

Press Investigation Seen in Near Future

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa.) said today "the sky is the limit" in congressional investigations, and he wouldn't be surprised if Congress were asked next to investigate radio commentators and newspaper columnists and editors.

Eberharter made the statement in an address to the fifth National Conference on Civil Liberties.

"I wouldn't be surprised," Eberharter said, "if the next proposal to come along would be for the investigation of radio commentators, newspaper columnists and newspaper editors who do not express agreement with practices and procedures of a committee."

The conference also was told: By Philip B. Perlman, former solicitor general, that the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act is "a fraud and a sham."

By Charles M. LaFollette, former Republican congressman from Indiana and former chairman of the Subversive Activities Control Board, that there is a "well-financed campaign" to suppress discussion of changes in government.

Eberharter, who long has been a bitter critic of the House un-American activities committee, said Congress is forgetting the main point of investigations: to get information which will help in legislating.

At present, Eberharter said: "Publication of unproven charge" (Continued on page eight)

Chapel Talk To Be Given By Adams

Dr. James Luther Adams, the Caleb Brewster Hackley professor of religious ethics at the Meadville Theological School, will speak on "Real Life is Meeting" at Chapel, 11 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

Dr. Adams, members of the federated theological faculty of the University of Chicago, has received degrees from the University of Minnesota, Harvard University, and the University of Chicago. He has also studied in Germany and France at the Universities of Heidelberg, Marburg, Strasbourg, and Paris.

Editor of the Phoenix Series of volumes on theology and philosophy of religion, and co-editor of The Journal of Religion, University of Chicago, Dr. Adams has toured the Middle East under the auspices of the American Christian Palestine Committee, visiting Egypt, Israel, Cyprus, and Greece. He has also lectured at Oxford, Cambridge, and Manchester in England, and at the new Albert Schweitzer College in Switzerland.

The Chapel Choir will sing Ah! Dearest Jesus (Cruger) and "Pie Jesu" from the Requiem Mass in C Minor (Cherubini).

George Ceiga, organist, will play as prelude Passion Chorale (Reger); as offertory When on the Cross the Savior Hung (Bach), and as postlude Stabat Mater Dolorosa (Lemaigre).

Board to Hear Six Charges

Charges against six men will be heard by the Association of Independent Men Judicial Board of Review at 6:30 p.m. Monday in 204 Old Main.

Edward Theime, chairman of the board, said the group will hear the case of four students charged with disorderly conduct in the borough. They were apprehended by State College police for disturbing street barricades and were fined for the offense. The case was referred to the board from the Dean of Men's office for further investigation.

Two other students have been charged with disorderly conduct and destruction in the dormitory. They were discovered flooding the shower room and hall by their counselor.

Radio Application

The College yesterday received an acknowledgement of the filing of its application for a construction permit for the campus radio station.

The postcard, dated March 16, from T. J. Slowie, secretary of the Federal Communications Commission, assigned the College's application file number BPED-228.

TODAY'S WEATHER

RAIN AND WARMER

State, Lion Parties To Pick Candidates

Hobo Holiday

SOPHOMORES decked out as hobos in observance of Poverty Day line up for the Collegian cameraman. They are (left to right) Ruth Rasmussen, Lorraine Cobosco, Catherine Stark, William Rother, class vice president, Mary Gallagher, Mariha Colaianni, and Robert Homan, class president. The sophomore class wound up Poverty Day last night with its Shantytown Shuffle in Recreation Hall.

Final Clique Nominations To Be Made

Campus politics will pick up speed tomorrow when the Lion and State parties hold their final clique office nominations and preliminary spring election nominations.

According to the All-College election code, party members who wish to vote for the spring nominees must have attended either last week's meeting or the meeting tomorrow. Final nominations will be made March 29. The spring elections will be held April 22 and 23.

The State Party will meet at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 121 Sparks to complete nominations for a n. elect junior and senior class clique offices. The student representative council will meet at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow in 121 Sparks.

State Party Nominates 9
The Lion Party will meet at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 10 Sparks to nominate and elect junior and senior class clique officers and a party clique chairman.

The State Party nominated nine for party posts last week. They are senior class clique chairman, David Kresge; vice chairman, William Appleton; secretary, Janet Melzer and Jane Yahres; junior class clique chairman, Carl Nurick; vice chairman, Roger Uhler; secretary, Patricia Hennessey; secretariat, Nina Finkle; and treasurer, James Angstadt. There were no nominations made last week for State Party senior class clique treasurer and secretariat.

Elections Committee
Spring election offices that will be open for nomination tomorrow are All-College president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer; senior class president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer; junior class president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer.

