

Groups Will Receive Spring Week Details

Letters with instructions concerning booths for the Spring Carnival will be sent out this week-end to campus groups, according to Joan Lee, chairman of Spring Week committee.

The carnival will run for two nights this year. Last year the carnival was held on only one day. Spring Week is scheduled for May 11 to May 16.

Scholarship Interview Reports Set

Members of the Honor Society Council's student committee investigating Scholarship at the College will report on interviews with school deans at 4:10 p.m. Monday in 241 Sparks.

Ben Euwema, dean of the School of Liberal Arts; Dr. Fred Matson, professor of ceramics; Alan Davis, instructor of English composition; and Shirley Musgrave, vice president of the council, will comment on the reports. The committee will present final reports of this semester's research at the council's May meeting. The study is being conducted because of the interest shown in the topic when it was presented at the October meeting of the council.

Members of the committee and the schools they represent are Thomas Schmalzreid, agriculture; Robert Euwema, chemistry and physics; Doris Cook, education; Eloise Grimm, home economics; Gifford Albright, engineering; Douglas Schoerke, liberal arts; Charles Smeltzer, mineral industries; Robert Kenyon, physical education; and Donna Carlson, all-College.

Agnes McElwee is adviser of the committee.

Lowenberg to Speak

Dr. Miriam L. Lowenberg, professor and head of the Department of Foods and Nutrition, will speak to the school lunch room institute of Somerset-Cambria counties today in Johnstown. Dr. Lowenberg's topic will be "The Psychological Aspects of Feeding School Children."

Cabinet Approves Soph Poverty Day

All-College Cabinet Thursday passed a proposal designating Friday as "Poverty Day" for the sophomore class. The proposal was presented by sophomore class Vice President William Rother.

The purpose of the day, Rother explained, is to review the class dance that night, the Shantytown Shuffle. He added that it would be a revival of an old Penn State custom where students would dress in old-fashioned or hobo clothes.

Livestock Show Drawings Set

Drawings for horses, beef cattle, and sheep to be shown in the annual Little International Livestock Show will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in 109 Agriculture.

Any student may participate in the show. A fitting and showing demonstration will be held in the Livestock Judging Pavilion March 21 to acquaint students with the procedures utilized in preparing an animal for show.

The Little International will be held in the Livestock Judging Pavilion in conjunction with the Ag Hill Open House April 25.

Women to Draw Room Priorities

Women students will draw numbers for priority in applying for rooms for next year from 8 a.m. to noon and 1:30 to 5 p.m. Monday in the Dean of Women's office, 105 Old Main.

Formal application must be filed by noon today if coeds wish to retain their present rooms. Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs, assistant to the dean of women in charge of housing, has announced.

Eight-week students will not draw numbers at this time.

Notice of time and place to formally apply for rooms and priority numbers will be announced next week.

Applications giving ideas for the booths at the carnival must be returned by April 1. The applications will be marked for the time and date they are received. Those received first will be given preference in the event of duplication of idea.

The week, as outlined by Miss Lee, calls for the He-Man contest preliminaries and the Miss Penn State coronation on May 11. On May 12 the carnival parade, Mad Hatters contests, and the final He-Man contest will be held. The Spring Carnival will be held May 13 and 14. On May 15 the Senior Ball will be held and on May 16 Delta Nu Alpha, transportation honorary, will schedule a project.

The carnival will be situated in parking lot number 11 in back of the Sigma Chi fraternity house. The carnival, according to Miss Lee, will be "arranged differently" from last year's carnival with the possible exception of having the ferris wheel in operation this year.

The booth chairman for the carnival is Joseph Haines, eighth semester industrial engineering major. His assistant is Richard Grossman, sixth semester commerce major. The parade chairman is George Richards, sixth semester commerce major, who is assisted by Nancy Hagy, sixth semester education major. Charles Gibbs, sixth semester commerce major, is chairman of the Mad Hatters contest. His assistant is Samuel Nowell, eighth semester sanitary engineering major.

The Miss Penn State coronation is under the direction of Nancy D. White, sixth semester home economics major, who is assisted by Richard Neuweiler, eighth semester arts and letters major. Joseph Barnett, fourth semester chemical engineering major, is in charge of special events. The business manager is Franklin Kelly, eighth semester journalism major. Publicity chairman is Charles Obertance, sixth semester journalism major.

Director Named for MI Station

The appointment of Dr. John A. Hipple, chief of the atomic section of the National Bureau of Standards, as director of the Mineral Industries Experiment Station was announced Thursday by President Milton S. Eisenhower.

Dr. Hipple will succeed Dr. Alfred W. Gauger, who retired Dec. 15.

A native of Lancaster, the new director attended Franklin and Marshall College and Penn State and then did graduate work in physics at Princeton University. He received his Ph.D. there in 1937.

In 1938 Dr. Hipple joined the staff of the Westinghouse Research Laboratory in Pittsburgh where he specialized in gaseous discharge problems. Nine years later Dr. Hipple joined the staff of the National Bureau of Standards, where he made major contributions to present knowledge of atomic constants. His work there resulted in greater accuracy of the charge-to-mass ratio of the proton and gyromagnetic ratio of the proton.

Dr. Hipple represented the Bureau of Standards at the International Conference on Spectroscopy at Radio Frequencies held in Amsterdam in 1951.

Dr. Hipple has been a consultant to the Research and Development Board and several military research laboratories. He is a member of the editorial board of the Review of Scientific Instruments, the National Research Council committee on atomic constants, American Physical Society, Sigma Xi, Sigma Pi Sigma, and the Washington Academy of Science.

Hanania Gets Vets Club Post

Joseph Hanania, fourth semester arts and letters major, was elected parliamentarian of the Penn State Veterans Club Monday night.

