

Alum Will Receive Lambda Chi Award

William S. Hoffman, former registrar and dean of admissions at the College and now dean of instruction at Lycoming College, will receive Lambda Chi Alpha's highest award for civic and academic leadership at a presentation banquet tomorrow night at the fraternity house.

Dean Hoffman will be awarded the Order of Merit, a key and scroll given biennially to alumni of the organization. Clair Peppard, grand high epsilon of Lambda Chi Alpha, will present the award.

The fraternity's first pledge at the College, Dean Hoffman received his B.S. degree in 1911 and was associated with the College until his retirement with emeritus rank in 1949, with the exception of three years spent as an instructor at the American University of Beirut, Syria.

He is past president of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars, holds a M.S. degree from the College, and is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, scholastic honor society; Pi Delta Epsilon, journalistic recognition society; and Scarab, professional architecture society.

In addition to faculty alumni of the fraternity, college staff members who will attend the presentation banquet are W. Stewart Taylor, trustee; Frank J. Simes, dean of men; Louis H. Bell, director of public information; Harold R. Gilbert, graduate manager of athletics; C. O. Williams, dean of admissions and registrar; Ridge Riley, executive secretary of the Alumni Association; and Harold W. Perkins, assistant dean of men.

Representatives of Lycoming College at the presentation will include Dr. James M. Skeath, professor of psychology, as well as faculty alumni of the fraternity.

Leonides to List Qualifications

Candidates' qualifications will be posted along with pictures in the election of Leonides officers to be held Wednesday, according to Eleanor Voyvodich, chairman. Formerly, the independent women's association conducted elections on the basis of pictures alone.

Voting boxes will be placed in McElwain Hall, Simmons Hall, Atherton Hall, McAllister Hall, Thompson Hall and Woman's Building from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Town students may vote at the McAllister station.

Candidates include Phyllis Griffith and Hilda Hogeland, president; Ruth Israel and Sarah Devita, vice president; Shirley Pritchard, Doris Longwill, and Myrtle Thomas, recording secretary; Sherry Kofmann, Theresa Hess, and Jeanne Maxwell, corresponding secretary; and Althea Rector, Susan Crumley, and Virginia Bowman, treasurer.

Assisting Miss Voyvodich at the polls will be Ethel Wilson, Luella Heineman, Barbara Easter, Eleanor Robb, Carolyn Malsch, and Barbara Richards.

Kahn, Harshbarger Will Talk at Hillel

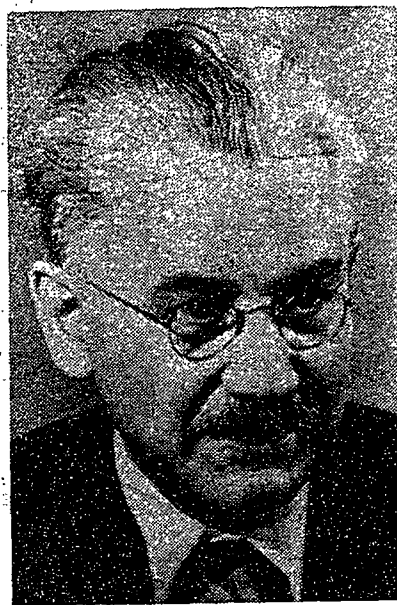

The second in the current series of fireside discussions on religion will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at the Hillel Foundation.

Luther Harshbarger, College chaplain, and Rabbi Benjamin Kahn, director of the Foundation, will talk on "Theological Differences Between Judaism and Christianity."

To get your Easter finery on time, Shop State College for your favorite line.

To Be Honored

William S. Hoffman

Ed Honorary Raises $140 At Auction

Approximately $140 was collected by Pi Lambda Theta, national women's education honorary society, in an auction of famous persons' autographs held Tuesday night.

There were almost 130 autographs for sale at the auction with Dr. George E. Murphy, associate professor of education, as auctioneer.

The highest bid of the evening was $5.80, which went for the comments and signature of Lillian Gilbreth, author of "Cheaper by the Dozen."

The next highest price paid came in heavy bidding for Eugene Ormandy's card. The audience bid $3.50 for Grandma Moses' card, and $3 each for those of Eleanor Roosevelt and Thornton Wilder. One of the most unusual cards was that of Marguerite de Angeli, who illustrated hers with a word drawing of herself.

The money collected, minus expenses of conducting the auction, will be used to pay for two scholarships to Crossnore, a North Carolina school for underprivileged children.

Ed Society to Meet

Undergraduate members of Pi Lambda Theta, education honorary, will meet at 8:15 p.m. Sunday in McElwain Hall study lounge to elect officers.

Co-Edits

Delta Delta Delta

Newly-elected officers of Delta Delta Delta are Frances Crawford, president; Linda Jacobs, vice president; Helen Davis, recording secretary; Norma Sappie, corresponding secretary; Barbara Estep, treasurer; Lois Freed, chaplain; Janet Melzer, marshal, and Marie Wagner, social chairman.

The sorority recently pledged Barbara Gooding, Constance Paakh, and Ruth Ann Schnell.

Alpha Tau Omega

Alpha Tau Omega held its Founders' Day banquet at the chapter house Tuesday evening with local alumni attending.

Edward Keller, an alumnus of the chapter, was guest of honor. President Thomas Barrell presented keys to the officers of the house.

Theta Kappa Phi

Theta Kappa Phi and Sigma Pi held an exchange dinner March 16 at their fraternities.

Theta Kappa Phi entertained Theta Phi Alpha Tuesday night. Entertainment was furnished by the fraternity, and refreshments were served.

