

Two New Positions Explained by Simes

Changes in the administration of the Dean of Men's office which involve the creation of two new positions in place of two former ones were explained yesterday by Frank J. Simes, dean of men.

Simes also said he is now interviewing and screening applicants for the two new jobs. The vacancies were created by the resignation of Daniel A. DeMarino, former assistant dean of men, and the elevation of Simes to his present post.

25 Students To Enter Ag Contest

Twenty-five agriculture undergraduates have entered the first Paul R. Guldin Agriculture Speaking Contest to be held Monday and Tuesday nights.

They are Dean Belt, Robert Chambers, Manley Case, Jose Carreiro, Samuel Curtis, Robert Dahle, Edgar Fehnel, Matthew Fenton, John Groutt, John Gallagher, Lawrence Hart, John Harris, Donald Harter, Herbert Hurlbrink, Robert Huston, Ardon Johnson, Theodore Kimmel, Joseph Kresky, Conrad Kresge, Joseph Miller, Kenneth Muckin-haupy, Albert Palmateer, Harry Stambaugh, John Whitesell, and Glenn Wiggins.

The contestants will present five-minute speeches in the preliminary contest at 7 p.m. Monday in 109 Agriculture.

The final speeches will be presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday in 117 Dairy. They will be eight to ten minutes long. A detailed outline of the speech must be submitted to the judges before the final speech is given. Contestants must use the same topic in the preliminaries and the finals. Approximately 20 per cent of the entries will be selected for the finals.

First prize consists of $50 and a gold medal. Second prize will be $25 and a silver medal. The awards, to be presented annually, have been provided by a memorial fund established by Mrs. Paul R. Guldin.

The winners of the contest will be announced at the Ag Hill Achievement Day at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Schwab Auditorium. The speech contest and the Achievement Day program honoring outstanding leaders in Ag Hill activities will be open to the public.

Chem-Phys Sets Elections

The Chem-Phys Student Council spring elections will be held April 29-30, according to council President Lincoln Warrell.

Twelve graduating seniors are to be replaced. Eight current junior members of the council will move into the vacated senior positions, leaving four senior positions to be settled April 29-30.

The council course evaluation project will definitely come into being sometime after May 1, according to committee chairman Edward Storms. Responses from inquiries sent to all the instructors in the school have been tabulated. Some of the instructors, Storms said, added new questions to the list.

Courses to be evaluated are Chemistry 10, 27, Chemical Engineering 1, 2, and Physics 301. Other courses to be evaluated will be named at a later date.

Cabinet to Discuss Fee Consolidation

All-College Cabinet tonight will consider possible ways to establish a uniform student fee by equalizing student activities fees, All-College President John Laubach has announced.

Under the present setup, student activities fees vary with different schools and living units, and 23 different combinations are possible.

This action was initiated by a letter to Laubach from Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs. The letter reveals the College plans to collect student fees at registration next fall.

At present, fees are not collected until three weeks after registration. The accounting and computation of these fees cause the delay. If a uniform activities fee existed, student fees could be collected at registration, Kenworthy said.

Nominations For IFC Close Today

Nominations for the three offices of the Interfraternity Council close at 5 p.m. today. Arthur Rosfeld, IFC president, said yesterday that no new nominations have been made since Tuesday, when a third vice presidential nomination brought the total nominations for all offices to nine.

Each of the candidates, who nominate themselves, will speak to members of IFC at 7:30 tonight in 217 Electrical Engineering. No other business has been planned for the meeting, Rosfeld said.

Nominations for the offices so far are: president — Thomas Schott of Phi Gamma, Delta and Richard Gibbs of Chi Phi; vice president — Bruce Nichols of Delta Tau Delta, Edwin Kohn of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and John Flanagan of Sigma Chi; secretary-treasurer — Richard Altman of Beta Sigma Rho, Alan McChesney of Phi Kappa Sigma, Merice Nelles of Alpha Tau Omega, and George Richards of Sigma Nu.

The election of officers will take place at the IFC meeting Wednesday. Each fraternity casts one vote in the balloting. Nominations can be made by letter written by the candidate and turned in at the Student Union desk in Old Main, addressed to Rosfeld.

Mutchler Will Speak At EE Seminar Today

David Mutchler, Western Electric employee and 1952 graduate of the College will speak at the sixth Electrical Engineering seminar at 4:10 p.m. today in 110 Electrical Engineering.

The subject of the seminar will be "Some Aspects of Transistor Product Engineering."

When the new plan goes into effect, the setup will include Dean Simes; Harold W. Perkins, assistant dean of men; and two assistants to the dean, one in charge of fraternity affairs and one in charge of dormitory affairs. Dean Perkins will take charge of independents living off campus.

Work With Independents
The present composition of the office calls for the dean, two assistant deans, one for fraternity affairs and one for independent affairs, and one director of residence counseling.

Dean Perkins' duties under the new system will call for his working with independents off campus and supervising their housing needs along with assisting Dean Simes. This includes heading the town housing evaluation program which is now being examined by the department of housing to determine the qualifications that residences should meet.

Screen Counselors
The assistant to the dean in charge of fraternity affairs will work with the Interfraternity Council and individual fraternities on such matters as social activities, rushing, scholarship, and community and campus projects. He will approve fraternity social affairs and work with the Association of Fraternity Counselors.

In assisting the dean with independent affairs, the second new office holder will screen, train, and supervise graduate resident counselors and interpret and enforce rules and regulations pertaining to dormitory residents. He will promote and approve dormitory social functions and will advise the Association of Independent Men and assist in student government in the dormitories.