Membership, publicity and advertising, and social committees were also established at the second meeting of the newly-established club. Mathew Miller was appointed chairman of membership, Robert Neiman of publicity and advertising, and William Mertz of the social committee. The establishing of other committees provided for in the constitution of the club was temporarily postponed.

Durwood Rorie was appointed to the executive committee by President Andrew Korim.

Riding Club Lists Committee Heads

The Riding Club has named heads of committees for the Penn State Horse Show to be held May 2-3.

Chairmen are William Brodnax and Jean Lathlaen, show; Marilyn Cameron, association secretary; Margaret Powell, show secretary; Michael Bassarik, show treasurer; Marion Whitmore and Patricia Gilbert, advertising and sponsorship.

John Zimmerman, outside course events; Richard Lyon, inside course events; Ruth King, programs and prizes; Norma Cooper, tickets; Barry Fein, publicity; Nancy Wild, exhibitors; Thomas Ellis, grounds; and Bernard Gerber, concessions.

Forgery Suspension

An eighth semester Liberal Arts student has been suspended for forgery by the College disciplinary committee, not by Dean of Men Frank J. Simes, as reported.

Niebuhr Will Speak In Chapel Tomorrow

"Wisdom of Survival" will be the topic of Dr. H. Richard Niebuhr, Dwight professor of theology and Christian ethics at Yale Divinity School, at Chapel, 11 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

Dr. Niebuhr will also lecture on "Christian Existentialism" at a public lecture, 8 p.m. tomorrow in 119 Osmond.

One of the foremost theologians in the Western world, Dr. Niebuhr has been a faculty member of the Yale Divinity School since 1931. He is an ordained minister in the Evangelical and Reformed Church. Graduated from Elmhurst College in 1912, he holds degrees from Eden Theological Seminary, Washington University, Yale Divinity School, and Yale University.

Dr. Niebuhr received the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Eden Theological Seminary. He has also studied at Union Theological Seminary, the University of Berlin and the University of Tubingen.

Prior to holding his present position at Yale, Dr. Niebuhr was president of Elmhurst College, Illinois and professor in the Eden Theological Seminary, Missouri. He has also held pastorates at St. Louis, Missouri and Clinton, Conn.

He is the author of "The Meaning of Revelation," "The Social Sources of Denominationalism," "The Kingdom of God in America," and "Christ and Culture."

The Chapel Choir will sing as Anthem "Hear My Supplication" (Arkhangel'sky).

George Ceiga, organist, will play as Prelude "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" (Bach), as Offertory "Lo, Ere a Rose is Blooming" (Brahms), and as Postlude "Canzona Tostil Communion" (Frescobaldi).

Coeds to See Plays Staged

Alice Doles and Anne Bullock, eighth semester arts and letters majors, will leave Monday to see their prize-winning plays produced Tuesday night at the annual arts festival of the Women's College of North Carolina.

Miss Doles' one-act comedy "Tempest in a Testtube" and "The Shattered Crystal," a character study by Miss Bullock, were selected as outstanding plays in the contest sponsored by the Playmakers Society of Greensboro, N.C.

Warren S. Smith, associate professor of dramatics, will accompany the coeds to North Carolina.

Leaves Given 3 Profs

Three faculty members have been given leaves of absence. They are: Edward F. Ormsby, instructor in mathematics; Roger Roberg, instructor in accounting; and Edgar L. Van Cott Jr., instructor in engineering mechanics.

Yale Professor Will Lecture On Theology

Dr. H. Richard Niebuhr, Dwight professor of theology and Christian ethics at Yale University Divinity School, will give the first of a series of faculty lectures at 8 p.m. tomorrow in 119 Osmond. Dr. Niebuhr's subject will be "Christian Existentialism."

The lectures, inaugurated this year, are sponsored by a faculty committee headed by Dr. Harold K. Schilling, dean of the Graduate School. They are open to the public.

Dr. Niebuhr and his brother, Reinhold, are accredited as two of the most provocative theological thinkers and writers in America today. The Niebuhrian theology has done much to shape theological thinking in the United States. The brothers are also widely acclaimed in the Orient and Europe.

Other members of the sponsoring committee are Warren S. Smith, associate professor of dramatics; Dr. Samuel W. Blizzard, associate professor of sociology and rural sociology; Dr. Ralph W. Condee, assistant professor of English literature; Dr. Henry S. Brunner, professor and head of the Department of Agricultural Education; Dr. Robert B. Patrick, associate professor of education.

Dr. Robert K. Murray, assistant professor of history; Dr. Hummel Fishburn, professor and head of the Departments of Music and Music Education; Dr. Mary Jane Wyland, professor emerita of education and program coordinator of the Penn State Christian Association; and the Rev. Luther H. Harshbarger, chaplain of the College and general secretary of the Christian Association.

Walker to Talk Monday

Dr. Eric A. Walker, dean of the School of Engineering, will speak on "Nuclear Energy" at the meeting of the Faculty Luncheon Club at noon Monday at the Hotel State College.

Euwema Will Speak

Ben Euwema, dean of the Liberal Arts school, will address students enrolled in Engineering 3 at 4:10 p.m. Monday in 110 Electrical Engineering.

A Message to Engineers

from
Walter Tydon*

"A secure future, exceptional opportunities for advancement, and a high starting salary await you at FAIRCHILD, if you are one of the men we are looking for. We have openings right now for qualified engineers and designers in all phases of aircraft manufacturing; we need top-notch men to help us in our long-range military program: turning out the famous C-119 for the U.S. Air Forces.

"FAIRCHILD provides paid vacations and liberal health and life insurance coverage. We work a 5-day, 40-hour week.

"If you feel you are one of the men we are looking for, write me. Your inquiry will be held in strictest confidence, of course."
