

Changes Announced For Recess

Notices about vacating women's dormitories, changed meal hours and dry cleaning agency schedules, warnings of late registration, publication cessation, and plans for the spring semester orientation program have arrived with the close of the semester.

Dean of Women Pearl O. Weston announced Wednesday that women in the dormitories must vacate their rooms within 24 hours after their last examination. However, women students who have late finals or who have a valid excuse for staying in the dorms during the semester recess will be permitted to stay on the campus.

Men's dormitories will remain open during the recess.

Women's dining hours for lunch from Jan. 17 to 27 will be from 12:10 to 12:40 p.m. Dinner will be served beginning at 5:45 p.m. The Daily Collegian incorrectly reported Thursday that meals would be served at 5 p.m.

Lunch will be served to men from 11:45 a.m. to 1 p.m. and dinner will be served from 5 to 6:15 p.m., according to Mildred A. Baker, director of College Food Service.

In announcing the changed schedule for the Student Dry Cleaning Agency, Joseph Banks, manager, said the agency will be open Monday through Friday from noon until 1 p.m. and from 5:30 until 6:30 p.m. It will be closed Saturday but will be open Sunday from 5:30 until 6:30 p.m. Normal operations will be resumed Feb. 2.

Students will register in Recreation Hall Jan. 28 to 31 according to an alphabetical schedule printed on the official registration envelope, according to H. A. Sperber, assistant scheduling officer. The registration envelope (Continued on page eight)

Frosh Women To Be Barred Next Semester

No first semester freshman women will be admitted to the campus for the spring semester, the Dean of Admissions office announced yesterday.

Over 300 new students are expected, including 148 first semester men, 127 upper class men, and 33 upper class women, the office reported.

According to curriculum distribution, the School of Liberal Arts will admit the most freshmen, 68, while the School of Engineering will be second with 49.

The School of Engineering will admit the most students, 95, while the School of Liberal Arts is second with 86. The School of Home Economics will admit the most upperclass women, 11.

The total of expected students includes those who have paid admission fees by Jan. 9. These totals may increase by ten per cent by the time the spring semester begins, officials said.

Last year 91 freshmen men and 49 freshmen women were admitted to the College for the spring semester.

Transfer students from centers and other colleges, Korean War veterans, and students readmitted to the College are included as new upper class students.

Lehigh Tests Matmen; Courtmen Meet Ithaca

Cagers After 8th Tonight Over Bombers

Big, dependable Joe Piorkowski will play before his last home crowd tonight when the Nittany Lion cagers host a smaller Bomber quintet from Ithaca College. Starting time is 8:45, immediately following the wrestling match against Lehigh.

Because of his experience and know-how, the 6-3 senior has been playing the all-important position of the center slot in the zone defense. His loss will be a big blow to the Lion squad who have lost four of their 11 games.

Fortunately, however, Piorkowski will still be eligible for the tough University of Pennsylvania game Jan. 31. That will be his last game for Penn State.

Coached by Ben Light

The Staters will be the favorites in tonight's contest. They have an advantage in height and also an important two day rest period—the longest one they've had in the past 11 days.

Ithaca, coached by Ben Light, have a 3-6 record with all of their victories at home and all the defeats on the road. Their highest score this year was a '93-67 rout of a Hancock Air Field quintet.

Leading the New Yorkers is Ed Byrne, a 6-2 forward with an average of better than 16 points a game. He had a field night on Monday against the service boys, when he scored 23 tallies on ten fieldgoals and three foul shots.

Starting Lineup

Last year the Lions defeated the Bombers in the Staters opener—51-21.

WMAJ to Air 'Dimes' Show

"Dimes and Dollars for Discs," a radio request show designed to raise funds for the Centre County March of Dimes, will be heard from 9-12 p.m. tomorrow over station WMAJ.

In exchange for pledges to the polio drive, WMAJ disc jockeys will play records requested by organizations or individuals.

Pledges received on last year's show totaled over $1000 with an estimated 90 per cent of the contributions coming from students.

The March of Dimes drive is not covered by Campus Chest because a national foundation regulation prohibits the acceptance of funds collected under a combined drive. The local chapter will not solicit students individually by postcard this year.

TV Available At Inauguration

Facilities have been made available in State College for students and others to view inaugural activities in Washington Tuesday over television.

Dr. David W. Russell, professor of education, announced that assembly halls with TV facilities will be open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Nittany Post 245, American Legion, 300 S. Pugh street; Fulton Bandis Kuhn Post 321, Veterans of Foreign Wars, 149 N. Atherton street; and Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Lodge No. 1600, 199 S. Burrowes street.

Arrangements were made by the committee on international education of the School of Education.

WRESTLING CO-CAPTAINS Don Frey (left) and Joe Lemyre (right) seem to think the basketball Herm Sledzik, captain of the Lion cage team, is holding something to laugh at. Apparently they think it doesn't offer as much opposition as another grappler. The trio of captains will lead Penn State in its first double-header of the season in Rec Hall tonight. The wrestlers meet Lehigh while the basketball squad faces Ithaca.

