Miss Junior Class Voting Ends Today

Today is the final day of balloting for Miss Junior Class at the Student Union desk in Old Main. Fifth and sixth semester students may vote from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. by presenting their matriculation cards.

Five junior women—Nena Moses, Marilyn Porter, Jane Montgomery, Mary Petitgout, and Carolyn Pelczar—have been named as finalists for the title on the basis of beauty, personality and poise after personal interviews with the junior class queen selections committee. Miss Junior Class will be crowned at the Junior Prom Friday night.

Miss Moses, a member of Masquerettes, Players and the sophomore board of Froth's circulation staff, is sponsored by Beta Theta Pi. She was a finalist for Homecoming queen this year and was Froth girl-of-the-month last February. Miss Moses is a home economics major from Pittsburgh and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Miss Porter, sponsored by Sigma Alpha Epsilon, is a member of the Women's Recreation Association intramural board. She was on the All-College elections committee last year. During her freshman year she was freshman representative to WRA, and in "Who's in the News at Penn State." Miss Porter is a recreation major from Birmingham, Michigan, and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

1531 Pitt Football Tickets Bought

Approximately 1531 students bought tickets yesterday for the Nov. 22 football game with the University of Pittsburgh.

Remaining tickets, priced at $3.50, will go on sale at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Athletic Association ticket window in Old Main. The Athletic Association office is closed today for the Armistice Day holiday.

Harold R. Gilbert, graduate manager of athletics, originally announced 1400 seats had been set aside for Penn State students, but more seats were available at the last minute.

Pitt issued the College 5500 regular seats and 200 box seats for students, administration and alumni, Gilbert said. Approximately 3000 alumni orders are in the process of being filled.

Bloodmobile Unit to Arrive At TUB Today

The Johnstown Red Cross bloodmobile unit will arrive at the Temporary Union Building today to honor at least 300 student pledges during its two-day stay on campus.

During a campaign the past two weeks, 310 pints of blood were pledged. The unit is prepared to handle 150 pints each day while it is here. Only in the event of persons being late for appointments will additional pledges be honored, Ronald Zimmerman, publicity chairman for the drive, has announced.

Students donating blood have been sent appointments between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. today and tomorrow. Processing of each blood donor will take approximately one hour, Zimmerman said.

Donors will be served orange juice and doughnuts by members of the campus Red Cross unit. Assisting in the two-day work will be 60 student and town volunteers.

Because of a decrease in the size and personnel of the unit, a longer stay is not possible.

Prexy to Address Washington Meeting

President Milton S. Eisenhower will deliver the presidential address today at the 66th annual meeting of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities in Washington, D.C.

President Eisenhower, who is president of the association, will preside at the meetings.

Relations Club to Meet

The International Relations Club will meet at 7:30 tonight in Commons lounge. An informal discussion on "Foreign Policy in View of the Recent Elections" will be moderated by Dr. Vernon V. Aspaturian, professor of political science and co-adviser of the club.

Q. What does "All the Beggars in One Ask" mean?

A. It means that when you contribute to the Campus Chest you give to nine needy organizations . . . all at one time. Not nine collection campaigns, just one—your Campus Chest.
