

Ohio Dean to Address Graduate School Today

Dr. Paul Hudson, dean of the Graduate School at Ohio State, will address faculty and students of the Graduate School at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, in Schwab Auditorium. His subject will be "The Essentials of Graduate Education."

Dr. Hudson studied at James Millikin University, received his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago, studied medicine at Rush Medical College and earned a M.D. at Harvard.

He has served as assistant pathologist at Boston City Hospital and field director of the international health division, Rockefeller Foundation. He has also conducted research on yellow fever in Africa.

In 1933, Dean Hudson became professor of bacteriology at the University of Chicago and in 1935, head of the department of bacteriology at Ohio State. He became graduate dean in 1946.

Following the meeting, the Graduate Student Council will present a resume of the organization's objectives and a brief entertainment program. Included in the program will be a quartet composed of George Davey, Jack Kapitanoff, James Hess, and Richard Wrentmore; a ventriloquist, Phillip Wein; a piano solo by Joseph Rosenthal; and a juggling exhibition by Oliver Helmrich. Gene Love will act as master of ceremonies.

The meeting of the Graduate School faculty, scheduled for Thursday afternoon, has been canceled.

Transportation Group Plans Ticket Sales

A ticket agency sponsored and staffed by Delta Nu Alpha, professional transportation fraternity will soon be set up in the West Dorm lobby to supply the bus ticket needs of students.

Prof. Charles E. Woodring, assistant professor of transportation economics and adviser of the group, said the group now has the agency for the Edward's Lakes to Sea Lines and is waiting for final approval from the Greyhound Bus Lines.

The fraternity, he said, has been given a room off the West Dorm Lobby and will begin sales as soon as the Greyhound sanction is received.

Dr. R. Hadly Waters, professor of transportation economics, stated the agency would handle regular and charter service and also be available to arrange transportation for field trips. The bus companies' paid commissions will go into the fraternity's treasury. Waters said the work would give transportation students experience in traffic sales and handling.

Ambassador Tour Set for Tonight

The Ambassador Tour of the School of Home Economics will begin at 7:30 tonight with a speech by Dr. Grace M. Henderson, dean of the school in the home economics living center.

Following the speech, small groups will be conducted through the departments of the school. Each department head will give a brief talk on the work of her department. Following the tour refreshments will be served.

The Ambassador Tours are sponsored by Penn State alumni to give residents of the community an opportunity to visit the different schools and learn more about them.

If the number 999 were printed on a card and reflected upside down in a mirror, 666 would not appear.

Assignments Accepted by Four Profs

Four members of the School of Agriculture faculty have accepted special assignments in foreign nations.

A. H. Imhof, assistant professor of agricultural journalism, was granted a year's leave of absence to accept an assignment with the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

He will spend the year in Ceylon aiding the ministry of agriculture in developing an agricultural information program. This includes training personnel in agricultural news, radio, bulletins, and other media aimed at increasing food production.

Dr. William C. Paddock, assistant professor of plant pathology, has resigned his position to go to Guatemala where he joined Iowa State College scientists studying maize corn in its original environment. Numerous lines of the so-called "Indian corn" are being investigated for specific characteristics which may improve corn hybrids in the United States.

Dr. George E. Brandow, professor of agricultural economics, accepted a one-year assignment with the Mutual Security Administration to serve as agricultural and price policy adviser to the government of Turkey. He is using his sabbatical year for the assignment.

Dr. Hubert W. Frings, associate professor of entomology, will leave for France April 1. He will spend three months with French scientists and lecture in the Universities of France, Italy, and Germany.

RILW Panel --

A panel discussion of "The Student and the World Struggle" will be held in Hamilton Hall lounge 4 to 5 p.m. today. The panel will be composed of Professor Wayne Glick of Juniata College and the Rev. Harmon Gehr.

