

Debate Squads Win at Temple

Both the men's and women's debate teams won ten out of 16 debates at the annual Novice Debate Tournament held Saturday at Temple University.

Two men's teams and two women's squads represented the College at the tournaments. The topic debated was Resolved: That the Congress of the U.S. should enact a fair employment practices law.

Applied Arts Curriculum Approved

A curriculum in applied arts, approved by the Board of Trustees Friday night, will be offered in September, President Milton S. Eisenhower announced yesterday.

The new curriculum, offered in the Department of Architecture of the School of Engineering, will lead to the degree of B.A. in applied arts.

Training in the basic principles of design and its application in industrial production, advertising, and merchandising will be offered in the curriculum, Eric A. Walker, dean of the Engineering school, explained.

Although the freshman year of the new curriculum will be offered next fall, the senior year of the program will not be offered until the fall of 1956. The first degree will not be awarded until the spring of 1957.

"The fields of industrial design, advertising, interior decoration, and fashion design are constantly calling for young women and men with a working knowledge of the application of good design principles," Dean Walker said.

The curriculum is the 60th offered by the College.

Old Main Flag Stolen Sunday By Three Men

Three men stole the state flag from the east flag pole in front of Old Main about 3:15 p.m. Sunday, according to Captain Philip Mark of the Campus Patrol.

Captain Mark said George Alburger of Sigma Chi witnessed the theft, but did not realize what was going on until one of the men tried to conceal the flag under his coat. Alburger chased the men, but was unable to catch them. They drove off in an automobile which had been parked in front of McAllister Hall.

Captain Mark said he is sure the thieves are from out-of-state, but added that if it did involve any local people they could leave the flag at the Student Union desk in Old Main and no questions would be asked.

"We are not out to prosecute," said Captain Mark. "All we want is the flag."

Anyone having information pertaining to the theft may call College extension 425 or Boalsburg 6235, Captain Mark's home. The calls may be made anonymously and no questions will be asked, Captain Mark said.

Santa Suggests . . .

BEER STEINS and MUGS
IMPORTED and DOMESTIC . . . $1.00 up

CAT, DOG, and PORKER BANKS $1.25 to $3.25

The Treasure House
Across from Old Main

Forum Entertainer

ELSA LANCHESTER, commedienne, singer, and night club impersonator whose "Private Music Hall" played a one night stand last night in Schwab Auditorium. Appearing with the actress were the Madhatters, a comedy quartet, and pianist Ray Henderson.

41 Will Leave on Thursday To Attend UN Meetings

Forty-one students will attend meetings of the United Nations in New York, Thursday thru Sunday. The trip is jointly sponsored by the Education Student Council, Political Science department, and the Penn State Christian Association.

The group will leave from Old Main at 6:30 a.m. Thursday and will visit various UN committees in the afternoon. Friday the group will tour the UN buildings and offices. Mrs. Ede Samson, USWV delegate, will address the students at the U.S. delegation headquarters at 1:30 p.m.

Saturday morning will be spent visiting the various national delegations. Dr. Herrick B. Young, executive director of International House, New York City, will give a short talk at lunch Saturday.

Commenting on the unusually large interest in the trip, Miss Mary Jane Wyland of the PSCA, said it is largely due to "interest in the UN, the Education Student Council's handling of the publicity, and the bang-up job done by the over-all UN committee." This committee is composed of students and faculty from the PSCA, School of Education, and the Department of Political Science.

The students will stay at the Hotel Diplomat, W. 43d street. The entire group will hold a conference at 9 a.m. Friday at the hotel. They will return Sunday afternoon.

Parker Pens
Spend only what you wish . . . You can still give a Parker

MOYER WATCH SHOP
218 E. College

Sleeping Simmons Coeds Cool To False Fire

All it took was a broken glass and then a gonging bell to get hundreds of sleeping Simmons coeds out of bed at 2 a.m. yesterday into the shocking cold air.

Just as many of the half-asleep coeds suspected, it was truly a false alarm. The glass on a fire alarm on the third floor of the dormitory was broken by someone—thus the mass migration from the dormitory began with the sounding of the gong.

Doubt prevailed throughout the dormitory, particularly when it was learned the bell had not sounded on all floors of the south wing. Some thought it was a short circuit, but the campus patrol arrived on the scene (after most coeds were back asleep) and it was learned that someone had broken the alarm.

Honorary to Entertain Foreign Students Tonight

Pi Lambda Theta, woman's education honorary, will entertain students from eight foreign countries at a Christmas meeting at 7:30 tonight at the Corl street school.

Guests will describe Christmas in their countries or some other festival that occurs near the Christmas season.

Ziegler Will Speak

Professor P. T. Ziegler will speak on "The Future in Meat Production for Animal Husbandry Graduates" to members of the Block and Bridle Club at 7 tonight in 206 Agriculture.

The TAVERN

- ITALIAN SPAGHETTI, with Meat Sauce
- SEAFOOD PLATTERS
- PRIME SIRLOIN STEAKS
- DELICIOUS PLATTERS

Lead Tryouts Slated Tonight for 'Lute Song'

Tryouts for leads in Players' "Lute Song" will be held at 7 tonight in 200 Carnegie.

The feminine lead will sing five songs, and the male, two. Anyone interested must bring his own music and be prepared to sing, according to Robert D. Reifsnieder, assistant professor of dramatics.

The musical will be produced March 12-14 in Schwab Auditorium.

Give Shirts for Christmas

EVERY MAN has a favorite style of shirt, collar, cuff, front, weave and color. Now you can make his shirt gift "just what he likes best" by choosing from our immense stock.

ONLY $2.95

204 W. College Ave.

A GIFT FOR HER
A GIFT FOR HIM

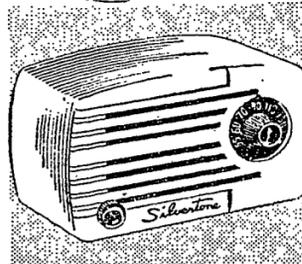

Table Model Radios
non-breakable metal cabinet
Put this compact, tone-true table model in any room. Quick-tuning single knob. Ivory color cabinet. Get yours today!

Reg. Price $15.95
Student Special Price . . . 11⁸⁸

New Trouble Light

Plugs into Cigar Lighter
Ideal for Christmas gift.

Reg. Price $7.95

Special Student Price . . . 5⁴⁹

To take advantage of these special student prices you must present this advertisement

SEARS, ROEBUCK and CO.

230 West College Avenue