

Penn State Will Adhere To NCAA Rules—McCoy

Penn State will adhere closely to intercollegiate rules designed to make football a game carried on for the benefit of the player, according to Ernest B. McCoy, dean of the School of Physical Education and Athletics.

Speaking before a meeting of the College chapter of the American Association of University Professors, McCoy praised the recent

Pollock Men Dissatisfied With Meals

Continued student dissatisfaction with dining hall service in the Nittany-Pollock area was discussed at a meeting of the Pollock Council Tuesday night.

It was cited that on last Thursday a soup-sandwich combination was served. This was in direct contradiction to a promise by Bruce Robinson, food supervisor for Nittany dining hall, that he would try to eliminate such a combination on Mondays and Thursdays. It was noted that he said he would recommend to the menu committee that this combination be dropped on these days due to the many Monday and Thursday 11 o'clock classes. At noon on these days there is a large influx of students into the dining hall. When soup and sandwiches are served, the line moves slower than usual.

Immediate action was impossible because menus are made out four weeks in advance, it was pointed out.

Food complaint forms were given to Pollock dormitory presidents. These forms may be obtained by those wishing to file a food complaint or suggestion. It was pointed out that by filing suggestions better menus could be planned and fitted according to student wishes.

Student Jobs Now Available For Summer

The Student Employment Office has announced over 800 jobs are available in camps and resorts for this summer. One hundred fifty camps in 12 states and Canada have sent in job openings to the office already.

The complete list of camps is on file at the office. Students must file their own records to the camps and resorts.

As a further aid in obtaining information, a resort seminar will be held March 2 in 100 Horticulture. Sections will be held at 3 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Frank Birdsall, manager of the Skyline Inn and the Pocono Manor Inn, will be guest speaker at the seminar. He will discuss working conditions, requirements for job applicants, and living conditions at the resorts.

This is the second year the seminar has been held here. No other college offers a similar plan.

75 Attend Home Ec Ambassador Tour

Approximately 75 Penn State alumni and area residents attended the second Ambassador Tour held at the Home Economics Building Tuesday night. Dr. Gerald B. M. Stein, chairman, said today.

Delpha E. Weisendanger, assistant dean of the School of Home Economics, faculty members, and students were in charge of the tour. Coffee and cookies were served.

Three more tours will be held this year. Eugene M. Fulmer, president of the Penn State Alumni Club, sponsor of the tours, said.

300 Lambs to Arrive

Approximately 300 purebred lambs will arrive at the College this month, Carroll S. Shaffner, assistant in animal husbandry, has announced.

About 75 Southdowns, 65 Hampshires, 45 Cheviots, 45 Dorsets, 40 Merinos, and 30 Shropshires will be included.

Robin Redbreast Won't Return-- He Never Left!!

Although many feel the appearance of the first robin is a sure sign of spring, the feathered fellow may have been around all winter.

According to Merrill Wood, associate professor of zoology, bird watchers have seen robins in Centre County nearly every week this winter.

Although seldom seen in colder months, a few robins winter in the northern states. On warm days in late winter the birds' noise and activity deceive many people into thinking they have seen a true sign of spring.

A singing bird is the best sign of spring. Male robins sing only on their breeding grounds, and these singing birds are the ones who will stay in the same vicinity to build their nests and rear their young.

'Right You Are' Tryouts Scheduled

Tryouts for Players' final Center Stage production, Louigi Pirandello's "Right You Are (If You Think So)" will be held at 7 p.m. Monday and Tuesday in the Green Room of Schwab Auditorium.

Warren S. Smith, associate professor of dramatics and director of the comedy, announced eight men, seven women, and extras will be selected for the cast.

"Right You Are" will open on a six week run beginning April 17.

High School Exhibitors Invited to Open House

The Chemistry and Physics Council open house committee decided Tuesday night to invite high school students who have exhibited physical science displays at high school science fairs to participate in the Chem-Phys open house May 2.

Yeagley to Speak On Bird Navigation

Dr. H. L. Yeagley, associate professor of physics, will speak to the Penn State Poultry Club on his bird navigation research at 7 tonight in 108 Plant Industries. This will be the first meeting conducted by the recently-elected officers.

MI Dean's List Error

The name of William Winterburn, not William Winterbottom, should have appeared on the School of Mineral Industries dean's list as it appeared in yesterday's Daily Collegian.

RILW --

(Continued from page one)

the programs will be Professor Wayne Glick at Sigma Alpha Epsilon, A. Burns Chalmers at Phi Delta Theta, the Rev. Harmon Gehr at Chi Phi, Professor David R. Mackey at Phi Epsilon Pi, Professor Arthur W. Einstein at Sigma Alpha Mu, Professor Vernon V. Asaturian at Phi Sigma Delta, Rabbi Benjamin Kahn at Phi Kappa Tau, and Professor P. H. Margolf at Alpha Phi Delta.

Professor William Smith at Beta Sigma Rho, the Rev. Arthur L. Ruths at Theta Chi, A. E. Diem at Phi Kappa Psi, Wilmer E. Kenworthy in McAllister Hall lounge, Professor Warren S. Smith at Nittany Dorm 2, the Rev. Andrew J. Newcomer at Nittany Dorm 11, the Rev. J. B. Shannon in Irvin Hall lounge, the Rev. John F. Hankins in Nittany Dorm 29, and Mrs. Margaret J. Miller in Nittany Dorm 23.

RILW schedule for today: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.: Classroom Discussions.

8:30 a.m.: Morning Devotions, WMAJ. Speaker: the Rev. Harmon Gehr.

4 to 5 p.m.: Discussion "The Student in the University, the World Struggle, and the Church." Speakers: A. Burns Chalmers, the Rev. Harmon Gehr, and Prof. Mark Ebersole.

