

Vet Request To Be Heard By Senate

A report on the request to eliminate compulsory physical education as an academic requirement for Korean veterans will be presented to the College Senate today, according to C. O. Williams, secretary.

The report, prepared by the committee on academic standards, has been under consideration since Oct. 2.

William Shifflett, president of the Association of Independent Men, suggested the change at a meeting of All-College Cabinet Sept. 25. He said Senate passed a rule in 1947 to eliminate compulsory physical education for World War II veterans.

Opposition to the change was voiced in a letter to Richard Rostmeyer, All-College secretary-treasurer, by Ernest B. McCoy, dean of the School of Physical Education and Athletics. The letter was dated Oct. 27 but was not received until Nov. 20.

McCoy said the aim of the College physical education program differed from that of the armed services. He said the College's program is principally educational while that of the armed services is body-building. Other reasons cited by McCoy were that no substitute has been endorsed by the Department of the Army, that no other college grants this exemption, and that many veterans elected the courses after World War II although not required to do so.

Jan. 28 to 31 Set for Spring Registration

Students will register for the spring semester Jan. 28 to 31 in Recreation Hall, C. O. Williams, dean of admissions and registrar, has announced.

Seniors and juniors will register Jan. 28. Sophomores and freshmen will register Jan. 29 and 30, and special students and College employees will register until noon, Jan. 31. Students will enter Recreation Hall according to an alphabetical listing printed in the spring semester timetable now on sale in 2 Willard.

Graduate students may register any time during the registration period. Two-year agriculture students will register according to the alphabetical listing for sophomores and freshmen.

Students in the Division of Intermediate Registration must report to 401 Old Main at least 48 hours before they report to Rec Hall. Other students should report to the campus at least 24 hours before they report to Rec Hall in order to consult their advisers, Williams said.

Students who register after Jan. 31 will be charged a $1 late registration fee.

Student Directory Sales Start Today

Student directories will go on sale at the recorder's desk, 4 Willard, and at downtown book stores at noon today, the department of public information has announced.

Food Buying Report Presented to IFC

By CHUCK OBERTANCE

The Interfraternity Council heard last night a report on the joint buying plan for fraternities from Dr. Robert K. Murray, a charter member in the recently incorporated Fraternity Marketing Association.

Reporting on progress thus far and some of FMA's background, Murray showed through comparative percentage figures, savings offered to members of the program. FMA is currently serving 15 members in its large-scale buying plan, and has so far, given members a saving of 4.06 per cent.

Murray, who has had experience with a similar joint buying plan at Ohio State as a member of the board of control and a treasurer of a fraternity dealing through the program, said that it was inconceivable to him that a fraternity system should operate and not have a joint buying program.

Though currently dealing with only potatoes and canned goods, Murray explained that the program would in time, with sufficient participation, expand to include all food items consumed by individual houses. He urged fraternity representatives to take back his report to their houses and give the program serious consideration. He added that with more members, the program could offer greater savings.

FMA, as of November 3, became a bonafide corporation, Murray explained, with the name,

AIM Raps McCoy Phys Ed Decision

By BILL JOST

The Association of Independent Men last night "strongly protested" Dean Ernest B. McCoy's veto on exempting veterans from physical education and also passed a constitutional amendment favoring the proposed AIM Judicial Board of Review.

The AIM Board of Governors voted unanimously to send their protest to Dean McCoy. McCoy made his reasons for the veto known in a letter to All-College Cabinet

Joint Area Skate Party Scheduled

Final plans for tomorrow night's roller skating party and plans for Friday afternoon dances in the TUB were made last night by the Barons, Nittany-Pollock social organization.

The party is open to students living in the two areas. A Nittany or Pollock meal ticket will gain admittance for its owner and his date or friend. The party will last from 7 to 10 p.m.

Walter Malloy, Barons member, was designated to gather equipment to hold record dances on Friday afternoons in the TUB. The first record dance will be on Friday, Dec. 12.

A rehearsal for participants in the Splinterville Review will be held next Wednesday. Those participating in the review so far are: the Schuhl Plattlers, the "Dell Sisters," the Nittany Dorm 22 "Follies," a magician, a female impersonator singing "Life Upon the Wicked Stage," and a trumpet solo. Randolph Wartz will be master of ceremonies. The review will feature talent from the Nittany-Pollock area. The review is an annual event sponsored by the Barons for students in the two areas. It will be held Dec. 16 in the TUB.

