

WSGA Advises 2 Rule Changes

Two recommendations for revisions of the Women's Student Government Association handbook were passed last night by WSGA Senate.

The first revision provides that the WSGA secretary assume the president's duties if the latter is absent. The secretary's duties would then be performed by the treasurer.

The present regulation states that the vice president should chair the group in the absence of the president. The secretary, runner-up for the office of president, is required to have a year's previous experience on Senate. The vice president is chairman of the WSGA House of Representatives.

ICSF Service Offering to Go For Scholarship

Interchurch Student Fellowship recently voted to send the offering from an inter-Protestant worship service, to be held Sunday night in the Westminster Foundation, to International Christian University Foundation in New York City for their scholarship fund.

The group also planned to hold its annual Palm Sunday sunrise service at 7:30 a.m. March 29 on the steps of Old Main.

Mirrors Installed In Thompson Hall

Eight full-length mirrors were installed Tuesday by housekeeping in Thompson Hall as a result of expressed wishes of many women in the dormitory last year and this year. The women initiated the idea, and Mrs. Priscilla Meckley, housekeeper in charge of the West Dorms, carried it through.

Mrs. Meckley stated that the feminine addition does not indicate that women will continue to occupy Thompson Hall.

The fourth and third floors and A and B level have one mirror each; the first and second floors have two, according to Mrs. Meckley.

19 Paintings Shown In McElwain Hall

An exhibition of 19 abstract paintings in oil by Stuart Frost of State College may be seen in the lounges of McElwain Hall.

Mortar Board Plans 1st Membership Poll

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary society, will conduct a poll of the junior women next Thursday during the WSGA and WRA elections to find out which women they think should be members of next year's Mortar Board.

An alphabetical list of approximately 240 names, including all junior women scholastically eligible according to last year's averages, will be given to junior women at the dormitory ballot boxes.

Must Serve One Year

Each woman may check names of 15 women whom she thinks are worthy of Mortar Board membership. These choices should be made on the basis of the qualifications for Mortar Board membership, which include not only activities and a high scholastic average, but also character, leadership, and service to the College.

To be eligible, a woman must be able to serve for one year of active Mortar Board membership. This qualification eliminates present seventh semester women and junior women who are accelerating and will graduate before June, 1954.

First Poll Taken

The names of junior women who transferred here this year from other colleges will not be on the list. Their names may be added by the women voting.

This poll, the first of its kind to be conducted here, will be used by Mortar Board as a guide in the selection of next year's Mortar Board members.

2 Groups Plan Capitol Trip

The Penn State Christian Association and the Political Science department will jointly sponsor an undergraduate seminar to Washington, D.C., March 22-24.

The trip will include visits to Congress, the Department of State, the National Cathedral, a foreign embassy, the U.S. Supreme Court, the Congressional Library, and the Washington Post, one of Washington's newspapers.

Arthur Fleming, member of the government reorganization committee appointed by President Dwight D. Eisenhower, is one of the officials scheduled to address those who go on the tour.