Hamilton Hall lounge: 5 to 7:30 p.m.: Fireside Discussions; 7:45 p.m.: Hillel Foundation Program, WMAJ. 8 p.m.: Music Program, Schwab Auditorium. Director: Mrs. Willa C. Taylor. Speaker: Rabbi Samuel Cook.

Enjoy Easter Ski Jaunt in the Swiss Alps with Walter Prager Dartmouth and Olympic Ski Coach

Travel by S.S. United States, March 25th all expense round trip for $569

Enjoy 14 days of skiing! At Wengen and Zermatt - All towns included.

Or by Swissair, March 28th ... $785

Authorized Travel Agent
STATE COLLEGE TRAVEL BUREAU
 STATE COLLEGE HOTEL - ROOM 205
 STATE COLLEGE, PA. - PHONE 7136

Shell representatives will visit your school as follows --

Feb. 23-24 Shell Oil Co.-Production Department (Oil Field Production)

Feb. 26 Shell Research

Feb. 27 Shell Oil Co.-Manufacturing (Refining)

FOR INTERVIEWS WITH STUDENTS RECEIVING DEGREES IN THE FOLLOWING FIELDS--

Chemistry—Chemical, Civil, Electrical, Mechanical, Mining, and Petroleum Engineering

PLEASE SEE MR. LEITCH, DIRECTOR, COLLEGE PLACEMENT SERVICE FOR APPOINTMENTS AND FURTHER DETAILS.

You Can Obtain A Copy Of Our Booklet "Opportunity With Shell" From The Placement Service.

CLASSIFIEDS

| FOR SALE                                                                                                                                                                       | WANTED                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1948 CROSLY convertible, radio, heater, two new tires and top. Good condition. Call 6075 after 5 p.m.                                                                          | WANTED: ONE Mil Ball ticket. Will pay slightly unreasonable price. Call Ronald Markwood at 963.                                                                                                                                                     |
| 1949 ORCHID JEEPSTER, R.H., overdrive, alum. high comp. head. Special beige Koroseal upholstery, kept in top condition and garaged. J. L. Forsythe. Phone 53 Millheim, Pa.     | WANTED—TWO tickets for Military Ball. Call Bob Laing 6431.                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|                                                                                                                                                                                | TWO TICKETS for the Military Ball. Call Larry 4223.                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|                                                                                                                                                                                | TYPING THESE, term papers, reports, etc. Engineering symbols available. Call Betty Cole 6545 before 9 p.m.                                                                                                                                          |
|                                                                                                                                                                                | "WANTED: MORE PEOPLE to improve, fewer to disapprove." Write Christopher, Inc., 18 E. 48th Street, New York 17, N.Y. for information on the "Christopher Movement."                                                                                 |
|                                                                                                                                                                                | WANTED: RIDE to Washington, D.C. Friday afternoon Feb. 20. Call George Bairey 3938.                                                                                                                                                                 |
|                                                                                                                                                                                | START YOUR merchandise club with ten friends. You get your choice of hundreds of nationally advertised products. You buy nothing. They merchandise and pay you on weekly basis. Write for details—Nora Norton Company, 91 Pointer St., Newark, N.J. |
|                                                                                                                                                                                | RIDE WANTED to N.Y.C. February 20th anytime. Merlin Reed ext. 1167.                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| FOR RENT                                                                                                                                                                       | LOST                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| LARGE PLEASANT room for two boys. Third floor with private bath. Centrally located. Reasonably priced. Telephone 2577.                                                         | AFROTC COAT taken by mistake Wednesday, Feb. 11 in 217 Willard. Will exchange your coat for mine. Call 'Muck' at 7683.                                                                                                                              |
| DOUBLE ROOM—with refrigerator for 2 students. $10 per week. Inquire at 133 N. Patterson or phone 4676.                                                                        | BROWN WALLET from locker room Rec Hall. Keep money. Please return cards and wallet to Hi Ron Riley, Phi Kappa Psi.                                                                                                                                  |
| BOARD and ROOM at Marilyn Hall, 317 E. Beaver avenue. Ask for Mrs. Ellard. Attractive weekly rates with or without meals over weekends. One vacancy at present; two more soon. | TWO ECON. 14 books. Monday, Old Main lounge. Please return to Student Union. No questions asked. Reward.                                                                                                                                            |
| RENT A TRUCK. Move it yourself. Any time — any place. Hertz Drive-ur-Self System, L.I.C., 1020 Green Ave., Altoona, Penna. Phone 2-3200.                                       | BROWN 8 1/2 x 11 spiral ring Spanish notebook. Call Bob Simmons, Pollock 10.                                                                                                                                                                        |
| ONE ROOM with refrigerator for students, $10 per week. Inquire 133 N. Patterson street.                                                                                       | MAN'S HAMILTON wrist watch in vicinity of Corner Room Monday night. Call Luther Walbridge, ext. 271.                                                                                                                                                |
| ROOM FOR student, 1st floor, private entrance, private bath, in new home. Phone 6138.                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| CENTRALLY LOCATED room — newly decorated and nicely furnished, sharing private bath. Available to two graduate students. Call 6773 before 5 p.m.                               | FOR SALE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| MISCELLANEOUS                                                                                                                                                                  | NEED CARS and accessories. Contact Swede Larson, Pollock 1-27, student representative for Campus Pontiac.                                                                                                                                           |
| THIS WEEKEND—Last chance to see Major Barbara at Center Stage. Tickets $1 at S.U. or at the door.                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| IF YOUR typewriter needs repairing just dial 2492 or bring machine to 633 W. College Ave. But call first.                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| CHARLIE BROWN — Oh, I'm so glad you asked me to go to the Talent Show in Schwab tomorrow at 8 p.m. How did you ever guess that I wanted to go! Little Lucy.                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |