list and good clothing, an automobile, and television on the bottom. Only 11 per cent indicated great concern about being heard on civic problems.

Schools, churches, and youth groups were encouraged to stimulate voting to provide a broader cross-section for the poll. Ballots came from all types of individuals, ranking from a high class private girls' school in Massachusetts to a boys' training school in the Midwest.

The national mid-century committee was formed to publicize and promote action on findings of the Mid-Century White House Conference held in 1950.

Dance Duo To Perform At Hillel

The Hillel Forum will present a program of Jewish Dance performed by Fred Berk and Audrey Golub 7:30 tonight at the Hillel Foundation, 224 S. Miles street.

The program is based on themes from the Bible, legends, scenes from Eastern Europe, and life in Israel. Following the program, Berk will lead folk dancing for those attending.

Some critics have called Berk the outstanding dance interpreter of Jewish themes in America today. In 1948 he toured displaced person camps in Europe and in 1949, settlements in Israel. At present he is director of the dance institute at Jewish Theological Seminary.

A teacher at the Young Men's Hebrew Association in New York City, Berk also heads a project at the Brooklyn Museum called "Stage for Dancers" and has appeared on and choreographed for television.

Miss Golub is a dance graduate of Adelphi College. She was chosen audition winner of this year by Anthony Tudor, Hanya Holm and Agnes de Milles.
