

Phi Sig to Hold Dance Saturday

Phi Sigma Sigma will hold its third annual square dance 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday in Recreation Hall. Proceeds from the annual affair will go to the National Rheumatic Fever Fund, the sorority's national philanthropic project.

Ross Lytle and his orchestra will play. Tickets for the dance are available from members of the sorority and at the Student Union desk in Old Main. Tickets are priced at 30 cents a person.

The two previous square dances sponsored by the sorority have each netted about $200 profit. For those affairs, the Association of Independent Men assisted with publicity.

During Christmas vacation the Lancaster Heart Haven received a gift of $500 from the sorority's national philanthropic fund. Judith Lippmann, president of the Penn State chapter; Miriam Flickstein, member of the local chapter; and Mrs. Arthur Markowitz, former national president of Phi Sigma Sigma and now National Panhellenic representative, presented the check to Paul G. Murray, president of the Heart Haven board of directors.

The sorority, which has more than 5000 members in the United States and Canada, raises several thousand dollars yearly through its chapters and alumnae for its philanthropic fund. Each year three or four gifts, ranging from $500 to $1000, are presented to organizations dealing in rheumatic fever work. The remainder of the money raised is placed in a special rheumatic fever research fund. Each year a different area in the country is selected for the gift, the Lancaster Heart Haven being chosen this year as one of the recipients.

WSGA Senate

Four Students Attend USCC Study Group

Four students, William Griffith, Allen Marshall, Kirk Garber, and Bruce Wagner, attended the quadrennial study conference of the United Student Christian Council, Dec. 27 through Jan. 3 at Morgan State College, Baltimore.

Two hundred and eighty-two delegates attended the conference, one of three held during the Christmas vacation. The other two were held at Parkville, Mo. and Palo Alto, Cal.

The conference covered major issues of the times, exploring three areas of concern—the church, the university, and the world struggle.

Worship services and Bible study were fundamental features of the meeting. The students discussed political and economic problems, using the Bible as well as textbooks and novels to illustrate problems confronting them. Experiences from the conference will be reported to campus Christian groups.

Fashion Academy To Award Grants

Three fashion fellowships will be awarded by Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers in a nation-wide competition among college seniors. Each fellowship covers the full tuition of $1050 for the year 1953-54. Senior women graduating before Aug. 31 are eligible to enter.

The winners' one-year course will emphasize actual contact with the fashion industry plus ten weeks working experience in New York.

Registration blanks for the fellowship competition may be obtained from the Fashion Fellowship Secretary, Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers, 851 Madison Avenue, New York 21, N.Y. Registration ends Jan. 30.

Pretty Teacher

Joan Hutchon

Hutchon Places 2d in Radio Beauty Contest

Joan Hutchon, seventh semester English composition major, has added the title of "second most beautiful teacher in the nation" to her previous beauty honors. She was awarded $100 in the national contest which gave her the title.

Unknown to Miss Hutchon, two students in the Camp Curtin Junior High School, Harrisburg, where she is a student teacher, entered her picture in the contest. Each of the students received a $50 war bond.

The contest was conducted by "Our Miss Brooks," a radio program dealing with the problems of an English teacher.

Miss Hutchon is president of the Women's Student Government Association. Her campus titles include Belle Hop queen, Miss Penn State finalist, and maid of honor to the May Queen. Last year she was named "Coed of the Month" by American magazine.

Nell Owen, Dallas, Tex., was named "most beautiful teacher in the nation" in the contest.

Don't start that bonfire till the game is over

OR
That was no crying towel; that was my old school tie!

Once there was a basketball team that was the Hottest Thing in the Conference—until its high-scoring center, a 6½-foot Lump, of dubious intellect, developed a bad attack of the Flunks, and wound up Number 1 on the Ineligible List. This with the team right up against the Crucial Game for the Conference Title.

The first half was Grim. Our boys limped off to the dressing room trailing by 30 points. The Coach had just embarked on a touching Word Picture of himself, his wife and three helpless dependents Starving in the Streets, when in burst the Assistant Manager, trundling an overflowing wheelbarrow. In it were telegrams—hundreds of 'em—from fraternities and sororities, the head of the Student Council, the Dean, the faculty, the janitor, from practically Every Student on Campus—all bearing the stirring exhortation "Win this one for Old Blackstrap!"

Was the team Buoyed Up? Oh buoy! Won by 4 points, in overtime. They're now known around the conference as the Western Union Wonders.

Seriously, there's nothing like a Telegram to put heart into the guy—or the team—that gets it. Likewise, there's no nicer way to say "Well Done!" In fact, for just about any communicate . . . whether it's a Flash for Cash to the Folks Back Home or Soft Words to a Distant Damsel . . . it's better to make the pitch via Western Union.
