FIVE CENTS

RILW to Officially Begin With Dinner

The annual kick-off dinner tonight and Chapel service, Catholic Mass, and local church services tomorrow, morning will officially open Religion-in-Life Week to the public. The Rev. E. A. deBordenave, rector of Christ Church in Philadelphia, will speak at both the dinner and Chapel.

The dinner, designed to acquaint student leaders, local ministers, and guest speakers with the week's program, will be held at 6 tonight in the Westminster Foundation. Dr. deBordenave will introduce the topic "Your Place in the World's Jigsaw."

Dr. deBordenave will speak on "The Evil of Being Good" at Chapel 11 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

The RILW tea, sponsored annually by the dean of women and dean of men, will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow in Simmons Hall lounge. Dr. deBordenave will introduce the week's theme, "The Student in the University, the World Struggle, and the Church," at 4 p.m.

Pouring at the tea will be Dean of Women Pearl O. Weston, Mrs. Frank J. Simes, Miss Mary Jane Wyland, Mrs. Luther H. Harshbarger, Mrs. Donald C. Jones, and Mrs. W. Conrad Fernelius.

A panel discussion will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow in 10 Sparks. Dr. deBordenave, in an introduction to the week's theme, will emphasize mainly "The Student in the University."

The activities scheduled for Monday will initiate a general pattern of fireside discussion periods and public evening lectures.

A discussion of "The World Struggle" will be led by Father Charles Owen Rice, Dr. deBordenave, Professor Robert Mickey, A. Burns Chalvirs, and Miss Jimmie Woodward at 8 p.m. Monday in Sparks. The topic "The Student and the University" will be expounded in Hamilton Hall lounge at 4 p.m. Monday. Classroom discussions, led by faculty, administration, and guests, will continue from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and fireside discussions in dormitories and fraternities will begin at 5 p.m.

Requests for fireside discussion leaders have been received from 60 fraternities and independent living units, William Griffith, RILW chairman, announced.

AIM Postpones Board Meeting

The meeting of the Association of Independent Men Judicial Board of Review has been postponed from Monday to Feb. 23, Edward Thieme, chairman, has announced.

Thieme said the meeting would conflict with Religion-in-Life Week and that the board wanted to do more investigating before it hears its first cases.

Complaint forms are now available for independent men to use in reporting offenders to the board, he said. The forms may now be obtained in the Dean of Men's office. He said forms will soon be available from dormitory presidents, advisers, and dormitory council presidents.

W&M Grad To Speak At Chapel

The Rev. Dr. E. A. deBordenave, rector of Christ Church in Philadelphia, will speak on "The Evil of Being Good" at Chapel services 11 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium. This service will be the opening of the annual Religion-in-Life Week on campus.

Dr. deBordenave, a native of Franklin, Va., received his A.B. from William and Mary College and his B.D. from Virginia Theological Seminary. He was formerly rector of St. Paul's Church in Richmond and St. Paul's Church in Alexandria.

While chaplain in the U.S. Navy, Dr. deBordenave served at advance base units in Africa, Sicily, Italy, and Southern France. Following an ETO tour of duty, he was sent to the Pacific as chaplain on the cruiser U.S.S. Birmingham, commanded by Rear Admiral Richard Cruzen. Dr. deBordenave now holds the rank of Lt. Commander in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

As dean of Episcopal schools in the state of Virginia from 1946 to 1950, Dr. deBordenave expounded the question, "What is the ultimate purpose of education?" in many articles, educational conferences, and sermons.

Dr. deBordenave is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

The Chapel Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Willa C. Taylor, will sing as introt "God Is Our Refuge" and as anthem "O Be Joyful" (Fretchaninoff).

George Ceiga, organist, will play as prelude "Cathedral Prelude" (Clokey), as offertory "My Innermost Heart Rejoices" (Brahms), and as postlude "Canzona Dopo L'Epistola" (Frescobaldi).

Dance Signup Deadline Set for Noon Today

Noon today is the deadline for registration in the beginners' dance class sponsored by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary.

The first 250 students to sign up at the Student Union desk in Old Main will be admitted to the classes to be held from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. beginning Monday in the Temporary Union Building.

The cost for the seven lessons will be $1. Elaine Russell, former Arthur Murray instructor, will conduct the class.

Plans May Double Infirmary Capacity

Normal capacity of the College Hospital will be doubled if plans pending before the General State Authority are approved, Dr. Herbert R. Glenn, director of the College Health Service, said yesterday.

The plans to complete the Infirmary call for construction of two wings to the hospital. These wings will increase the medical facilities of the Infirmary and increase its capacity from 30 to 60 students. If pressed for room, as during the current wave of grippe on campus, the enlarged Infirmary could accommodate almost 100 students, Glenn said. A "good many empty beds" are available in the present Infirmary, Glenn said as he reported improvement in the Infirmary situation. Thirty beds, normal capacity of the Infirmary, are still filled.

