

AIM Judicial Board Okayed

Town Council's approval Wednesday night of a constitutional amendment calling for the establishment of the Association of Independent Men Judicial Board of Review provided the third council approval of the three necessary for ratification.

The Daily Collegian incorrectly reported yesterday that Town Council was only the second independent men's council to approve the amendment. West Dorm and Pollock Councils approved the amendment Tuesday night. Nittany Council has not yet taken action on the amendment.

The second reading of the amendment was approved by the Board of Governors Dec. 4. Approval of two readings of an amendment is required before an amendment can be sent to the councils for ratification.

Eight-Member Group

The board which is created by the amendment will review disciplinary cases against independent men and groups. Action taken by the board will be in the form of recommendations to the Dean of Men's office.

The board will consist of a chairman and eight members—two from each of the four councils.

The chairman of the judicial board will be appointed by the executive committee of the AIM Board of Governors. The appointment will be subject to the approval of the Board of Governors. The chairman of the review board will appoint the members of the board from suggestions to be submitted by president of the councils.

May Be Open or Closed

The chairman will preside over the meetings and will vote only in case of a tie. When unable to attend a meeting he may appoint a board member to assume his duties.

The board may establish its own procedure except that any hearing must be open or closed if the student concerned so desires, according to the amendment.

Stolen Flag Is Mailed To Prexy

A package containing a stolen Pennsylvania flag arrived at President Milton S. Eisenhower's office yesterday morning by mail, according to Capt. Philip Mark of the Campus Patrol. The flag had been taken Sunday from Old Main lawn by three men from the University of Virginia.

Along with the package came this note: "Dear Mr. Eisenhower: Please accept our apologies for having taken your flag. Thank you for being so nice about it." The letter was signed, "Three University of Virginia Students."

The three students phoned President Eisenhower Monday and explained what had occurred, according to Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs.

President Eisenhower told the men he knew that the students of the University of Virginia were gentlemen and good sportsmen and that he therefore, was sure the flag would be returned in due time.

Kenworthy sent a letter to the editor of the Cavalier Daily at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville. The letter explained the affair and in part read: "We at Penn State are pleased with the final outcome of this incident and want to express our appreciation to the three students and to your student body for the exemplary attitude shown in making restoration."

No disciplinary action is intended. The College is satisfied with the outcome.

The program will include vocal selections by the choir, instrumental offerings by a group of Blue Band members, organ meditation by George E. Ceiga, Chapel organist, and a Christmas message, "The Faith That Was Born at Christmas," by Luther C. Harshbarger, College chaplain.

The choir, directed by Mrs. Willa C. Taylor, will sing four traditional carols, "Puer nobis nascitur," "Herricks Carol," "Sussex Carol," arranged by G. W. Henninger, and "Upon My Lap My Sovereign Sits" (Peerson); and a fantasia on traditional Christmas melodies, "Christmas Day," arranged by Holst.

TUB's Fate Undecided After SU

With construction of the new Student Union Building scheduled to start "as soon as possible," suggestions are now being made on how to utilize the Temporary Union Building.

For what the TUB will be used is not known. Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, said yesterday. He said a list of suggestions will be kept, and a decision will be made when the new SU building is completed in about 18 months.

College officials will sign contracts this week with Irwin and Leighton, contractors, of Philadelphia. No definite date has been set for the start of construction, but it is expected that work will begin early next month.

Total costs for the new SU will be about $2,867,000, with most of the funds coming from the $7.50 fee paid by students for the past two years. Beginning with the fall semester next year, that fee will be raised to $10 to further aid in financing the construction, in addition to aiding in the maintenance of the building.

According to Kenworthy, other sources of funds will be sought for the construction. He pointed out that President Milton S. Eisenhower has mentioned in the past that efforts will be made to obtain funds from other organizations. One possibility Kenworthy mentioned was the alumni of the College.

While construction of the SU is going on, an east wing will be added to the Nittany Lion Inn. The addition will provide 75 more guest rooms, doubling the present number. The Inn project will cost $1,072,000, which will be obtained from unexpended College building funds. Kenworthy explained this is money that the College borrowed for the construction of new women's dormitories three years ago.