400 to Get Degrees At Commencement

There will be no academic procession or recessional for the approximately 400 graduating seniors at Commencement exercises 2 p.m. Jan. 27 in Recreation Hall, according to instructions released yesterday by David H. McKinley, College marshal.

Copies of the instructions will be distributed through various departments to all candidates for the B.A. and B.S. degrees. Candidates for advanced degrees may get theirs from department heads.

Students are instructed to enter from Burrowes road by the north or south doors, according to the side on which they will be seated. They will wear caps and gowns as they enter the building. Meetings with families and friends should be arranged to take place outside Rec Hall, after the ceremony.

Immediately following the Commencement exercises, official diplomas will be handed out at the counter of the Recorder's office, ground floor, Willard Hall. Graduates must present matriculation cards to receive diplomas.

Liberal Arts graduating seniors should report to 132 Sparks for graduating commencement instructions. Journalism seniors should go to 115 Carnegie.

For those receiving bachelor degrees, academic costumes will be required. However, students receiving commissions into the Armed Forces will wear appropriate uniforms. Dress, presentation of awards, and seating will be determined by commanding officers.

A procession for the faculty will begin at 1:55 p.m. with musical accompaniment by George Ceiga, assistant professor of music. College Chaplain Luther H. Harshbarger will deliver the invocation.

Dr. George V. Allen, United States ambassador to Yugoslavia since 1950, will deliver the address. Degrees will be conferred and commissions presented after the address. President Milton S. Eisenhower will then deliver a charge to the graduates. The singing of the Alma Mater, Benediction, and a faculty, dean, and Presidential recessional will close the ceremony.

Lion Wrestlers Risk Dual Win Streak Tonight

Coach Charlie Speidel will unveil his Eastern Intercollegiate wrestling championship squad against its keenest rival—the Engineers of Lehigh—at 7 tonight in Recreation Hall.

At stake in the ever-important dual meet are:

(1) Penn State's 21 dual meet winning streak. (Last defeat was at the hands of Syracuse in 1950.)

(2) The Lions' two-time ETWA championship (1951 and 1952) reputation.

(3) Dick Lemyre's and Jerry Maurey's unbeaten string of ten and six dual meets, respectively.

(4) Gerald C. Leeman's four consecutive triumphs as Lehigh's new varsity coach.

(5) And Lehigh's 12 dual meet wins without a defeat. (Penn State conquered the Engineers last year in their first meet, 20-5).

Both Speidel and Leeman will present two squads comprised of veterans. "Although we will have a veteran team, so will Lehigh," Speidel said. "The Engineers are well-seasoned."

Leading the group of letter-winners will be co-captains Joe Lemyre and Don Frey of Penn State and Captain Ed Mahoney of Lehigh.

Scholarships Made Available

National headquarters of Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity have announced a scholarship program by which graduate and undergraduate women may apply for financial aid.

Three $500 fellowships for graduate study are available to women 30 years or younger who are citizens of the United States or Canada and will receive their bachelor's degree before July 1 from a college or university with a chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Foreign study scholarships for students who need some financial aid are available at a maximum of $400 each.

Women who have completed two years of college at an institution where there is a chapter of the fraternity may apply for student loans.

Undergraduate scholarships and graduate counselor scholarships are available to Kappa Kappa Gamma members.

Further information and applications may be obtained at the Dean of Women's office.

Student Enrollment Material Available

Students working with the enrollment committee who have not picked up material for distribution to high school seniors are asked to call Andrew McNeillie, enrollment committee chairman, at State College 3411 from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Approximately 90 students have registered to return to their high schools between semesters to discuss student life and give general information concerning the College.

'Old Mania' Notices

Noon today is the deadline for submitting notices of pinning, engagements and marriages for Froth's "Old Mania" at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

College Prepares Joint Program For Engineers

Arrangements have been completed between Penn State and five other colleges for joint programs to train students in engineering.

Under the provisions of the plan, students enrolled at any of the colleges, Albright, Gettysburg, Lycoming, Muskingum, or Westminster, will complete three years work and then transfer to Penn State for an additional two years complete training in one of the several engineering curriculums. Upon completion of the work, a student will qualify for degrees from both colleges.

The program is designed to meet the critical need for men trained in engineering. It will also enable a student to obtain a general education in a liberal arts college as well as a technological education in a school of engineering in five years. This replaces the six or more years that might be required without the planned program. The joint program should also prove a financial saving for some students.

Kahanowitz Promoted By Daily Collegian

Lynn Kahanowitz has been promoted to assistant society editor, senior editorial board of the Daily Collegian, David Pellnitz, editor, announced yesterday.

Miss Kahanowitz will assume her duties at the beginning of the second semester when LaVonne Althouse will become society editor, replacing Virginia Opoczinski, who will graduate Jan. 27.
