7 BX Proposals OK'd by Cabinet

A recommendation calling for continued research for development of the Book Exchange on a larger scale was among seven BX proposals approved by All-College Cabinet at its meeting Thursday night.

The recommendation, first of three long-range program suggestions, was presented to cabinet by Frank Kelly, chairman of the cabinet subcommittee on the BX from the student encampment held at Mt. Alto.

300 to Donate During Campus Blood Drive

At least 300 students will donate blood for the armed forces when the Johnstown Red Cross bloodmobile unit arrives on campus Tuesday and Wednesday.

In a drive held the past ten days, 310 students pledged blood. The goal for the drive was 300 pints. Ronald Zimmerman, publicity chairman for the drive said that pledges will receive appointment times through the mail by Monday.

The bloodmobile will be stationed at the Temporary Union Building during the two-day stay. Appointments will be between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. each day. Zimmerman said that it will take about one hour for each person to donate blood.

Donors will be served orange juice and doughnuts by members of the campus Red Cross unit. There will be 60 student and townspeople volunteer workers while the bloodmobile is on campus.

200 Tickets Available For 'Kiss Me Kate'

Approximately 200 tickets are still available for the musical "Kiss Me Kate" to be presented Wednesday night by the Drama Guild of New York at Bellefonte High School.

Tickets are on sale at the Herman News Store in Bellefonte and at the Harmony Shop in State College. Reservations may be made at both of these business places.

Import Transportation Planned by Fraternity

Delta Nu Alpha, professional transportation fraternity, will sponsor a plan to supply busses traveling Friday from Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to State College. The busses will leave at 5:30 p.m. in order that imports can arrive at the College in time for weekend activities.

Those persons desiring reservations should call Robert Gray before 3:30 this afternoon at Phi Gamma Delta and guarantee that their dates will buy round trip tickets and be at the bus on time.

The busses will return at 2:30 p.m. next Sunday.

Other long-range proposals made by Kelly and given cabinet approval were one asking the Economics department to serve in an advisory capacity so that BX research might be carried out efficiently, and one suggesting that, upon completion of the research, possibilities for the handling of new books and more merchandise by the BX be considered. This latter recommendation included the suggestion that charter changes be made in cases where revision would be necessary.

These three recommendations on BX research were presented by Kelly following four operational suggestions concerning expansion (Continued on page eight)

March Ag Day Will Feature 'Mr. Ag' Award

A "Mr. Agriculture Award" will be given to the outstanding senior in the School of Agriculture on the first annual Ag Honors Day Convocation to be held March 25, it was decided at a recent meeting of the Coaly Society, agriculture honorary.

The award, the first of its kind to be given, will be presented on the basis of extra-curricular activities, especially those directed toward agriculture, William Griffith said. Griffith is one of a committee of four members of the Coaly Society planning the award. Others included on the committee are George Kemp, James Booley, and Richard Aldwell.

Presented by the Coaly Society, the award will be a gold medal engraved with "Mr. Agriculture of Penn State," the year received, and a plow. A cash prize of $300 will also be included.

The selection of the student will take place in the early part of March. Any agriculture student may be nominated by any person.

100 Students Needed As 'Chest' Solicitors

Approximately 100 students are needed to solicit funds in the town area for Campus Chest, according to Joseph Haines, solicitations chairman.

Organizations are being requested to help the chest officials get volunteers. Individuals who are interested should call State College 7753, Haines said.

The difficulty of reaching students living in town during the two weeks allotted for the drive is the reason given for requesting a large number of solicitors.

Solicitors who have received contributions should indicate the amount of the contribution, the name of the solicitor, and the area where the solicitation was received, he said. Reports by solicitors on the progress of the drive will be submitted at 304 Old Main.

A drive for faculty contributions will be started Tuesday and will extend until Nov. 18. Graduate students will be solicited with the faculty.

Nov. 18 is also the date set for ending the student drive for $12,000.

Four per cent of the drive will be deducted for operating expenses. The remainder will be divided among nine service and charity groups. These are the Penn State Christian Association, 46 per cent; World Student Service Fund, 13 per cent; Women's Student Government Association Christmas Fund, 6 per cent; State College Welfare Fund, 1 per cent; Salvation Army, 6 per cent; Heart Fund, 6 per cent; American Cancer Society, 6 per cent; Penn State Scholarship Fund, 7 per cent; and National Student Service Fund for Negro Students, 5 per cent.
