

7 Council Elections Start Today

Students of seven schools will vote for school council members today and tomorrow.

Four officers and two representatives to each class will be elected to the Phys Ed Student Council today and tomorrow by Phys Ed students in their activities classes. Freshmen, sophomores, and juniors will vote for officers, while all classes will elect representatives.

Write-in votes will be accepted on all Engineering Student Council ballots. At least two persons must be nominated for each council seat. Write-in votes are a necessity for some positions. Students can vote at a station set up on the Mall in front of Main Engineering, or in case of bad weather, in the Engineering Library in Main Engineering.

Eight sophomores, ten juniors, and five senior senator positions will be filled by the Liberal Arts council elections today and tomorrow in front of Sparks, weather permitting, or in the lobby of Sparks.

Education students will vote for sophomore, junior, and senior council members today and tomorrow in 105 Burrows, or weather permitting, on the steps of Burrows. All second through seventh semester students are eligible to vote.

Chemistry and Physics Student Council will hold elections both days in the lobby of Osmond to elect four juniors, four sophomores, and two freshmen.

Voting for Home Economic council members will take place today and tomorrow in the Main Lobby of the Home Economics Building.

Mineral Industry students will also vote for council members today and tomorrow.

Agriculture Student Council does not hold general elections, because members are elected throughout the year by clubs.

Retiring Dean To Be Honored

Dr. Edward Steidle, who will retire June 30 after 25 years as dean of the School of Mineral Industries, will be honored Saturday by Pennsylvania industrialists, students, alumni and faculty at a dinner at the Nittany Lion Inn.

A full-length portrait of Dean Steidle, painted by Malcolm S. Parcell of Washington, Pa., will be presented by alumni and faculty of the School of Mineral Industries. David Fleming, retiring MI council president, will present Steidle with a gold watch and a scroll of acknowledgment.

George H. Deike of Pittsburgh, president of Mine Safety Appliances Co., a trustee and graduate of the College, will make the presentation of the painting. Edgar C. Weichel of Scranton, also a trustee, will accept the painting for the College.

Elburt F. Osborn, Dean Steidle's successor, will be the first speaker at the dinner. Lewis E. Young, consulting mining engineer of Pittsburgh and past president of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, will also speak.

SU Directory Deadline

Names of newly elected officers of clubs, honor societies, fraternities, sororities, and other recognized campus groups should be turned in at the Student Union desk in Old Main before May 8 to be included in the new Student Union directory.

Mamie to Give Winner Crown In Rec Hall

Mary Braun, Kay Lloyd, Sheila Rosenson, Madeleine Sharp, and Sara Ann Updegraff will vie for the title of Miss Penn State during the 1953 Spring Week activities, Nancy D. White, coronation co-chairman, has announced. Five finalists were chosen from 72 contestants by movie actor John Wayne.

Miss Penn State will be crowned by Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, wife of the President, at 8 p.m. May 11 in Recreation Hall. The winner will be chosen from the finalists by a committee which will be announced later.

Rosenson Education Major
Miss Braun is a fourth semester education major from Pittsburgh. She is sponsored by Sigma Nu. Miss Lloyd, sixth semester arts and letters major from Shamokin, is sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta.

Miss Rosenson, fourth semester education major from Elizabeth, N.J., was entered in the contest by Theta Chi and Sigma Delta Tau. Miss Sharp is an eighth semester arts and letters major from Herndon, Va. She is sponsored by Kappa Alpha Theta.

Miss Updegraff, eighth semester arts and letters major, is sponsored by Chi Omega. She is from New Cumberland.

Kaye to Dedicate Song
Gifts from State College merchants and national advertisers will be presented to the queen. The five finalists will compete in Lenthic's national Lilac Queen contest. The winner of this contest will receive a ten-day all-expense trip to Cuba for two.

Sammy Kaye and his orchestra will dedicate "Red Lilies," a newly released song, to the queen and her court at Senior Ball, May 15.

Each of the organizations sponsoring a finalist in the Miss Penn State contest will receive 100 points in the Spring Week competition. The winner's sponsor will receive 150 points.

11 Men Seek Officers' Posts On AIM Board

Eleven men will vie for offices in the Association of Independent Men at a meeting of the Board of Governors at 7:30 tonight in 102 Willard.

Seeking the presidency of AIM are Lewis Goslin, sixth semester geophysics and geochemistry major, Chester Chervinski, sixth semester labor management relations major, and Joe Somers, sixth semester mining engineering major.

For the vice presidency, Robert Harding, second semester chemical engineering major and Robert Solomon, sixth semester agronomy major, have been nominated.

Leonard Goodman, fourth semester pre-law major; Jay Byerly, second semester arts and letters major; Richard Rigling, second semester physics major; and Andrew Jaros, seventh semester arts and letters major, are running for secretary. Duane Holm, sixth semester forestry major, and Sheldon Odland, second semester architectural major, are seeking the treasury post.

Each candidate will be presented to the Board of Governors by the person nominating him. Additional nominations may be made from the floor, however, Ross Clark, chairman of the AIM elections committee said.

A transcript showing an All-College average of 1.0, or higher, must also accompany a nomination of a candidate by the Board of Governors, Clark said.

Pivot on Sale Today

The fourth issue of Pivot, campus poetry magazine, will be sold for 25 cents on the Mall and at the Corner Room today.

The 20-page magazine contains dramatic and light verse. Twenty-five students have contributed to this issue.

3 Exams in 24 Hours Qualifies as Conflict

Students who have three exams scheduled in a 24-hour period are qualified to file conflict cards, according to the College Scheduling office. Thus, if a student should have two afternoon or night exams scheduled and an additional exam scheduled before noon the following day, he may file a conflict card at 2 Willard not later than May 5.

Graduating seniors having examinations scheduled later than 7 p.m. May 27 should file conflict cards, according to a recent change reported by the Scheduling office.

Ugly Man Contest Will Begin Today

Today is the beginning of the Ugly Man identification contest, with the object being to identify the most Ugly Man contestants correctly from their pictures on display in the downtown window of the Western Union Co. The person who identifies the most contestants correctly will receive a ticket to the Senior Ball.

Entrance Fee 10 Cents

Students who wish to enter the identification contest, after looking at the composite picture of the ugly men in costume and makeup, should list contestants from one to 48 and try to identify as many of them as possible. The person who identifies the most ugly men correctly will be the winner.

A dime must accompany each entry. It should be fastened to the entry slip with scotch tape and submitted to the Student Union desk in Old Main.

To Receive Letters

Any student is eligible to enter the contest, with the exception of brothers and pledges of Alpha Phi Omega. The identification contest deadline is Tuesday.

Sponsored each year by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, the Ugly Man popularity contest will be held May 6-8 as part of Spring Week. The contestants will participate in a parade. Ugly Man will be the contestant who receives the most penny votes during the three day contest.

Banquet Ticket Deadline

Ugly Man contestants will soon receive a letter giving the details of the Ugly Man parade, according to Peter Huff, chairman of the contest.

Also on display in the Western Union Co. window starting today is the gold trophy to be given to the organization sponsoring the winning Ugly Man.

Blood Donation Deadline Set

The deadline for Red Cross blood drive pledge slips and release slips for minors, is 5 p.m. Friday. All slips should be turned in at the College Placement office, 112 Old Main.

The drive, sponsored by the campus Red Cross unit, will begin May 11 and extend through May 13. Donations will be made from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Temporary Union Building.

Persons donating blood should have at least one hour, and preferably two, free at the time blood will be donated, according to Red Cross officials.

Pledge and release slips may be obtained from dormitory presidents or from the College Placement office.