Independents to Plan Spring Week Activities

Plans for independent participation in Spring Week will be made at 7:30 tonight in McElwain lounge, Andrew Jaros, co-chairman of the independent Spring Week committee, has announced.

Representatives from all independent organizations have been asked to attend the meeting.

State Party Council

The State Party Student Representative Council will meet at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in 121 Sparks.

College to Cooperate In Television Series

The College has been named one of 20 colleges and universities which will participate in a television educational project, the Associated Press reported last night. The project was jointly announced by the CBS television network and officials of the participating schools.

The project, to be shown over the CBS system, will consist of weekly filmed programs showing research activities at the different schools.

J. L. Van Volkenburg, president of the CBS television, said it is the first time a group of leading educators and a television network have undertaken such a project.

Officials of the participating schools said the series should promote a better understanding of the significance of higher education, the AP reported.

The programs, to begin Oct. 1 and continue for a 26 week period, will be entertaining as well as educational, Van Volkenburg said. The series will be entitled "The Search."

Other schools besides the College participating in the program are the University of Pennsylvania, University of Michigan, University of Chicago, University of Minnesota, University of Iowa, University of Louisville, University of North Carolina, North Carolina State, Dartmouth College, Ohio State University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cornell University, Brown University, Columbia University, University of California, Southern California University, California Institute of Technology, Colorado School of Mines, University of Utah, University of Washington, and Northwestern University. Other schools may join the project later.

One of the projects to be shown, the AP said, is a research study of heart disease made by the University of Minnesota on 300 middle-aged men.

At present, fees are not collected until three weeks after registration. The accounting and computation of these fees cause the delay. If a uniform activities fee existed, student fees could be collected at registration, Kenworthy said.

The letter suggests the College could collect one fixed, consolidated fee for all student activities plus the special women's activities fee from all women students. Fees like the West Dorm social fee and the fee collected in the Agriculture school will be most affected.

Parents do not know until well after the semester has started how much money students will need, the letter said. Early collection of fees will remove the necessity of students carrying large amounts of money for fee payment for three weeks.

The College is without the fee income for almost a month, the letter continued. This condition also causes extra expense because of loans.

Under new business, cabinet will consider a request by the National Student Association for funds for relief of Dutch students. Relief is needed to alleviate conditions wrought by recent floods in that country.

Franklin Kelly, chairman of the Penn State Book Exchange, will give a BX progress report. He will list current problems and plans for the BX next year. Appointments to the BX board of control will be made at that time, Kelly said.

An analysis of Religion-in-Life Week will be given by RILW Chairman William Griffith. He will discuss the strong and weak points of the past week and recommend formation of a cabinet religious life committee.

Sophs to Begin Hobo Weekend

A deluge of sophomore hobos may be expected on campus tomorrow when the sophomore class celebrates Poverty Day, an old Penn State custom being revived for the sophomore weekend.

The project has received sanction by All-College Cabinet and the administration. Sophomores are asked by class president Robert Homan to attend classes in attire appropriate to the theme of Poverty.

Poverty Day will reach its climax at the Shantytown Shuffle to be held in Recreation Hall tomorrow night from 9 to 12. The shabbiest couple at the dance will be chosen Mr. and Mrs. Shabby Shuffler by applause.

Tickets to the dance may be obtained at the Student Union desk free of charge to sophomores.

Collegians, AGD Win Soph Sing

The Alpha Gamma Delta quartet and the Collegians took first place in the women's and men's division of the sophomore class barbershop quartet contest last night in Schwab Auditorium.

Second place winner in the women's division was the Rollo Quartet, with the Keyettes third. The Mellowaires took second place in the men's division with the Alpha Tau Omega quartet third.

Members of the Alpha Gamma Delta quartet are Marilyn Schadt, Alberta Wooden, Kathryn Lloyd, and Nancy Phillips. The Collegians are Richard Wrenmore, John Kapitanoff, William Davey and James Hess.

The winners, who will be interviewed by Albert Dame on Radio Guild's "Spotlight on State" at 9:30 tonight on WMAJ, were awarded large bronze loving cups. The second and third place winners received smaller trophies. Robert Homan, sophomore class president, made the awards.

William Brill was master of ceremonies. Judges were Hummel Fishburn, professor of music and music education; G. W. Henninger, professor of music; and B. S. Brinsmaid, assistant professor of music.

The two winning quartets will entertain during intermission at the Shantytown Shuffle tomorrow night.

Three Receive Scholarships From Cabinet

Three recipients of $50 awards from the Penn State Student Scholarship Fund were announced yesterday by Edgar Fehnel, chairman of the fund committee for All-College Cabinet. The three students are Ruth Coastes, sixth semester education major from Coatesville; Julia Ibbotson, seventh semester journalism major from Lancaster; and Lowell Lewis, eighth semester horticulture major from West Pittston.

The students, who will receive their scholarships this spring were selected from applicants by a committee made up of Pearl O. Weston, dean of women; Frank J. Simes, dean of men; S. K. Hostetter, comptroller; and John Laubach, All-College president.

The selection was made on the basis of need, scholarship, and contribution to the College through activities, Fehnel said.

Three Pivot Editors To Be Named Tonight

An associate editor, assistant editor, and secretary-treasurer of Pivot, College poetry magazine, will be elected at an open meeting at 8:30 tonight in 216 Willard. The editors will replace graduates. According to Joseph L. Grucci, assistant professor of English composition, any students interested in poetry are eligible for office.