The decrease in patients was attributed to admittance to the hospital of only two of 25 students who were examined yesterday. Earlier this week admissions were running as high as 12 to 25 a day out of an examined 50 to 70 students. This decrease in the number of cases probably indicated a near end of the high number of grippe cases, he said.

Conditions in the Infirmary still were not normal, Glenn said, because the Infirmary usually does not operate at capacity. The present suspension of Infirmary visiting hours will continue indefinitely due to the presence of the contagious upper respiratory diseases cases.

At noon yesterday, Glenn was still making morning rounds to empty as many beds as possible for later in the day. Students who are ill may go to the Infirmary for examination any time this weekend, he said.

Dr. Glenn had worked on plans for the Infirmary wings for 18 months and submitted them to the College. Construction apparently, is only awaiting action by GSA.

Plans for construction of a new classroom and office building and an army, air, and naval sciences building are also pending before the corporation.

No information was available yesterday about official excuses being issued to students who had been ill and asked by Health Service officials to remain in their rooms. Under present regulations, these cases may not be excused.

Walker to Talk Monday

Eric A. Walker, dean of the School of Engineering, will speak on "Engineers Get Organized" Monday in 110 Electrical Engineering. Students enrolled in Engineering 3 will attend the lecture.

Spring Carnival Income To Aid Scholarship Fund

The income of this year's Spring Carnival will be added to the principal of the Penn State Student Scholarship Fund as a result of action taken by All-College Cabinet Thursday.

A proposal requesting such action was made by Chairman of the scholarship committee Edgar Fehnel. Fehnel explained that this fund is the only one of its kind at Penn State and is the only one supported, maintained, and augmented by students and student organizations. The present principal totals $3287, and a working fund of $124 exists.

The committee is seeking additional funds for the working fund so three $50 scholarships may be awarded. However, Fehnel said, no definite number of scholarships or the amount of each has been decided yet.

Scholarship application forms will be available to students Feb. 25 through March 6 at the Student Union desk in Old Main. Preference is given to needy students who must work part-time and who have made some contribution to campus student activities, Fehnel said.

The All-College Cabinet committee on recreation reported that a professional ping-pong exhibition between Pauline Betz, four time national champion, and her partner, Lando Glancz, is under consideration. Proceeds from the College Selects New Vet Prof

Dr. John Hokanson of Wilton, Wis., has been named associate professor of veterinary science in the School of Agriculture. He will aid in research on the purebred herds and flocks of the College, according to Dr. A. L. Bortree, head of the veterinary science division.

A graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Dr. Hokanson received his Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree at Cornell University in 1943.

Dr. Hokanson is a member of Phi Zeta, national honorary veterinary fraternity. He is secretary of the American veterinary section on surgery and obstetrics and is second vice president of the national council of Alpha Psi, national veterinary fraternity.

Grid Films To Boost Chest Fund

Films of the Pitt-Penn State football game will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in 119 Osmond, according to Edwin Kohn, president of Blue Key Hat society.

Richard Crafton, chairman of the committee in charge of the showing, said the showing is sponsored by Blue Key as a fund raising project for the Campus Chest. A charge of 25 cents a person will be made.

James J. O'Hara, assistant professor of physical education, will narrate the showing.

Touchdown scenes, which had been removed for newsreels, have been replaced, Kohn said.

The project is apparently one of the first of several additional fund-raising events hinted at by Campus Chest officials. The possibility of additional fund-raising projects appeared when the Campus Chest drive reached only 92 per cent of its $12,000 goal. The amount raised by the end of the drive is $11,048.98—an amount that is subject to change pending collection of the pledged money by the bursar. Collections of fees is scheduled for Thursday and Friday.

Of the $11,048.98 pledged or collected, $1300.34 was obtained from the receipts of the Kickoff Dance, Sept. 19—another fund raising project for the Campus Chest other than the solicitation drive itself.

Thursday Named Hat Society Day

Hat Society Council Tuesday night decided that every Thursday will be Hat Day for all campus hat societies. James Plyler, president of Hat Society Council, asked that all hat groups comply with this ruling.

Theodore Browne, secretary of Blue Key, junior men's hat society, was congratulated for that group's work on athletic books. These books, given to all members of visiting athletic teams, describe the athletic facilities of the College.

Formal Pledging May Begin Today

Second semester freshmen may be formally pledged after 8 a.m. today, according to Interfraternity Council rules. IFC rules also require that a man pledging a fraternity must have at least a 1.0 All-College average or a 1.0 for the semester preceding his pledging.

Arthur Rosfeld, IFC president, has repeatedly urged that fraternities keep these rules in mind when pledging men.

Informal bids could be extended previous to 8 a.m. today, but these informal bids are not binding until this time, and the issuing of pledge pins is restricted until this time.

Every fraternity is required to turn in a pledge card for each pledge by 5 p.m. Wednesday. A $2 fee for each pledge must be paid by this time. Pledge cards may be picked up at the Student Union desk in Old Main.
