

Rec Hall Plan Turned Down By Ed Council

The Education Student Council last night unanimously defeated the seating plan whereby students would exchange athletic book tickets for regular admission tickets for Recreation Hall sporting events. The unexchanged tickets would then go on sale to the general public.

The council did express approval, however, of some plan to allow faculty and townspeople to attend events in Rec Hall.

The Interstudent Council Board fee proposal that calls for each student in each school to be assessed a 25-cent fee at registration was passed by the council. The plan is such that schools wanting more than 25 cents such as the agriculture and home ec schools would collect the difference within their own schools.

Harry Schank was elected president of the council, Suzanne Westcott was elected vice president, and Mary Glading was elected secretary-treasurer.

Attending the dinner were Nedra LeVine, Sare Bassel, David Hyman, and Leonard Goodman, students from the College. The donation was collected from students and townspeople of the county.

The tri-state banquet was held to collect money donated to the fund. The local delegation presented the check to George Jessel, television and movie comedian, who was master of ceremonies for the occasion.
