

Eisenhower to Discuss Exchange With Truman

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower will sit down with President Truman at 2 p.m., EST, next Tuesday to discuss plans for an orderly exchange of administrations.

The date was announced by the White House after a telephone call from Augusta, Ga., where Eisenhower is spending a brief vacation.

At the same time Detroit banker Joseph Dodge arrived here on a top flight mission for the President-elect. Dodge will look over the shoulder of the Truman administration as it prepares next year's budget—but he will refrain from giving any advice.

Eisenhower hasn't seen Truman, his old commander-in-chief, since well before the election Nov. 4. It had been tentatively arranged that he would visit the White House Monday. Then the date was fixed firmly for Tuesday.

Truman is expected to give his successor a fill-in on the present state of federal affairs.

Dodge told reporters he would not try to mold the budget to the new regime's ideas, and would accept no responsibility for the multi-billion dollar program President Truman will present to Congress just before he leaves office.

Dodge said "it is not true" when asked if he had been offered and had accepted the post of budget director. Asked if he meant it was not true that he had been offered the job, or not true he had accepted, he declined to say.

Budget plans call for final presidential approval by Dec. 15. It takes weeks to print the hundreds of pages of tables and figures which make up the budget which Truman must, by law, present to Congress not later than Jan. 18.

Dodge's arrival coincided with published reports that the new budget would be in the region of 85 billion dollars—about six billion more than estimated spending this year.

Altoona was so named because of its high situation in the Allegheny Mountains.

South Koreans Hurl Chinese From 3 Peaks

SEOUL, Nov. 13 (AP)—South Koreans hurled the Chinese Reds from three peaks on the Central Front in a heroic charge Wednesday, then crushed two night counterblows in the glare of big Allied searchlights.

The 31st day of bruising battle for the Kumhwa ridges found the South Koreans once more in control of all ground lost to heavy Chinese attacks Tuesday, including Pinpoint Hill, dominant height on Sniper Ridge.

The retrained South Korean infantrymen stormed Pinpoint while simultaneously rocking back the Chinese from two peaks on the flanks.

By nightfall they had recaptured Jane Russell Hill, a height on Triangle Hill west of Sniper Ridge, and Rocky Point to the east. Rocky Point is a part of the Sniper Ridge mass itself.

Bad weather limited air blows. Those pilots who went aloft claimed destruction of 20 troop buildings and damage to one rail bridge.

Books Show FDR Tried Halting Split

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—A congressional committee produced secret documents today showing that President Roosevelt tried—and failed—to prevent Stalin from breaking off diplomatic relations with the Polish government in exile in 1943.

The committee was a special group of House members appointed to investigate the Katyn Forest massacre and the diplomatic break which were steps in a detailed plan to communize Poland.

Russia severed relations with the exiled Polish government in London April 26, 1943, shortly after Germany disclosed the Katyn killings. The Poles blamed the atrocity on the Russians—a view which is supported by the House investigators.

State Department documents made public by the committee disclose that two days before the break Stalin sent a personal and confidential note to Roosevelt saying he could no longer countenance the "abnormal" conduct of the Free Polish government.

Roosevelt replied April 26, the documents show, urging Stalin to confine his action to a "suspension of conversations with the Polish government in exile" rather than a complete breakaway.
