

18 Greek Groups To Hold Formals

Eighteen sororities and fraternities will hold their annual winter formal dances tonight. Eight groups are holding joint pledge dances. Delta Delta Delta and Pi Kappa Phi will hold their annual pledge dance in a "Winter Wonderland" setting at the Pi Kappa Phi house. Music will be provided by Jerry Kehler.

A "Holly Hop" pledge dance will be held by Alpha Xi Delta and Sigma Pi. Jack Jenkins will play for the dance at the Sigma Pi house.

John Leister will provide music for the Kappa Delta and Theta Chi annual pledge dance. Decorations will be based on a winter theme.

At the Phi Kappa house, Theta Phi Alpha and Phi Kappa will dance to the music of Bob Campbell at their annual pledge dance.

Alpha Gamma Delta will hold its "Snow Palace" pledge dance at the Chi Phi house. Jim Erb will provide the music.

At Phi Kappa Sigma, Chi Omega will dance to the music of Dick Dennis. The annual pledge dance will be held in a winter setting.

The Beta Theta Pi house will be the scene of Delta Gamma's annual pledge dance. Music will be provided by Jack Huber.

Decorations will center around a winter theme at the Phi Mu pledge dance to be held at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house. Dancing will be to the music of Dale Clemens.

The Merry Melodies will play at the Zeta Tau Alpha pledge dance to be held at the Alpha Gamma Rho house.

Acacia will hold its annual formal winter dance amid a winter setting. Music will be by the Cam-puseers.

At the Beaver House, Walter Marthouse will play for the annual Christmas dance centered around the theme "An Old Fashioned Christmas."

Pi Kappa Alpha will hold its pledge dance with dancing to the music of Jim Elliot. Decorations will be based on a winter theme.

The Melody Men will play at the annual pledge dance to be held by Sigma Nu.

A "Winter Wonderland" theme will prevail at Theta Kappa Phi's annual pledge dance. Frank Levan will provide music for dancing.

Home Ec Club Will Sell Cookies

Members of the Home Economics Club will sell Christmas cookies from 9 a.m. to noon Monday in the living center of the Home Economics Building. The cookies were baked by members of the club.

Part of the profits obtained from the sale will be used to send Hilda Hogeland and Shirley Trudgeon on a trip to the United Nations in New York. The trip is scheduled for Dec. 11 to 14. It is sponsored by the Penn State Christian Association, and the Education School and Political Science department.

Ruth Freed, acting president of the club, announced that coffee hours are held 9:15 to 10:30 a.m. Monday through Friday in the living center. Coffee and cookies are sold for 10 cents.

Thetas to Sell Gifts, Baked Goods at Bazaar

Stunt Night' Will Highlight Hillel Program

Weekend events at the Hillel Foundation will include a "Stunt Night" program at 8:30 tonight, a jazz concert at 2 p.m. tomorrow, and the third in a series of Town Meetings at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The "Stunt Night" program, consisting of nine acts, will be judged by Henry Youngerman, assistant professor of speech; Warren Smith, assistant professor of dramatics; James Ambandos, of the College motion picture studio, and Frank Schlow, local businessman.

Dancing and refreshments will follow the program.

Jack Huber and his Jazz Band will give a jazz concert 2 to 4 p.m. tomorrow. There is no admission charge.

Tomorrow night the Hillel Forum will present Dr. Jessie Bernard, professor of sociology; Dr. Oscar A. Haac, assistant professor of Romance languages; and Dean H. K. Schilling, of the Graduate School, who will discuss the topic "Science, Humanities, Religion—and the Moral Crisis of Our Times."

The Town Meeting and Jazz Concert are both open to the public.

Iota Lambda Sigma

Alpha chapter of Iota Lambda Sigma, men's industrial education honorary, has sponsored the publication of a directory containing a complete history of the grand chapter, campus chapters, and field chapters of the fraternity.

Choral Society To Sing Bach

The State College Choral Society will present its fourth annual all-Bach Christmas concert at 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in St. Paul's Methodist Church.

Included in the program are the opening chorus, Gloria Patri, from the Magnificat; chorales and recitatives from the Christmas Oratorio; four choruses, a bass solo, and a soprano-tenor duet from the Gloria section of the Mass in B Minor; and the chorus, Sanctus, from the same Mass.

The concert is free of charge and open to the public, but admission will be by ticket only. Free tickets may be picked up this morning at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

The program will be offered by the Choral Society, the Choral Choir, a chamber orchestra, instrumentalists to assist the choir, trumpeters, and organist, all under the direction of Mrs. Martha Ramsey.