Fireside discussions will be continued in fraternities and dormitories from 5 to 7:30 tonight. Leading the discussions will be Betty Boyd at Simmons Hall, Professor Wayne Glick at Zeta Beta Tau, A. Burns Chalmers at Alpha Tau Omega, the Rev. Paul W. Lingle at Phi Kappa Sigma, Miss Jimmie Woodward at Sigma Nu, the Rev. Robert Eads at Acacia, Professor H. W. Frings at Delta Theta Sigma, Professor Robert Mickey at Kappa Delta Rho, Professor Harold Yeagley at Tau Phi Delta, Professor Mark Ebersole at Beta Sigma Rho, Professor E. H. Freund at Kappa Sigma, and Professor Warren S. Smith at Delta Chi.

Any group of 20 or more persons wanting a fireside leader for Thursday or Friday nights may still contract one by calling extension 547 and stating the place, time, and person in charge of the meeting and the topic desired for discussion.

Personal interviews with the speakers may be arranged by calling extension 547.

"Student interest in RILW has this year reached its greatest peak in the last 10 years," William Griffith, chairman, stated. "Cooperation on all sides has far exceeded expectations," he said.

Home Ec Club to Hold Silver Demonstration

A silver demonstration will be featured at the Home Economics Club meeting, 6:30 tonight in the Home Economics Living Center. S. F. Crabtree, of Crabtree's Jewelry Store, will show silver patterns and silver pieces. The meeting is open to the public.

Quartet Contest Plans Revealed

An all-College barber-shop quartet contest, sponsored by the sophomore class, has been set for early in March.

Both men and women students interested in trying out may register Feb. 23-27 at the Student Union desk in Old Main. Tryouts will be held in the TUB March 9-15. Final competition will be March 18 in Schwab Auditorium. Contestants are to sing two songs and wear appropriate dress in both tryouts.

The contest, the first of its kind to be held at the College, will be judged by members of the Music department. Three prizes for men and three for women will be awarded.

Talent Show Tickets

General admission tickets for the 13th annual all-College Talent Show, to be held at 8 p.m. Friday in Schwab Auditorium, are on sale at the Student Union desk in Old Main for 85 cents.

Locklin to Talk Tonight

A. Pauline Locklin, associate professor of English literature, will address the Belles Lettres Club on "Warbling Seagulls" and other literary lapses at 7 tonight in the northeast lounge of Atherton Hall.

Pre-Vets Plan Speech Series

Dr. S. F. Scheidy, president of the Pennsylvania Veterinary Medical Association, will be the first of a series of speakers at Pre-Vet Club meetings. He will speak at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in 105 Agriculture.

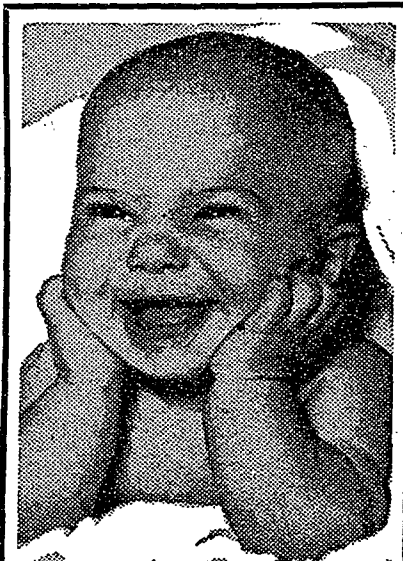

Dr. Scheidy is veterinary medical director for the Sharp and Dohme pharmaceutical firm in West Point, Pa., and a member of the veterinary faculty at the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Mark Allen, dean of the School of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, will speak in March. Dr. T. Y. Tanabe, research worker at the Dairy Cattle Breeding Research Center, is scheduled to speak at the April meeting.

Froth Girl Photos Available at SU

Students who have submitted photographs for Froth "Girl of the Month" may pick up the photographs at the Student Union desk in Old Main, according to Richard Neuweiler, editor.

Neuweiler said there is an accumulation of photographs of Froth girl candidates which students may obtain by asking for them by name. If a student is unable to obtain her photograph at the Student Union desk, she should leave a note to that effect in the Froth box addressed to Neuweiler, he said.
