

Sinkers, Capitols Lead Cage Leagues 10 Post Boxing Wins; Semi-Finals Tonight

By TOM WERNER

A battle for top spot in league F and a show of strength by the league G champions were the main features in Independent court play at Rec Hall Monday night. All of leagues F, G, and two teams in League E saw action.

Last year's Independent champions, the Sinkers, showed plenty of offensive and defensive power in downing the Owls to remain at the top of League G with a four won and none lost slate.

Jim Garrity paced the Sinker attack with 28 points, enough of a score to win the game as the Owls had their wings clipped, 55-17. The Owls, with a 2-2 record, lapsed into a three way tie for fourth place.

Turtles Win

The Explorers didn't need a full squad to trim the Dorm 32 quintet 47-20. Leading the four man team was Ed Ritter with 26 markers. The winners, with three wins and one loss, went into a two way tie with the Turtles in the G league, while the losers were one of three teams in a tie for fourth spot.

The Turtles, tied with the Explorers in league standing, crawled over the 21 Club 23-16. Crawling the fastest was Winfred Doederlein with nine tallies.

Beaver House Falls

Also in league G, the Mustangs went into the race for third spot by way of a forfeit win from Jim's Gang who settled into the bottom rung of the G ladder with the 21 Club.

Beaver House came off second best in a battle with the Capitols for high honors in league F. Bill Kutz paced the Capitols attack with 12 points in an easy win, 31-10. Beaver House could manage only two field goals in the first half and the score stood 16-4 as the intermission whistle blew.

Ramblers Score

Tied with the Beaver House five for second place in league F is the Cubs who clawed Wilkinsburg into the league cellar, 37-17. Tony Marco was top scorer with 12 markers. The winners hold a three wins-one loss record, while Wilkinsburg remains low team on the pole with 0-4.

The Ramblers settled into a tie with the Huskies for third place by losing to the Hustlers 21-16. The Hustlers racked up their first win of the season, thereby saving themselves from a tie with the Wilkinsburg club.

The Huskies were too big for Dorm 33 by a 31-22 margin. Tom Werner with 17 tallies and Gerry Werner with 10 led the winning quintet into that tie for third spot in the F league.

The only other league represented on the floor was E league with Smith Hall taking a win by forfeit over the Bone crushers who have yet to win their first game.

NBC to Carry Health Show Saturday Night

A study of school health examinations, now in progress at the College, will be the basis for a nation-wide radio broadcast 7:30 to 8 p.m. Saturday over NBC.

The project, being conducted by the Social Science Research Center, is an attempt to explore factors resulting in a poor follow-up of school health examinations and means of improving the per cent of follow-ups.

Dr. William G. Mather, professor of rural sociology, is in charge of the program, sponsored by the Health Information Foundation of New York City.

The broadcast will stress the importance of corrective action following the discovery of defects by the school health examinations. Re-recordings of interviews made in the project will be used in the broadcast, and local people will portray the characters in the skit.

Seven independents and three fraternity pugilists gave yesterday what was probably the best card showing in Rec Hall since the beginning of the IM boxing tournament two weeks ago. Their impressive style, techniques, and confidence were certainly telling before some 300 spectators.

Although the independents dominated the boxing card, Delta Upsilon, defending champions, was able to advance one of its two men for 16 wins to keep its fraternity lead. Sigma Nu, Beta Theta Pi, and Phi Sigma Kappa also advanced one man but each trail with 12 wins.

Parros Lands Hardest

Carefully looking over each other's style in the initial round, the light heavyweight Bill Parros landed the harder punches in the following rounds to win over Bill Thomas. Parros stunned his defensive-minded opponent with a one-two to the head and then with a right. It was Thomas' failure to block Parros' attempted jabs after landing a punch that was decisive.

Welterweight "Stocky" Laid hit the unorthodox Walt Stanish with a flurry of rights and lefts to the head and midsection to receive a unanimous verdict. Stanish, who held his gloves wide apart and close to his body, endeavored to rally in the final round but to no avail.

Green Wins

Howard Pendelberry swarmed over his tired and taller foe, Ronald Kury, to win his first bout. The former pugilist hit Kury with a right and left hook to the jaw and then staggered Kury with a straight right to the jaw.

Although Don Hartay rushed Paul Green in every round, never letting up, the latter fighter connected with the harder punches to win. The taller Green took Hartay's slapping punches well and landed long crude rights to Hartay's head. Green reddened the loser's face with terrific rights in the third round.

After falling to the canvas from Bob Miller's right to the face, Bob McMath rallied in the final two rounds and finally stopped the taller opponent with vicious rights to the head in :35 of the third round.

Ex-Champ Wins

Lightweight Larry Fornicola gained a "disputed" unanimous decision from Dick Evanko, despite Evanko's knockdown in the first round and the right that staggered Fornicola in the third round. The decision was booed by the spectators.

Sylvan Taub, Phi Epsilon Pi, captured the fancy of the crowd with his bobbing and weaving in his encounter with Norman Hickey, Sigma Nu. But the scrappy Sigma Nu caught the fancy of the judges with his consistent body punches. Hickey's deciding blows came in the third round when he jabbed a right and left to Taub's midsection and followed with a right to the chin.

Arch Kinder, DU, who picked up three successive forfeit wins, lost a unanimous decision to experience and 1950 middleweight
