Home Ec Weekend To Feature Fabrics

The fourth annual Spring Weekend of the School of Home Economics will emphasize the importance of fabrics and fashions and promises to be of interest to students, parents, and people of the retail world, according to Dr. Ruth W. Ayres, head of the Department of Clothing and Textiles, and chairman of the Spring Weekend.

Beginning April 17 at 9 a.m. and continuing to 5 p.m. April 18, the program will include speeches, discussions, exhibits, demonstrations, skits, and movies. The highlight of the program will be a panel on "The Miracle Fibers Bring Their Own Problems." This panel will meet at 2 p.m. April 18.

Retailers, consumers, and producers will discuss the question, "What may I expect from the new fibers?" The problems of the producer, research worker, and retailer will also be presented. Discussion groups will follow the panel.

Talk On Returning Goods

A. G. Ashcroft of the Alexander Smith and Sons Carpet Co. will talk on "Textiles in a Changing World" at 11 a.m. Friday and 10 a.m. Saturday. Mr. Ashcroft has had experience both as an engineer and research expert in the field of textiles and plastics.

"Madame, Do You Return Your Goods?" is the title of a talk to be given by Dr. Jules Labarthe of the Melon Institute. Dr. Labarthe, a research chemist and expert in the field of textile development and testing, will speak at 10 a.m. Friday and 11 a.m. Saturday.

Exhibits in Home Ec Building

Another event on the program will be a fashion show to be presented at 2 p.m. Saturday in the TUB. Clothes for children, business women, students, and homemakers will be modeled. There will also be a section illustrating international costumes.

There will be exhibits throughout the Home Economics Building. All exhibits and demonstrations will be open during the evening.

Meals will be served in the cafeteria of the Home Economics Building, 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. Friday, and 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday.

Students wishing to obtain rooms for visitors may contact Mrs. Cecile Sinden of the School of Home Economics.

Council Tables Trophy Issue

A motion proposing that the Physical Education Student Council assume responsibility for perpetuating the Paul Smith Memorial Trophy was tabled pending further investigation at a meeting of the council Monday night.

The trophy is awarded annually to a man graduating in physical education on the basis of scholarship, participation in extra-curricular activities, and character.

Since funds for the trophy, raised by campus solicitation, are depleted, All-College Cabinet requested the council to take charge of having the trophy engraved and purchasing the miniature token trophy presented to the annual winner.

Eligible senior men have already received applications, and the presentation of the trophy is included on the Class Day agenda, Robert Kreidler, acting president, told the council.

Phi Kappa Sigma Will Fete Dads

Phi Kappa Sigma will hold its second annual Dad's Day this weekend at the chapter house.

The festivities will feature a variety of events for fathers and sons. On Friday evening, an informal get-together will be held for fathers, sons, and their dates. Saturday afternoon and evening the group will attend the NCAA wrestling semi-finals and finals. After the matches they will return to the house for the highlight of the weekend, a stag party.
