vote in McAllister Hall. Town students and women living in home-management houses and co-ops will also vote in McAllister. Posters with pictures of final candidates will be on display at the polls.

All women are eligible to vote for WSGA president, vice president, and treasurer, and all WRA offices. In addition, juniors will vote for senior senator, sophomores for junior senator, freshmen for sophomore senator, and town students for town senator.

WRA President

Barbara Werts and Nancy D. White are candidates for WSGA president. The person receiving the second highest number of votes will be secretary of the association.

Nancy Lusk and Barbara Wallace are final candidates for WRA president, as a result of the primaries.

WSGA vice presidential candidates are Patricia Ellis and Maud Strawn. The second place winner will be a junior senator.

Susan Rice and Frances Riley will compete for treasurer. Senior senatorial finalists are Marilyn Buzby and Peggy Crooks.

Town Senators

Arlene Borgeson and Ann Cunningham will vie for the junior senatorial position, and Barbara Larpenteur and Barbara Stock will compete for sophomore senator.

Patricia Jones and Jane Reber are candidates for town senator.

WRA candidates for vice president are Carol Avery and Elizabeth George. Roberta Sankey and Peggy Trevorow will run for secretary-treasurer.

Martha Rojahn and Marie Wagner are finalists for intramural chairman, and Patricia Farrell and Shirley Frye will vie for the assistant intramural chairmanship.

Two Special Ballots

Sylvia Grube is WSGA elections chairman, and Eleanor Gwynn is WRA elections chairman.

Two special ballot boxes will be placed at the polling places. All students may vote for Quill Girl, and junior women will vote in a poll conducted by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary society.

Quill Girl will be honored by Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism fraternity, at the annual Matrix Dinner. The three women eligible for the title are Joan Hutchon, WSGA president; Mable Marple, WRA president; and Yvonne Carter, Mortar Board president.

Mortar Board will poll junior women to find out which women they think should be members of the society next year. Women will check 15 names from an alphabetical list of 240 women scholastically eligible according to last year's averages.

6 Nominees Named For Panhel Posts

Six women were nominated for three Panhellenic Council offices Tuesday night. Elections will be conducted at the council's next meeting March 24.

Betty Smucker and Nancy Barth were nominated for recording secretary. Candidates for corresponding secretary are Joan Levinson and Theresa Horrigan. Mary Carstensen and Margot Mullin are nominees for Panhel treasurer.

Following the brief business meeting, Panhel members heard a discussion on etiquette by Mrs. Anne R. Free, assistant professor of home community relations. A tea was served.

WD to Hold Dance

A sweater dance will be held 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday in the West Dorm lounge, George Forsyth, social committee chairman, has announced.

Evergreens To Decorate Forestry Ball

Evergreens will decorate the entrance and west end of Recreation Hall at the semi-formal Forestry Ball Friday night in accordance with the theme, "A National Forest." Temple Reynolds, publicity chairman, has announced.

A mascot of the Forest Service, "Smokey Bear," an eight-foot cutout, will stand inside the front door. A fire tower will be in the middle of the dance floor. The ticket booths will represent guard stations.

Joan Ziegler, second semester music education major, sponsored by Sigma Chi; Rosey Whetstone, a Bedford High School senior, sponsored by Lloyd Arms; and Gail Fromer, a fourth semester home economics major sponsored by Alpha Chi Rho, have been selected as finalists for the Sweetheart of the Forestry Ball.

Miss Fromer was selected by the Forestry Society to replace Shirley Wood who left school and will be unable to compete, Reynolds announced yesterday.

The five-foot-six, blue-eyed, brunette is a member of Aye Sees, the Home Ec Club, and the sophomore board of the Daily Collegian business staff. She is from Camp Hill.

The faculty at Mont Alto, a branch of the Pennsylvania State Forest School, selected Miss Ziegler and Miss Whetstone.

Judges will select the Sweetheart by audience applause at the dance during intermission. Arthur Rosfeld, Interfraternity Council president; John Laubach, All-College president; and Richard Stanley, Agriculture Student Council president, will judge the applause. Gene Loue, an agriculture education graduate student, will be master of ceremonies.

The dance, sponsored annually by the Forestry Society, will be held from 9 p.m. to midnight Friday. Jim Erb and the Penn State Blue Notes will provide the music.

Tickets selling for $2 a couple may be purchased at the Student Union desk in Old Main or from members of the Forestry Society. Tickets will also be available at the door.
