer candidate Marcia Phillips and freshman secretary-treasurer candidate Ann Lederman, have been visiting women of the two lower classes in their dormitories and dining halls.

Sophomore Candidates

In addition, State and Lion sophomore candidates have been touring fraternity houses, usually at noon, but sometimes at evening meals. At these meals the candidates are introduced by ward leaders after which they speak briefly on platform issues of their parties.

The State Party sophomore men candidates are Robert Homan for president and William Rother for vice president. Lion Party is running Richard Mercer for president and William Brill for vice president.

In visiting fraternities the three sophomore candidates of a party usually join forces. Freshman candidates, because no frosh are in houses, limit their campaigning to other living areas.

Lion Leaders to Meet

State Party candidates will continue campaign visits to fraternities today with speaking stops at Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Phi Sigma, Delta Sigma Phi, and Tau Phi Delta. Lion Party will not visit any fraternities today, according to campaign manager Richard Kirschner.

Kirschner announced a meeting of Lion Party section leaders at 7 p.m. Tuesday in 314 Willard. Kirschner urged all leaders to attend the meeting because of its importance.

Lion Party frosh men candidates will tour Nittany living units tomorrow night while the sophomore men candidates make the rounds in Pollock Circle. State Party candidates are also visiting these areas.

The freshman candidates of the Lion Party are James Bowers for class president, Philip Lang for vice president, and Barbara Bransdorf for secretary-treasurer. For these posts State Party is running Michael Murphy, Forest Miller, and Miss Lederman.

Childs to Speak On Eisenhower

Syndicated Washington columnist Marquis Childs will open the Community Forum series with a discussion of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower at 8 p.m. Monday in Schwab Auditorium.

Childs in his talk, "Washington Calling," will consider the personality and policies of the 34th president of the United States as well as the domestic and foreign issues which may face the new administration.

Single tickets for the performance, priced at $1.50, and season tickets, priced at $3 and entitling the holder to attend the five forum programs, will continue on sale until 8 p.m. Monday at the Student Union desk in Old Main. Season ticket cards, bought during the October campaign, must be exchanged for sets of reserved seat tickets before this time at the SU desk.

Breakfast Deadline Extended

The deadline for reservations for the junior class breakfast to be held at 9:30 a.m. Nov. 16 in the Dutch Pantry has been extended to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Raymond Webb, breakfast chairman, said yesterday.

Reservations may be made at the Student Union desk in Old Main, Webb said. Tickets are $1.25 per couple. Only junior class members and their dates may attend the breakfast. The Mellow Airs Quartet will entertain, Webb announced and the members of the class will attend Chapel en masse afterwards.

A nummers parade will precede the Rutgers game Nov. 15. Thomas Farrell, Junior Class week chairman announced. Farrell said social and activity groups on campus have been invited to participate in the parade. Entrants will compete for a $25 first place trophy and a $15 second place trophy, he said.

The parade will assemble at noon on Beaver Field, Farrell added, and said each entry will be assigned a number for its position in the parade. He suggested that groups may advertise any forthcoming activity or social function they may be sponsoring, but said that choice of a theme is up to the group.

Farrell said the parade committee has asked that only one car, or a car and trailer, if desired, be used in each display.

The Junior Class Week promotions committee as announced by Marian Ungar, co-chairman, includes the following: posters—Ella Morgan, Andrei Bloom, Martha Darlington, Juliana Fees, Anne Hesch, Dorothy Ives, Joyce Johnson, Jean Kratt, Joan Park, Jane Reber, Ellen Wescott, Pam Mullins, and Sondra Feinberg; contact—Richard Grossman, Anne Hilpert, Nancy Meyers, and Rosalyn Wein.

Special effects—Helene Carter, Bernard Davis, Marilyn Gourley, Eleanor Hennessy, and Eleanor Horvitz; advertising—Louise Robertson and Lee Wheeler; window painting—Helen Garber, Leroy Kromis, Patricia McClurken, Mary McCommons, and Christine Showers; tickets—Sylvia Berkowitz, William Alden, Bernice Graeff, and Joan O'Connor.

Liberal Arts seniors (N-Z) may have their pictures taken for the 1953 LaVie until Friday at the Penn State Photo Shop, official LaVie photographer.

Seniors graduating in January may pay the $2 balance on the yearbook before they are graduated. Copies of the book will be sent to them in the spring, Douglas Schoerke, editor, said.