Zeta Beta Tau

A gangster theme will highlight Zeta Beta Tau's "Little House Party" tomorrow night. The music will be provided by Dick Dennis and his combo.

Panel Will Discuss Meaning of Judaism

"What Judaism Means to Me" will be the subject of the panel discussion at 8 tonight at Hillel Foundation. Students participating in the discussion will be Donald Pripstein, Marian Ungar, and Leonard Goodman, moderator. Members of Sigma Delta Tau will be hostesses at a reception to follow the services.

Newman Club will hold an informal record dance from 8 to 11 tonight at Phi Mu Delta, 500 S. Allen street.

Theta Phi Alpha will sponsor the social, which will feature the raffling of luggage. The winner will be given a choice of a man's two suiter or a woman's wardrobe case of any desired brand.

The Rev. Warren Schuh, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Bayonne, N.J., will address Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship at 7:30 tonight in 405 Old Main.

At 7 tonight at 329 S. Burrows street, United Student Fellowship will hold a fireside discussion on "Why Am I Here . . . in the Church?"

Wesley Foundation plans a bowling party at the Dux Club at 7:30 tonight. Square dancing and refreshments are scheduled at the foundation after the bowling party.

The Rev. Edwin Schick will lead a discussion on the Scriptures of the church from 7 to 8 tonight at Lutheran Student Association. A social program with inter-class volleyball games will follow the discussion.

Sophomores Hold Dance Tonight at 9

The Shantytown Shuffle, sophomore class dance, will climax Poverty Day activities from 9 to 12 tonight in Recreation Hall.

Decorations and attire will be in keeping with the weekend Poverty theme. Lu Weber and Ronald Safier, decoration committee chairmen, have supervised the transformation of Recreation Hall into Hobo Heaven complete with railroad station, tracks, and hobo silhouettes.

Jim Erb and his Blue Notes will provide music. Intermission entertainment will be provided by the Alpha Gamma Delta quartet and the Collegians, winners of Wednesday night's barbershop quartet contest, and Mike Belgio, tenor, winner of the recent all-College talent show.

Also during the intermission, Mr. and Mrs. Shabby Shuffler will be selected by applause from the couples present. They will receive Penn State cufflinks and bracelet as prizes, to be presented by Robert Homan, class president. Judges for the contest will be Mary E. Brewer, assistant to the dean of women, and Harold W. Perkins, assistant dean of men.

John Speer, intermission chairman, will be master of ceremonies for the dance. Other committee members are Otto Hetzel, Thomas Kidd, Faith Gallagher, Albert Benning, and Barry Kay.

Sophomores may obtain free tickets at the Student Union desk in Old Main or from members of the class who will distribute them on the Mall during the day.

With Open Mind

(Continued from page four) still called white buckskins, and sold for a little less—$3.95.

One ad in the paper then advertised coal at $2.75 a ton. We still haven't figured out what any student wanted with coal. Maybe they didn't provide heat in dormitories then. (Some people say they still don't.)

Yes, these were the days of the depression. Almost 4000 students were enrolled at the College. Of these, some were women (complete with long, long skirts—some showed their ankles!) In fact, in 1933, just 20 years ago, coed fraternities were the big rage. (They hadn't thought of the name "sorority" yet.)

Sports were seeing a couple of innovations in that year, too. The Collegian announced that the Harvard-Penn State game was going to be reported "quarter by quarter action" by the paper. Of course, there wasn't a paper every day, so the results were written and posted in front of Graham's, which seems to have been here no matter how far you go back.

There were two famous sayings in 1933: One—"That Roosevelt fellow ain't gonna last. He can't appeal to the working people." Two—"I knew it wouldn't last forever, I knew it!" This latter statement was spoken with great exuberance—prohibition was over that year.

So that's how it stood in 1933. Twenty years from now things will probably be just as different as things 20 years ago now seem.

For example, if the anti-drinking forces keep on the move, we ought to be seeing a ban on Coca Cola about 1973. And, if prices continue to rise at the same rate, we'll be paying 50 cents for cigarettes, two bucks for movies (at least they'll be three dimensional by then) and about $40 for white bucks (they'll still be around, don't worry.)

And, if the requirements for our schools continue to be lessened, this conversation may be quite possible in 1973:

Education student, (sitting in Corner Room)—Well, I guess I better go back to the house and clean up. I've got a class tomorrow.

Business student: Tomorrow! Jumping space rockets! I haven't had a class since three weeks ago. They've really got down on requirements this year.

Second Business student: You're right, man. Why, I got three semester's credit last year without even registering. I haven't been in a class in four months.

Education student—Boy, you guys are lucky. I'm carrying three credits. That means a class every other day!

Business students (in horror)—Three classes a week! Boy, I'd drop that curriculum if I were you.

DOUBLE FEATURE SUNDAY EVENING

6:30 -- Has Christianity Failed?
discussion led by Robert Landis

7:30 -- Our Social Responsibility As Liberals
talk by Dr. J. L. Adams

Unitarian Fellowship

304 Old Main

ALL SO WONDERFUL YOU CAN PICK 'EM BLINDFOLDED

Foamy, shutter-tucked into a spun-sugar confection . . . pleated lace front tucked, lace insert . . . nylon tricot with frothy jabot . . . Pretties to lure you for unlimited suit and skirt glamour for spring.

Mary Leitzinger

HOME-BAKED COOKIES
and coffee or hot chocolate

10c
Served Daily 'til midnight

DUTCH PANTRY
230 E. College

