

WSGA, WRA Hold Primaries Today

Thirty-seven candidates will compete today for primary election to five Women's Student Government Association and three Women's Recreation Association positions.

Voting places in all women's dormitories except Woman's Building and Grange hall will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 tonight. Town students and residents of Grange, Woman's Building, the Home Management Houses, and the Co-ops will vote in McAllister Hall.

Capitol Trip Sign-ups Start

Students may now register for the Washington, D.C. tour, to be sponsored by the Penn State Christian Association and the Department of Political Science March 22 to 24.

A $5 registration fee and a $2 hotel reservation deposit must be paid at the PSCA office, 304 Old Main. Registration will be accepted in order of application, according to Mary Jane Wyland, PSCA program coordinator, and no refunds can be made after March 19.

The "Meet Your Government Seminar" is being sponsored to give students opportunity to observe some processes of federal government, to hear leading speakers discuss current issues, and to become acquainted with students from other universities.

Plans for the tour include visits to the State Department, Pan American Building, Supreme Court, a foreign Embassy (probably Greek), Congress, and the Congressional Library.

Interviews have been arranged with such men as Marquis Childs, Washington Post columnist.

Each student must pay his own expenses, which will total about $30.

Coed Is Attendant At Winter Carnival

Joan Hunter, fourth semester art education major, was chosen as a member of the queen's court at the Dartmouth Winter Carnival at Hanover, N.H., recently.

Last October she became Penn State's first Homecoming Queen since 1940.

Miss Hunter transferred from Colby Junior College last semester. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, Thespians, and the Rifle Club.

Forestry Ball Will Feature Smokey Bear

The mascot of the Forest Service, "Smokey Bear," an eight-foot cut-out which will be part of the decorations for the semi-formal Forestry Ball, is on display in the lobby of Old Main.

Tickets selling for $2 a couple may be purchased at the Student Union desk in Old Main or from members of the Forestry Society.

The dance, sponsored annually by the Forestry Society, will be held from 9 p.m. to midnight Friday in Recreation Hall. Jim Erb and the Penn State Blue Notes will provide the music.

During intermission the Sweetheart of the Forestry Ball will be selected from three finalists by audience applause. A loving cup and victory figurines will be presented to the Sweetheart and the runnerup.

The finalists are being selected by the faculty at Mont Alto, a branch of the Pennsylvania State Forest School. John Laubach, All-College president; Richard Stanley, Agriculture Student Council president; and Arthur Rosfeld, Interfraternity Council president, will judge the applause.

The national forest will be the theme for the dance.

Pan Am Group To Hold Contest

The all-College Pan American Day committee is sponsoring an essay contest on "How the Organization of American States Helps to Make America a Better Place in which to Live" as part of the local observance of Pan American Day, April 14.

The Organization of American States was formerly known as the Pan-American Union.

Essays should be limited to 700 words and typewritten. They must be submitted to the Student Union desk in Old Main before March 24.

The Inter-American Club will award a $5 first prize, and subscription to The Americas, Organization of American States publication, as second prize.

Judges will be Dr. John J. Rubin, professor of English composition; Dr. Hazel M. Hatcher, professor of home and community relations; and Nicholas M. Brentin, assistant professor of Romance languages.

Friends to Show Film

A film, "Time for Greatness," will be shown at 8 tonight in the Friends Meeting House, 318 S. Atherton street. The film will be followed by a public discussion on the United States' opportunity for making peace, to be led by Raymond Hartsough, college secretary of the American Friends Service Committee.