Plans for next semester were discussed, among them an informal dance and a series of lectures to be given by professors and members of the administration.

after deciding that Korean veterans should not be excused from physical education. Request for the exemption was made by cabinet Sept. 25.

Approval of the AIM Judicial Board of Review was also unanimous. One member more than the necessary quorum of 16 attended the meeting.

The Judicial Board is set up in an amendment to the AIM constitution. The amendment must be passed by three of the four member councils before it can go into effect.

Nine to Serve on Board
The board will review disciplinary cases against independent men and groups. Action taken by the board will be in the form of recommendations to the Dean of Men's office.

The judicial board will have a chairman and two members from each of the four AIM councils—Town, Nittany, Pollock Circle, and West Dorm. Members are to be appointed in the Spring semester following the election of the officers of the AIM Board of Governors for the following year.

The executive committee of the Board of Governors will appoint the chairman subject to the approval of the board. The chairman of the review board will appoint the members of the board from suggestions to be submitted by the presidents of the member councils.

Group to Set Procedure
The chairman will preside over the meetings and vote only in case of a tie. When unable to attend a meeting, he may appoint a board member to assume his duties.

The board, according to the constitutional amendment, may establish its own procedure except that any hearing must be open or closed if the student involved so desires.

Joseph Haines, vice president, presided over the meeting for President William Shifflett, who is in the College Infirmary.

Ed Conference Meets Today

Representatives of seven teacher-training institutions enrolled in the Cooperative Research in Education Association will convene at the College today to plan research programs aimed at providing better undergraduate training for student teachers.

The three-day meeting will include round-table discussions and a tea to be held in the McElwain Hall lounge tomorrow.

Committee members for the conference are Dr. Chester T. McNerney, associate professor of education, and Dr. Neil A. Murphy, assistant professor of education. Faculty members who will participate in the discussions are Dr. McNerney; Dr. Paul W. Bixby, professor of elementary education; Dr. Robert B. Patrick, associate professor of education; and Deno G. Thevaos, assistant professor of psychology.

228 Men to Take SS Test Today

Two hundred twenty-eight students are expected to take the Selective Service college qualification test at 8:30 a.m. today in 121 Sparks.

Students who will miss classes by taking the examination may obtain excuses tomorrow in the Dean of Men's office, 109 Old Main.

Harvest Ball Discussed In Council

Final plans for the Harvest Ball to be held tomorrow night from 9 p.m. to midnight in Recreation Hall were discussed at a special meeting last night of the Agriculture Student Council.

James DeVoe and Edgar Fehnel, co-chairmen of the dance, which is sponsored annually by the council, called for reports from various committee chairman. Temple Reynolds, co-chairman of the decorations committee, announced that the theme of the dance will be "An Autumn Picnic" and the decorations will center around that theme.

Pictures of Marcia Philips, Ann Lederman, and Elizabeth Tomlinson, Harvest queen finalists, are in the window of the Western Union office on South Allen Street, Arthur Stone, chairman of publicity, announced. The trophies they will receive are also on exhibit. Stone stated that cars will tour the campus tomorrow advertising the Ball.

Richard Stanley, council president, appointed a committee headed by Temple Reynolds to make plans for a coffee hour to be held in conjunction with the County Agents Association the week of Dec. 14. Others on the committee are Lawrence Lindstrom, James Hall, John Tait, and Thomas Peters.

41 to Visit UN On PSCA Tour

Forty-one persons from the College will travel to the United Nations in New York Dec. 11 to 14, according to Mary Jane Wyland of the Penn State Christian Association who is a member of the UN steering committee.

"If this is a sample, it looks as if the UN trip will be a popular feature of the CA program," said Miss Wyland. She attributes the fine response to "interest in the UN, the Education Council's handling of the publicity, and the bang-up job done by the over-all UN committee."

This committee is composed of students and faculty from the School of Education, the Political Science department, and the PSCA.

A novel feature of this trip is that several church foundations and honoraries are sponsoring it.
