Cabinet --

McCoy was named dean of the Phys Ed school this summer and has not been at the College during a basketball season. McCoy was not at last night's meeting because of out-of-town commitments.

The vote on the plan came only after a request to close discussion made by Marlene Heyman, president of Panhellenic Council. Miss Heyman also called for a roll call vote on the plan.

Today was named "Blue and White Day" by cabinet by unanimous vote last night. In addition cabinet urged all students to wear those colors to promote the "Beat Pitt" spirit. This week was officially named "Beat Pitt Week" by unanimous vote.

Garber Takes UN Position

Dr. R. J. Garber, director of the U.S. Regional Pasture Research Laboratory at the College, has accepted a one-year position in Rome, Italy, with the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

He succeeds Dr. Fred F. Liniger as chief of the branch of agricultural institutions and services of the FAO.

Dr. Garber has served as director of the Pasture Research Laboratory since its establishment at the College. Dr. Liniger, retired director of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment Station and an aide in the establishment of the pasture laboratory, will be promoted to new deputy administrator for the entire agricultural division of FAO.