Groups Will Mark Advent of Christmas

By LAVONNE ALTHOUSE

The advent of Christmas will be marked by several local Protestant groups at their meetings tomorrow.

Dr. Robert S. Dengler of the Department of Classical Languages will discuss "The Meaning of Advent" at the meeting of the Lutheran Student Association at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in the LSA fellowship hall.

Following the regular fellowship supper of the Roger Williams Foundation at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow in the basement of the University Baptist Church, Kenneth Hall will speak to the group on the history of Christmas carols.

The Canterbury Club will practice for its annual Christmas pageant at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in the parish house of St. Andrews Episcopal Church.

Rabbi Benjamin Kahn will be guest leader of the Faith Reformed Church student class at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow, speaking on "The Spirit and Development of Hebrew Law." United Student Fellowship will meet at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the church basement to see a film, "More for Peace."

Glenn Goss, vice president of Evangelical United Brethren Student Fellowship, will talk on "Moral Progress in the Old Testament" at the group's meeting at 6:15 p.m. tomorrow in St. John's EUB Church.

After a fellowship supper at 5:15 p.m. tomorrow in the basement of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Wesley Foundation will hear a reading by Mrs. Frank A. Montgomery, wife of the minister of the church.

Westminster Foundation will hear a talk by Alan McCloud from Australia at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in the foundation's fireside room.

'UN' Soccer Team To Play PS Squad

Like a smoothly-functioning "little United Nations," the international soccer team which plays Penn State's squad here at 2 p.m. today will include representatives of 13 foreign countries.

According to its manager, Prodipto Roy from India, the team cooperation could well set an example to be followed in dealings among foreign nations. As Roy says, "You play with somebody from Greece, or Germany, and discover he's pretty good, too."

Today's match will be the second between Penn State's soccer team and the foreign students. Last year the international squad lost 5-1.

The foreign team's manager refuses to make any predictions on today's game and says only, "Penn State's got the best team in the country." Incidentally, Roy prefers to be called manager rather than captain, because "the team is too democratic to have a captain."

Substitution Rules Differ

Roy's publicity releases about the international team are unbelievably modest. He says, "We're much too old to play at the game hard (the average age is 30). We lead flabby lives of graduate students. We've practiced about four times, mostly on Saturday night."

The international team, with a first and second string, has an adequate number of substitutes. This brings up a difference in American and foreign soccer rules.

"The law of substitution is completely an American innovation," according to Roy. "No where else in the world do players walk on and off the field when they get tired. Our players play to the end of the game. If someone dies during a game, we carry him off the field and play with 10 men."

Wants Big Crowd

Soccer rules conflict in two other ways. First, when a ball goes out-of-bounds during a game, countries other than the United States throw in the ball. Since the Americans kick it in, the foreign students will follow United States rules Saturday and the ball will be kicked.

Second, in countries other than the United States, the soccer game is divided into halves. The Americans with their quarters get two extra rest-periods (and once again, because "when in Rome," Saturday's game will be played in quarters.)

Roy would like to see a big crowd out for the game. He feels there's special need for a strong cheering section of all the foreign students on campus.

Eleven of these sturdy men will see action in Saturday's game, Rustum, Shunil, and Prodipto Roy,

Chi Omega

Chi Omega, in conjunction with Alpha Chi Omega and Gamma Phi Beta, recently heard Mrs. Joseph F. O'Brien talk on parliamentary procedure at the Delta Upsilon house. Entertainment following the talk included games and dancing. Refreshments were served.

ACEI to Collect Mittens on Tree

The Association for Childhood Education International will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the northeast Atherton lounge to collect mittens for needy children in this area.

Carrying out the Christmas theme, a tree will be used in the decorations but will be covered with mittens brought to the meeting instead of the traditional lights and balls.

The tree will be moved Wednesday to either the Library or Burrowes Building, where more mittens may be added.

Faculty Club to Hold Party at TUB Monday

The Faculty Newcomers' Club will hold a Christmas party at the TUB 8 p.m. to midnight Monday.

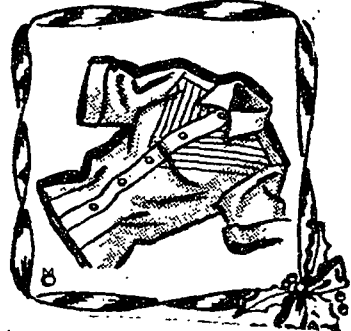

There will be round and square dancing and facilities for playing cards, Mrs. Robert Dombrowsky, program chairman, announced. Husbands and escorts of members are invited. Refreshments will be served by the social committee.