Members of the All-College elections committee will attend the party meetings tomorrow. Richard Kirschner, Lion Party (Continued on page eight)

Chessmen to Host Gettysburg Today

The Penn State Chess Team, undefeated in dual meets since 1950, will host Gettysburg College team in a chess meet today.

The Penn State team lineup will be undefeated Peter Betley, first; West Dormitory champion Charles Rockman, second; team Captain Karl Segner, third; George Beane, fourth; and Burt Bronk, fifth.

SDX Sets New Ticket Deadline

The deadline for buying tickets to the Gridiron Banquet has been extended to 5 p.m. Monday, according to Andrew McNeillie, president of Sigma Delta Chi, men's national journalistic fraternity.

The tickets are available at the Student Union desk to students, faculty, administration, and townspeople who received invitations to the banquet. The banquet will be held 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Guest of honor at the banquet will be President Milton S. Eisenhower. Student leaders and members of the faculty and administration will be "panned" in skits based on the television theme, WSDX-TV.

Rutgers Prof Silent At Loyalty Hearing

A Rutgers law professor, testifying before the House un-American activities committee, has refused to state whether he was a Communist when he worked for the Justice department of the national government.

The professor, Abraham Glasser, is not the first to invoke the fifth amendment in protection against personal inquiry in the past few weeks. A number of college professors have refused to comment before the committee, including Dr. Barrows Dunham of Temple University, professor of philosophy.

Charges Prejudice
Faculty of at least two universities, the University of Pennsylvania and Princeton University, have written protests to the actions of the committee, referring to the committee's methods as "inquisitorial," and describing the actions as threats to "academic freedom."

Glasser testified, however, that he was not at present a card-carrying member of the Communist Party. He charged the committee with considering the invoking of the fifth amendment as admission of truth of Communist charges.

Administration 'Concerned'
Chairman Harold H. Velde, Republican of Illinois and chairman of the committee, denied the accusation, saying that no member of the committee held that view. "That's wonderful news, Mr. Velde," cried Glasser, "for the whole country, really."

The administration at Rutgers was reported as "greatly concerned" over the testimony offered by Glasser, and President Lewis W. Jones said he will consider what action has to be taken after he receives a complete transcript of the committee discussions.

Houghton to Address Faculty Luncheon Club
Dr. Dorothy Houghton, assistant dean of the School of Home Economics in charge of resident instruction, will address the Faculty Luncheon Club at noon Monday at the Hotel State College. Her subject will be "Science Behind the Labels, a Phase of Economics of the Home."

Frosh Coeds Will Select Rooms Monday

Second semester women who have drawn numbers for priority in applying for housing will select next year's rooms Monday and Tuesday in the Dean of Women's office, 105 Old Main.

If two coeds want to room together they must be together to select their room, Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs, assistant to the dean of women in charge of housing, said. Coeds choose their quarters on the lower of the two numbers.

Only coeds who have drawn numbers may select rooms at this time, Mrs. Hibbs said.

Second semester coeds holding numbers one to 40 will choose rooms between 6:30 and 7 p.m. Monday. Those holding 41 to 90 will choose between 7 and 7:30 p.m. and those with 91 to 150 will pick their rooms between 7:30 and 8 p.m.

Between 6:30 and 7 p.m. Tuesday, students holding numbers 151 to 280 will choose rooms; numbers 281 to 410 will select between 7 and 7:30 p.m.; and numbers 411 to 545 will choose between 7:30 and 8 p.m.

Women should bring the numbers they drew with them, Mrs. Hibbs said.

Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity Placed on Probation

Pi Kappa Phi fraternity has been placed on probation with the Dean of Men's office for the balance of the spring semester.

The probation, announced yesterday by Director of Student Affairs Wilmer E. Kenworthy, was imposed by the Senate committee on student affairs at its meeting Thursday.

Dean of Men's office probation amounts to a warning and advice to arrange social functions according to College regulations, Harold W. Perkins, assistant dean of men, explained yesterday. This type of probation, he said, serves as a warning that a more severe penalty than that usually imposed might be the result of another violation of College regulations.

The committee's action stems from the Feb. 28 arrest of a member of the fraternity on a charge of driving under the influence of alcohol, Kenworthy said. The student involved was at the house for a time during the evening and testified that he had some beer while there.

Walter A. Sachs, eighth semester liberal arts major, the student involved, had the charge against him referred to county court by Justice of the Peace Guy G. Mills, following a public hearing. He was arrested after an automobile operated by him collided with a parked car. Sachs does not live at the fraternity house.

After considering possible violation of the Interfraternity Council unchaperoned dating code, the IFC Board of Control recommended that no action be taken.

Perkins said that he has explained and discussed the probation with the house President James Spangler.